Circles of First Baptist Church Will Meet Tomorrow Afternoon

The Women's Circles of the First Baptist Church will meet at two thirty o'clock Friday afternoon as follows: the North Circle, Mrs. Harry Harms, 1910 North Summer Street; Jane Lawrence Circle, Mrs. Mark Skiff, 421 1-2 Court Street; and the Elizabeth Loughbridge Circle, Mrs. Thomas Renner, 1417 Court Street.

At that time, according to members of the court, Moore promised that he would use every means within his power to keep liquor from the premises, but added that he could not be held responsible for anything that took place outside of the hall. His license was granted in return for his agreement to run the place in an orderly and law abiding manner.

Mr. Neufeld said that at the last meeting of the Woodburn W. C. T. U. organization a committee was appointed to attend the dances given at this hall and secure, if possible, evidence which would substantiate previous reports. He said that he was a member of this committee.

From his attitude yesterday Mr. Neufeld appeared to be less radical than many of those who are urging an investigation of the place, and was acting only in response to what he said was a general demand.

RESORT CRITICIZED

WOODBURN MINISTER APPEARS BEFORE COURT

Declaring that he represented members of his congregation, and the W. C. T. U. organization in particular, Rev. A. J. Neufeld, Methodist pastor at Woodburn and president of the Marion county ministerial association, appeared before the county court yesterday and registered a protest against the alleged permission of liquor in the Knight's Rest dance hall, located just north of Salem on the Pacific highway.

"Different people in Woodburn have asked me to take the lead in this matter," said Mr. Neufeld. "They are constantly complaining to me of the way in which this place is conducted and my appearance here at this time is simply to keep my promise that I would see what could be done."

Mr. Neufeld was asked by the court if he had any definite evidence to substantiate these reports. He replied that he had not. The court then informed him that it would be necessary to have something more than hearsay reports before they could take any action.

They added, however, that several letters had been received by the court containing similar protests from people near Woodburn and that all of these would be considered when the matter of granting a renewal of a license for this place comes up in January. The court further advised Mr. Neufeld that if direct evidence of the sale or permission of liquor in this dance hall were presented to it prompt action would be taken.

Knights Rest is a popular dance hall and salaried resort and is owned by John A. Moore. According to members of the county court Mr. Moore operated the place without a license the better part of the year. This was due to a misunderstanding on Mr. Moore's part. When he finally applied for a license he was confronted with the report of alleged irregularities in the conduct of the place.

At that time, according to members of the court, Moore promised that he would use every means within his power to keep liquor from the premises, but added that he could not be held responsible for anything that took place outside of the hall. His license was granted in return for his agreement to run the place in an orderly and law abiding manner.

Mr. Neufeld said that at the last meeting of the Woodburn W. C. T. U. organization a committee was appointed to attend the dances given at this hall and secure, if possible, evidence which would substantiate previous reports. He said that he was a member of this committee.

From his attitude yesterday Mr. Neufeld appeared to be less radical than many of those who are urging an investigation of the place, and was acting only in response to what he said was a general demand.

Gifts of Fashion—Jewelry, Leather Goods, Glassware, Silverware, Pen and Pencil Sets, Toilet Sets, gladly laid aside for Christmas. Many years have passed since we purchased the jewelry store in Salem from the John G. Barr Estate, but those many years have brought us a great deal of pleasure along with the usual difficulties experienced with every merchandising business. However, our greatest pleasure is now, when we realize how the city has grown to its 26,000 people and the many friends we have made in the communities around Salem reaching many miles away—how our store through earnest efforts and honest dealings has grown right along with the city and surrounding community. Like a corporation declaring a dividend we can now declare a profit sharing event for the benefit of those who have made it possible for us to prosper. Christmas time is the time to be thankful and we know no better time to give our patrons this profit-sharing event than right now when they can save considerable outlay on their Christmas gift buying. We are starting on the above date, perhaps two weeks earlier to have you take advantage of early purchases in less crowded shopping conditions and a wider selection of merchandise.
