LYNCH ANOTHER NEGRO

Mob Kills Alleged Attacker of 16 Year Old White Girl

COLUMBIA, Tenn., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Henry Choate, 18 year old negro, was taken from the county jail here tonight and hanged for an alleged attempted attack on a 16 year old white girl. A mob which had previously eluded Sheriff L. C. Wiley stormed the jail shortly after 9 o'clock. He had given warning it would attempt to lynch Choate, even though the mother of his alleged victim had urged that he be permitted to stand trial.

The negro was taken to the court house and hanged from a second story window. He was alleged to have made a confession. Approximately 300 men were in the mob, witnesses declared.

The Rev. E. E. Lavender, pastor of a Presbyterian church, here, James I. Finney, editor of the Nashville Tennessean and the Rev. J. R. Parsons with several friends who had attended an Armistice Day banquet witnessed the hanging and urged the leaders to disband as a squad smashed in the jail doors, they declared.

SEA FLYER WANTS TO TRANSPORT 20

Clarence D. Chamberlin Expresses Ambition In Address At Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—(AP)—

Twenty passengers on his next trans-Atlantic flight in one or two years was the ambition expressed here today in an Armistice Day address before the Advertising Post of the American Legion by Clarence D. Chamberlin who flew from New York to Germany with Charles Levine.

Recapture of the world's endurance record for flying was his immediate aspiration, he said, however, and he hoped to enter into at least a four cornered race for it before the end of this year. "In spite of all arguments Chamberlin and I had a wonderful time on our flight to Germany," said Chamberlin as his hearers roared with laughter.

Many of his listeners groaned audibly when Chamberlin explained that neither he nor Levine cared for beer and told of how it got out that he would quaff a stein upon arrival in Berlin.

"Charles taught me to sign at the top of the card when we were signing the autographs for which we were continually importuned," said Chamberlin, "so that nobody could stick in 'I. O. U.' ahead of our signatures. Well, one fellow folded over the top of a card and after I had signed it he wrote in ahead of my signature: 'When I get to Berlin I'll have a big stein of Pilsener for you.'"

With the proper ship and the proper preparations, the young flier said, trans-Atlantic flying would come and be safe. The new ship probably would have a minimum of three engines, full radio equipment and be capable of landing on and withstanding a heavy sea and transmitting by radio while resting on the water. As well as on Armistice Day celebration, it was a birthday party for Chamberlain, it being his 34th anniversary.

BLAST CRIPPLES OCEAN STEAMER

THREE OF TANKER'S CREW KILLED; ANOTHER HURT

Other Vessels Stand By Ready to Help as Disabled Ship Limp Toward Port

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Returning from off Barnegat where this afternoon an explosion ripped open her bow, killing three members of her crew of 35, the American tanker, Beta, was reported off the highlands late tonight.

Convoyed by several coast guard cutters and other vessels which answered the distress call, the stricken vessel was nosing her way toward the outer harbor, moving very slowly lest bulkheads give way under pressure on the torn bow.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The tanker Beta, her bow ripped open by an explosion, three of her crew killed and another badly burned, was making a hazardous way to this port tonight conveyed by a half dozen ships.

Thirty-three miles from New York and "down by the head," the tanker was in such a condition that "anything might happen," her owners, Walker and Daly, said. A coast guard cutter acted as convoy in case the still smoldering fire in the Beta's hold should bring new disaster.

An SOS call today sent revenue cutters and other ships hurrying to the aid of the tanker which reported by wireless that she was five ten miles off Barnegat after an explosion which had wrecked the ship's bow.

The steamers Hannawa and Vardair sped to her aid and within a short time four coast guard cutters were on the way.

Medical assistance was rushed to the Beta aboard the destroyer Henley and the sea-going tug Gresham was sent to take the tanker in tow if possible. This, it was believed, would be a difficult task because of the condition of the Beta's bow.

The Beta left New York in ballast for Baytown, Texas.

A radio message received at coast guard headquarters here tonight from the coast guard cutter McCall said three members of the tanker's crew were killed in the explosion and the bodies were being brought to port by a coast guard cutter.

FLIGHT POSTPONED AS STORMS LOOM

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—

(AP)—Storm forecasts for Pacific ocean areas tomorrow caused Captain Frederick Giles to postpone his scheduled take-off on the Golden Gate-New Zealand flight tomorrow. He said he would make a further announcement after consultation with weather bureau officials tomorrow night.

The weather bureau reported a disturbance about 900 miles due west of the Oregon coast, with probability of low clouds and rain from San Francisco to the 140th meridian. The report cautioned aviators against attempting flights between San Francisco and Honolulu, Giles' first scheduled stop.

Giles had ordered the tanks of his Hess Blue Bird biplane, the Wanderer, filled early tomorrow for the flight. Officials at Mills field, the San Francisco municipal airport, were making preparations for the hop, although they doubted if the aviator would attempt the flight in view of unfavorable weather conditions. Later Giles issued to the Associated Press a written statement saying that he had determined to await favorable weather conditions.

JUDGE IN CASE AT NEW ORLEANS MAKES DECISION

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Ruling that persons seized on the high seas should be tried at the place to which they are taken first, Judge Louis H. Burns today ordered the crew of the British rum ship Zany released from custody on a charge of smuggling liquor into the port of New Orleans.

The federal judge instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty and Maxwell W. A. Dorsett, captain, John Lee Hingle, first mate, and the crew of five negroes were released.

The Zany was seized by coast guardsmen in September at a point off Southwest Pass. A liquor cargo valued at $75,000 is alleged to have been found on board.

Because the ship was taken first to Mobile and later brought here, Judge Burns held that the federal court here was without jurisdiction.

Judge Burns said the Zany was captured within the jurisdiction of his court but he ruled that since the vessel first was taken to Mobile the district court there should try the case.

"High seas," Judge Burns defined "as any body as water lying between two head lands from which point neither headland can be seen with the naked eye."

Mary Garden Likes Tunney And Lindbergh, not Tilden

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Mary Garden thinks a lot of Charles A. Lindbergh, enough to sing for him for nothing, which she terms her highest tribute, but she doesn't think so much of William Tilden's scholarship. So she said when she arrived on the Aquitana.

Turning impatiently from the subject of nude bathing at midnight and kindred things, she related an incident of the Lindbergh reception in Paris.

"You must know I admire him when I would sing for him the 'Star Spangled Banner' Ye Gods! 'The Star Spangled Banner' of all songs."

When asked if she knew the words to the national anthem she replied:

"Of course I don't. I asked Bill Tilden to give me the words and he went so far as to sing 'Oh, Say Can You See,' then he tabbed the rest. What a scholar he is. I finally had to have the words looked up in a library."

Miss Garden said she had lost 30 pounds since leaving this country, due to her usual methods of bathing in her "birthday suit at midnight."
