ROZELLA BUNCH

Mrs. W. H. Lytle Entertains With Attractive Informal Tea

Complimenting Mrs. David Bennett Hill, who with her husband, Dr. Hill, and her daughter, Miss Charlotte Hill, has recently arrived from eastern Oregon to make her home in Salem, Mrs. William Harrison Lytle entertained Thursday afternoon in her home on North Summer Street with one of the most attractive affairs of the entire fall.

Autumn flowers in colors shading from lemon-yellow to deepest bronze in combination with orange tapers decorated the living rooms, and sun porch.

Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. William Walton, and Mrs. C. A. Downs assisted in the living rooms during the afternoon.

The guests were greeted at the door by Miss Charlotte Hill.

The tea table was lovely with an unusual combination of russet chrysanthemums, sprays of red and orange-berried cotoneaster, and black tapers.

For the first hour, Mrs. T. A. Livesley and Mrs. John H. Roberts presided at the urns. They were succeeded at the second hour by Mrs. George Rodgers and Mrs. Russell Catlin.

Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr., Mrs. John H. Carson, Mrs. Allan Carson, Mrs. Paul Hendricks, Mrs. Clifton Irwin, and Mrs. Fritz Shade assisted in the dining room.

The guest group included two hundred Salem maids and matrons.

Out-of-town guests were, Mrs. Ben Olcott, Mrs. Oswald West, Mrs. William L. Townsend, Mrs. Edwin J. Burke, Mrs. Seth Catlin, Mrs. Clarke Nelson, and Mrs. Alexander Robb, all of Portland; and Mrs. Percy Young of Albany.

Gattie, formerly of London, England, but now of Portland, was also a guest.

TWO DARING YOUNG FLYERS FACE TRIAL

Investigating Board To Inquire Into Details of Plane Accident

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 28. (AP)—Two student fliers, who made successful parachute jumps after their planes had collided 2500 feet above Kelly field here, face possible courtmartial charges because of the accident.

Kelly field officials said that the two pilots, J. D. Cleveland, of Cleveland, Ohio, and E. A. Sanburn, of Upper Lake, Cal., were engaged in unauthorized "dog fighting" at the time of the accident. They were flying in a three-ship formation of pursuit planes in a maneuver designed to perfect them in flying solo planes. Officials said, however, that they were supposed to adhere to their formation, and not stimulate actual combat in the air. According to the officers this was what caused the accident.

After the planes interlocked and plunged together toward the earth the two pilots made perfectly timed parachute jumps. The planes did not become entangled until they were 500 feet above the ground. Both were demolished, even the motors being hopelessly wrecked.

The matter will be referred to an investigating board Friday, which will decide on the advisability of putting the case before a court martial.

Magruder Disappointed At Refusal By Coolidge

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28. (AP)—Announcement that President Coolidge had refused him as a hearing in his controversy with Secretary of the Navy William C. D. A. R. Magruder, who has been detached from command of the Fourth Naval district because of his criticism of navy administration.

The admiral appeared greatly affected by the president's decision. He said he would accept it as final and go wherever he was ordered.

"I had hoped the president would give me an opportunity to review the controversy with him," said Admiral Magruder. "and I am bitterly disappointed. The president's decision is final, of course, and I shall accept it as such."

"I very much regret having to leave Philadelphia, but I am going wherever I am ordered without question. It seems hard—very hard. I have worked night and day here and have learned to love the city and its people. To be recalled before my tour of duty is ended is hard indeed."

Mrs. J. W. Phenice was elected treasurer and Mrs. G. W. Day, corresponding secretary.

Dr. F. C. Taylor spoke briefly of the Father and Son banquet which will be held Friday evening, November fourth.

The society decided to hold a rummage sale December second and third.

The November meeting of the society has been postponed until November 30.
