LOAN FIRM TAXABLE

Building and loan associations, mortgage and bond companies and similar concerns are subject to taxation, according to a legal opinion prepared here Thursday by I. H. VanWinkle, attorney general. The opinion was requested by Earl Fisher, state tax commissioner.

The attorney general held that the concerns should be assessed and taxed on the balance in their hands and remaining to their credit after deducting the amount of deposits or money paid in by their members.

"It appears," read the attorney general's opinion, "that while the primary object and purpose of such associations may be to encourage thrift, home building and the saving of money by their members, the association, as its name implies, is engaged in the loan business for profit."

It was pointed out by the attorney general that the associations are required to make annual statements of their business condition to county assessors.

OPINION PREPARED BY ATTORNEY-GENERAL HERE

ATLANTA, Oct. 20.—(AP)—When Judge A. W. Callaway today fined David L. Williams, private at Fort McPherson, $51 on a charge of reckless driving, the soldier fainted. The judge was told by Williams after he revived that he had only fifty dollars to his name. The fine was reduced to $36.

Grid rookie tackled head coach, thinking he was the dummy, and threw him for a 10-yard loss. He couldn't have been so far wrong at that.

FAINTS WHEN FINED

There were 183 arrests in Oregon for violations of the state prohibition laws in the month of September, according to a report prepared here Thursday by George Alexander, state prohibition director. The report was filed with Governor Patterson.

Fines imposed aggregated $12,780, with jail sentences totalling 780 days. The officers destroyed 2291 gallons of mash and 429 gallons of liquor. Eleven stills were seized and three automobiles were confiscated.

Guests From Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lange have as their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wallace of Fort Collins, Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will leave soon to continue their tour of the northwest.
