

36 SPEEDY ROUNDS ON 'SMOKER' MENU

Thirty seven rounds of torrid glove throwing, three bone-twister wrestling matches, and one top class fight, will be the athletic menu for Salem sport fans at the Salem high school "smokerless smoker" to be staged in the gymnasium, Friday, December 9.

Headlining the athletic affairs will be a four round bout between Bobby McIntyre and Ted Fox, two popular local professionals. The other bouts will be for three rounds each with high school boys participating. The class fight will consist of two men from each class, unblinded in the ring at the same time. The class having a man standing at the end of a certain time wins the fight.

Ralph Mason and Stanley Frya will be on hand to referee the matches.

The ticket sale sponsored by the S club will be inaugurated tomorrow, with canvassing of all business houses getting under way. The students are determined to wipe out the deficit created by football and are out for a record crowd at the athletic show.

Bouts signed up by Coach Louis Anderson, matchmaker, follow: Raymond Bedwell vs John Evans.

George Belt vs Walter Woods, Richard Wilson vs Frank Dolby, Bill Backe vs Jack Harblson, Lawrence Marquis vs Harry Nelson.

George Beecher vs Creighton Jones, Charles Cloggett vs Carl Trick, Merlin Wheeler vs Edward Reynolds.

Howard Waters vs Michael Fitzpatrick, Red Golden, weight 145 pounds, and Kenneth McKenzie, weight 125, have not yet been challenged.

The wrestling card includes the following matches: Fred Smith vs Wayne Blaco, Leo Tate vs Joe Dolby, Bernard Temple vs Red Lyons.

VOLLEYBALL MEN TO PLAY TONIGHT

Two volleyball teams made up from members of the Salem Business Men's league will journey to Corvallis tonight to play against the Oregon Agricultural college faculty.

The men making the trip are as follows: First team—Nile Hillborn, Paul Acton, Rev. C. E. Ward, O. J. Hull, Ed Wenger, Hill, Lloyd Gregg, Clark Lee, and Doctor Barrick. Second team—Hewitt, Lane, Ritchie, Gleason, Masters, Kennecott, Page, Boise, Julien, Phillips, and Wood.

BARNSTORMING TOUR LINED UP

Five games on Willamette's holiday barnstorming tour into California have been definitely arranged, and six more are on the tentative list, according to Coach Roy "Spec" Keene. Those lined up now are Klamath Falls American Legion, December 17; Young Men's Institute, San Francisco, December 21; Livermore Cowboys, December 23; Athens club, Oakland, December 28; and Ashland Normal, December 31.

Stanford, University of California, Redlands, and College of the Pacific are still on the tentative list. At least ten games will be required to make the tour financially possible.

Fifteen varsity hoop candidates were working out last night at 7:30 under Coach Keene's supervision, for the first time. Bill Ashby is serving as assistant coach. The freshmen players practice in the afternoon.

SELECT CAPTAIN AT U. OF O. SOON

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene.—(Special).—Although a captain for the 1928 Oregon football team will not be selected until the annual order of the "O" banquet, which as yet has not been dated, Webfoot players and fans have already begun to consider the various eligibles and wonder who will receive the honor of piloting the green-bladed gridiron through next season's race for Pacific coast conference honors.

Among those whom campus grid experts feel have a good chance at election are Ira Woodie, quarterback, George Burnell, half-back, Frank Riggs, end, Merrill Hagan, guard, and George Stadelman, center.

Woodie, Burnell, Riggs and Hagan will all play their last year under Oregon colors in 1928. All of these players will be seniors except Stadelman, who was a sophomore this year, but who had no difficulty in making the varsity. He was considered by sports writers who saw him in action to equal in ability to Beryl Hodgen, the Webfoot captain, who played beside him at guard. Stadelman was named on several all-coast second teams.

NO NEW COACH SOUGHT AT YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 1.—(AP).—Selection of a football coach at Yale to succeed T. A. D. Jones, whose contract has expired, has not been considered by the Yale athletic association in any way. It was stated with authority today in answer to reports that had come here that Ed Leader, rowing coach, might become football coach.

It was stated that many reports of prospective candidates for the coaching position have come here, most of them linked with names of coaches at other universities. The novelty about the Ed Leader report is that he is already at Yale. Despite this fact, there has been no hesitancy on the part of those close to football in saying that it has become almost a tradition at Yale to select a coach who has been identified with the Yale development of the sport by Yale men.

LINFIELD HOOP MEN TURN OUT

Linfield has started basketball practice and with four lettermen back, prospects point to a better team than last year. The Wildcats have arranged the heaviest schedule they have ever attempted with games against Northwest conference teams and Willamette valley conference teams.

FERNANDES DEFEATED

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—(AP).—Tony Canzoneri, challenger for featherweight laurels, whipped Ignacio Fernandez, razed Filipino, in a savage ten round feature bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Canzoneri weighed 125 pounds, Fernandez 124 1/2.

