

SIDE LIGHTS OF THE STAGE AND SCREEN

Elsinore Theater
 "Open Range" the latest of the Paramount-Zane Grey picturizations, will be shown at the Elsinore today. Betty Bronson, Lane Chandler and Fred Kohler are featured in a cast that includes Bernard Stiegel, Guy Oliver, Al St. John, Jim Corey, George Connors, and Flash, the Wonder Horse. Miss Bronson, making her initial appearance in a Western, appears as the bella of Marco, a tiny frontier town. Chandler, a new cowboy "find" is a happy-go-lucky puncher who makes up his mind to marry the girl who has posed as "Miss Marco" on the silver anniversary poster. However, Fred Kohler, the half-breed villain, has other ideas on the subject and needless to say he does everything in his power to prevent Chandler from accomplishing his purpose.

Annie Laurie, beloved to the world for centuries in song and story, has come to life again on the screen.

This is the latest role of Lillian Gish, queen of romantic drama, who enacts the historic Scottish heroine in her latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, "Annie Laurie," the dramatic spectacle of the Scottish Highlands at the Elsinore theater Sunday and Monday.

As the Scottish Joan of Arc, Miss Gish plays a role so totally different from any in her career that it seems amazing. As Annie Laurie, noblewoman and mistress of the great Maxwellton Castle—then as a woman, braving the spears of her own tribesmen to save the man she loves, she has a role that plumbs the elemental depths of a woman's soul.

The new picture is a gorgeous production; with huge replicas of famous Scottish castles, hundreds of huge bearded Scottish warriors, in kilts and tartans, battling in the rugged Highlands with claymore and shield; the spectacular gathering of the clans at Maxwellton, copied from history, and other elaborate detail.
