

CHAMPOEG HIGHWAY GROUP TO ORGANIZE

Support For Route Urged By Milton Miller At Chamber Luncheon

A new highway to be known as the Champeog highway between Salem and Portland and passing through the Champeog reserve will be urged by an organization of Willamette valley citizens before the next legislature, according to plans announced yesterday by M. A. Pierson, of the Ladd Hill community club, following a stirring address by Milton Miller at the chamber of commerce luncheon.

"Champeog park is the most historical spot west of the Rockies," said Mr. Miller. "It is the birthplace of Oregon, and we have let it rest in neglect. Every state has its own shrine. We have always lived in the past. It is time for us to look to the future."

The new highway to perpetuate this spot is justified even for commercial reasons. This is the center of population, and yet a small proportion of highway expenditures have been made around Portland and Salem.

Elsinore and Oregon Announces Saving Plan

A sensational and revolutionary innovation in the sale of "entertainment admission tickets" is announced today by Elsinore and Oregon theaters.

A plan has been worked out whereby the public will be able to purchase a "Scrip" book, the "scrip" being good for exchange for admission tickets at the box office of Elsinore or Oregon theaters.

By buying these scrip books, the public will be able to make a considerable saving on the regular price of admission in our theaters.

Announcement of the plan has caused a sensation in theatrical circles. The plan has been worked out purely as a means of offering the public amusement at a saving and at the same time of creating a following for Elsinore and Oregon theaters.

Interest in the plan is anxiously being awaited by those who are interested in amusement and entertainment—which means everyone.

DRAINAGE PROGRAM IS LAUNCHED BY COUNCIL

when high water comes again. Eventually, Engineer Cupper said, the sewage must be separated from surface drainage and accommodated in different drains, looking several years hence to the extent where that will be necessary, an interceptor would be constructed along Church street from Mission, tying up with the Union street sewer, continuing to Gaines and along the alley east of Liberty street to the city limits.

Church street is the best as the ground line is lower than any other part of the city.

Look Far in Future All work which is done now to relieve the immediate situation will be toward this ultimate solution, and the plans were drawn so that units could be taken care of, and the remainder done as the city grew, and money was provided.

The ultimate sewer and drainage system as proposed in the plans will cost in the neighborhood of $600,000, said Mr. Cupper.

Compromising between a conservative and a generous estimate of Salem's population in 1950, Cupper believes it will be around 58,000, and when the intercepted line is built, it will be of a capacity sufficient to care for such a population.

The abnormal conditions in North Salem and southeast Salem need immediate attention, said Mr. Cupper, and will involve an expenditure of about $25,000. Four storm drains are needed in North Salem, one each along Highland, Norway, Gaines, and the line along the Southern Pacific railway to relieve the Hollywood trouble.

Best Salem does not require any immediate relief and efforts

U. S. FRIENDSHIP WITH ENGLAND DEFENDED

ship and understanding between our two countries I have never sought to hide for the last three and a half years that I have been British ambassador here. It is not only an account of my personal sentiments, because I have many friends on this side of the water, because I have continually met with real frank unadulterated kindness wherever I have been, but also and even more particularly because I believe that the peace of the world depends largely upon that understanding.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

live the same can be said of every Englishman, that we no more wish to see the Anglicizing of America than we wish to see the Americanizing of England." Yankee Methods Lauded Sir Esma told of a letter from his son at Oxford saying his American classmates were "much more alive to the absence of American plumbing than to the architectural beauties of Oxford," and added: "As to plumbing I may say quite frankly that I could wish to see not only Oxford but the rest of my country considerably more Americanized. We have much besides plumbing to learn from this country which we can adapt without losing our individuality, without becoming too much Americanized. It is possible also that American travelers after they have overcome the first shock of British plumbing and other important modernisms may find one or two things in the British Isles which could be usefully adapted here without in any way reducing that percentage of Americanism which every true son of this country should maintain."

NATIONAL LEVY PARED TO BONE BY COMMITTEE

one member as overwhelming, the committee approved the $250,000,000 total. The committee side-tracked the proposal to repeal the inheritance levy by a 17 to 6 vote, and disapproved 21 to 2, the suggestion for downward revision of the surtax rates.

A motion was adopted to refuse to consider proposals for repeal or reduction of the tax on tobacco sales and also the levy on stamp sales. A motion to reconsider action regarding the stamp taxes, however, was pending at adjournment.

WORLD MARKET AWAITS LINEN PRODUCED HERE

from the plant itself. Irish and Scottish spinners have been depending upon the Russian supply, and because of conditions in Russia, no linen is obtainable there now. That, said Mr. Webster, is the reason why manufacturers are turning to America; and why the market for flax and yarn is so favorable here right now. It is the reason why the state of Oregon has been able to sell at favorable prices its entire supply, and has orders for much more flax.

The Oregon Linen Mills' present biggest customer for yarn, a year ago declared that the spinning mill here never would operate; now he is steadily increasing his orders. He now has a standing order for 2000 pounds a week