HANDBALL SCHEDULED

A handball match with O. A. C. has been arranged for the Salem Y. M. C. A. team. It will be played sometime next week at Corvallis.

WILLAMETTE PLANS GAME WITH OREGON

Willamette university will schedule a game of football against University of Oregon next fall on October 6, it was announced yesterday by Coach Keene, making two games against coast conference teams. The game with University of Washington has become an annual event.

Coach Keene will schedule all five of the northwest conference teams when the coaches meet at their conference meeting in Portland December 10. A game with either Monmouth Normal school or Albany college will complete the grid program.

Keene also indicated that he would protest some men who played on the Linfield squad this year, although they were ineligible. Agee was one of the men mentioned. The alleged summer practice held by Coach Wolfe at that school last season also will come into the limelight, it was indicated.

HUNT FOR LOST FLYERS

Martin Jensen Departs for Honolulu to Seek Aviators

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—(AP).—Expressing belief that Gordon Scott and Jack Frost, two of the lost fliers in the Dole Golden Gate-Honolulu race, and their plane Golden Eagle crashed on Mauna Kea mountain after successfully reaching the Hawaiian islands, Martin Jensen, pilot of the plane that won second place in the flight, arrived Wednesday en route to Honolulu to organize a party to search the slopes of the lofty mountain.

He based his theory on the report that a yellow monoplane answering to the description of the Golden Eagle was seen by natives on Mauna Kea at about the time the fliers were due. Jensen will sail for Honolulu on the steamer Malolo Saturday.

MURDER TRIAL CASE DRAWS TOWARD END

ned the motion for a directed verdict and son gained control of themselves. The boy ran back to the spectators seat where he had been amusing himself during the trial by drawing pictures.

Court then was adjourned for the day and the defendants were taken back to their cells for the night. Beach, who was not allowed by the motion, bowed no sign of emotion or regret while the counsel for his co-defendant was pleading with the court.

When court opens McCarter will make his opening address to the jury and begin to parade his witnesses through the stand. He and counsel for Beach, together, expect to produce only 49 witnesses, so that court attendants predicted that the trial, with the help of a Saturday session, probably would reach the jury stage by Monday night or Tuesday.

MAYS LANDING N. J., Dec. 1.—(AP).—A frightened little boy with a quivering chin was one of the most important witnesses at Wednesday session of the Lillendahl murder trial—a session otherwise filled with surprises and disappointments for the prosecution.

The boy was Lewis Behler, 12 year old playmate of Alfred Lillendahl, son of Mrs. Margaret Lillendahl and the aged doctor with whose murder she and Willis Beach are jointly charged. He was called to the stand to establish that an intimacy existed between the doctor's wife and Beach which caused a rift in the home life of the Lillendahls and thus furnished a possible motive for the killing.

Exhibits Fright He took the stand timidly, nothing but his frightened face showing above the wood, and his answers were so indistinct that they had to be repeated every time for counsel and jury.

Next to this boy the star witness of the day, from the state's point of view, was Herbert Lloyd, a swarthy plowman, whose testimony was directed at showing that the defendants were illicit lovers.

He told of going to his home one evening last spring, "cross lots" and stumbling on Beach and Mrs. Lillendahl keeping a tryst. He struck a match to light his cigar, thus getting light enough to identify the couple as Beach and Mrs. Lillendahl. Beach, he testified, threatened him with bodily harm if he ever mentioned the encounter.

Defendants Scornful During the testimony the widow and her alleged lover listened scornfully and occasionally exchanged smiles indicating amusement.

Several gave the state such a surprise by their forgetfulness and the unexpectedness of their replies that the prosecutor announced to reporters that he was considering instituting legal action against them.

The chief surprise of the day came to the state during the testimony of Harry Sanderson, a salesman from Sidney, Ohio, who drove past the scene of the crime on the day of the killing. He had been expected to testify that he had seen a man run out of the bushes near the place where Dr. Lillendahl was shot and to identify that man as Beach.

Witness Very Forgetful He kept to his expected story until the prosecutor pointed to Beach and asked: "Is that the man

CHARITY GAME HIT BY GEORGIA COACH

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.—(AP).—Publishers of the five Los Angeles newspapers who are sponsoring the charity football game Christmas day between all-star teams representing the south and the west, today issued a statement expressing surprise at the attack made upon the game by Herman Stageman, director of physical education, at the University of Georgia.

After reviewing Stageman's declaration that the southern conference should not sanction the game and recalling the fact that the conference in previous years has approved of post-season trips to the coast by the University of Alabama team, the statement continued:

"It is inconceivable that special legislation should be enacted by the southern conference permitting one of its members to twice come to Pasadena to play a football game, and object to a charity Christmas game in which only seniors would be permitted to play. This game will be handled by three representative coaches from the sections in which the two elevens were selected. It will become an annual classic and will in no way interfere with the Rose Bowl game held annually at Pasadena on New Year's day. The difference between the two is that proceeds of the Christmas day game will go to well known charities, while the receipts from the Rose Bowl game go to the Rose Bowl and the institutions competing."

PROPAGANDA ISSUE EXPLAINED, CHICAGO

Mayor Thompson's Campaign Continues Headline Attraction

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—(AP).—The exposition of what Mayor William Hale Thompson's administration calls British propaganda in Chicago schools continued at the William McAndrew school trial here but the suspended superintendent was not there to hear it.

A new object of attack, Rupert Hughes, the writer, was introduced by Charles Grant Miller, New York head of the Patriotic League for the Preservation of American History.

Miller found in Hughes' recent history of George Washington a pro-British leaning, and explained this by mentioning that the writer was an official of the Sulgrave Institute, "the purpose of which is to establish Sulgrave Manor in England as the true Washington shrine."

Hughes was described by Miller as "one of the new method school of literary smart alecs whose little bag of tricks is limited to drinking, cursing and illicit lovings, who could not comprehend the real Washington if diagramed to him."

McAndrew withdrew from the trial last week, labeling it a "burlesque" and "vaudeville."

STRANGLER TO APPEAL

Earle Nelson Hopes to Get Free and Study Religion

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 1.—(AP).—Earle Nelson of Palo Alto, Cal., the "dark star" who was charged with murdering Mrs. Emily Patterson, has not given up hope of escaping the death sentence imposed upon him by the trial judge.

Nelson, declared by Winnipeg police to be the strangler sought in connection with the unsolved slayings of a dozen women in the United States, said in his cell here today that if he escaped the death penalty he would devote his life to a study of religion.

Attorneys for the condemned man have appealed to the dominion minister of justice at Ottawa for commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment.

SINGS WITH NEW THROAT

Artificial Larynx Given Aylett C. Mahon of Richmond

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—(AP).—A voice so rich and resonant that it had been used successfully over the radio was the result of the installation of an artificial larynx in the throat of Aylett C. Mahon of Richmond, Va., the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat hospital announced today.

Mr. Mahon wrote to the hospital that he had been able to resume his duties as a traveling salesman since his operation.

Dr. Reuben O'Brien, superintendent of the hospital, said there now are about fifty artificial larynxes in use in this country.

Administration Leaders Fear Too Much Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(AP).—Brakes were clamped down by administration leaders today in an effort to prevent congress from overruling what the treasury regards as the safety line in the question of tax reduction.

At the capitol, Representative Tilson, the republican house leader, backed up the treasury recommendation for a cut not in excess of $225,000,000 and at the department itself, Secretary Mellon reiterated that the treasury figure represented the maximum slice that could be effected with safety.

While Tilson and the secretary withheld specific reference to the announcement by the chamber of commerce of the United States reiterating its belief that reduction of $400,000,000 should be authorized, both contended that it would be dangerous if congress exceeded the limit proposed by the treasury and favored by President Coolidge.

Secretary Mellon said that he believed the corporation tax, now 13 1/2 per cent, was too high and should be reduced as soon as possible, even below the 11 1/2 per cent. Figure approved by the house ways and means committee for incorporation in the new tax bill that it has drafted.

The treasury favors an immediate cut in the corporation rate to 12 per cent, but Mr. Mellon indicated that his department did not regard the forthcoming tax reduction as the last to be recommended and that this levy probably would come in for more consideration in a future tax bill.

Mr. Tilson declared that with a presidential election only a year off and with every possible inducement before the party in power to curry popular favor, it amazed him that the republicans were charged with an unwillingness to reduce taxes as much.

"Tax reduction is always the most popular policy any one can advocate," he said, "and if the president, the secretary of the treasury and the house ways and means committee place a conservative limit on the reduction which can safely be made at this time, we may properly conclude that their decision is based on sound business judgment rather than political expediency."

Care of Babies

"This baby has never had a day's sickness and never a cross or fretful spell that lasted an hour. And what do you suppose is responsible for this healthy, happy condition? Not diet, for he has eaten just about anything and everything a child could eat. Not drugs, for he has not been dosed with opiates; he has never had a drop of paregoric. Nor has his miserable mother ever made him taste castor oil. Yet his nerves are strong and his little bowels are strong, and when he does seem the least restless or wakeful, or out of sorts—or likely to be—his mother has him all serene again in ten or fifteen minutes!

The secret of this complete freedom from the many ills and upsets so common to infants? Plain old-fashioned Castoria. A million and more mothers swear by Castoria, and no wonder! A few drops and an approaching fever, colic, diarrhoea, or constipation seems to vanish in this air. Castoria is purely vegetable; that is
