

BANQUET OFFICIALLY
CLOSES GRID YEAR

OREGON STATE, Corvallis, Dec. 6.—(Special)—Football season was officially closed here with the annual grid banquet at the Hotel Benton tonight. Seven players will sing their "swan song" as they have played their last game for the Orange and Black. These are Marvin Dixon, Les Avritt, Clare Badley, Johnny Logan, Dave Luby, Ole Robbins, and Tom Carr.

The Orangemen were not given much of a chance by early season dopesters to place above the cellar but the Orange sprung a surprise and finished the season with three wins, three losses and one tie game for an average of 500. This record is considered exceptional account of the many handicaps which confronted the Staters. The schedule played was the stiffest in the history of the college and at the same time the Orange squad of 1926 was considerably wrecked by the graduation of 13 lettermen, nine of whom were regulars.

Prospects for next year are brighter than usual as only four first stringers will be lost to the team by graduation or the three year rule. The team this year—a sophomore outfit—will be well experienced by next year and with the addition of some first class material from the freshman squad a strong team is expected.

Here are the results for the season:

- Oregon State 25; California Aggies 6.
- Oregon State 12; Southern California 13.
- Oregon State 6; Stanford 20.
- Oregon State 13; Washington State 6.
- Oregon State 21; University of Oregon 7.
- Oregon State 7; Idaho 12.
- Oregon State 14; Carnegie Tech 14.

DRAGER SURVIVES
ROOK SQUAD CUT

Robert Drager, who as captain piloted the Red and Black basketball team through a successful season last year has survived the first cut of the ax in the hands of Amery F. Gill, freshman basketball coach at Oregon State college, according to reports received here. The squad was cut from 106 to 43 recently, and another cut is expected soon to bring the squad to 25 men.

Drager finished last year one of the most spectacular athletic careers in the history of the local high school. Two all-state guard selections were a couple of his outstanding achievements during his basketball days. He was also captain of the football team at Salem high last year.

Others who survived the first cut at Oregon State were:

CHEER LEADERS MUST BE MATHEMATICIANS

It's getting so college cheer leaders must have first rate knowledge of trigonometry and algebra. And they really should carry a slide rule and surveying instruments. For they—with the assistance of a block of rosters—form all sorts of figures. Above, for instance, is the "California Bear" overwhelming the Stanford Brave." The photo was taken at the University of California-Stanford University game, won by the latter, 18 to 6, before 20,000 spectators.

OKLAHOMA SOLONS HAVE BITTER FIGHT

State Governor States Legislature Not In Legal Session At All

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Rebuffed by Governor Henry S. Johnston, majorities of both houses of the Oklahoma legislature met here today in a session that has been declared impotent and void by the state supreme court and proceeded with arrangements to investigate state departments, including the governor's office.

The house meeting adjourned for the day in an uproar, precipitated by thunderous applause from the galleries following the reading of the governor's statement refusing to recognize the session.

By a vote of 22 to 8, the senate late today held itself to be a legal court of impeachment, in contradiction to the supreme court's ruling that its session was of no force or effect. The affirmative vote is a majority of the elected membership of the senate—43.

Cries of "hurrah for the governor," came from the house galleries as the statement of Governor Johnston was read. The tumult grew and cries of "get out," and "run them out," were added by the spectators.

Speaker E. P. Hill of Pittsburg county, who was elevated to the dais as one of the first actions of the assembly, sought to restore order, reminding the house mem-

SCRIBES AT EUGENE
PICK ALL-AMERICAN

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene.—A galaxy of stars of many gridirons glisten on the All-American team just selected at the University of Oregon by the Seven Seers, authors of the humorous columns of the Daily Emerald.

Lindbergh, Henry Ford, Al Smith, two of the DeAutreumont boys, Mencken, Fall and Sinclair, President Coolidge and Gene Tunney make up the mythical eleven.

Lindbergh is chosen because of "his outstanding aerial work" and further, say the selectors, "As for total yardage, it speaks for itself." Lindbergh is given the fullback position.

"Ford, our choice for quarterback, in his selection of plays for the year has completely baffled opposing teams all season," it is said. "Our team is not handicapped by weather conditions because Al Smith's ability in a wet field is unquestionable," the Seers continue. Smith is named right halfback.

H. L. Mencken is placed at left half, because he "is easily the greatest kicker of all time." Also, "The D'Auteuromont brothers have proved themselves the most elusive pair developed in years," and for this reason are given berths of right and left ends.

"Fall and Sinclair," it is declared, "have attracted national attention, and are a slippery pair of tackles who seldom fail to smear plays. Will Rogers, who keeps in practice by throwing the bull is a sure bet at guard, and nobody fills the other berth better than Tunney, under whose terrific hammering no opponent can stand."

"Coolidge, at center playing what may be his last year for old Massachusetts, due to his contested eligibility for 1928, has had more plays built around him than any other American center this year, and for that reason he cannot be overlooked.

PUT UNDER FIRE

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 6.—(AP).—Criticism was levelled at indiscriminate and far-reaching signing of young players by major league clubs in the annual report today of President Mike H. Sexton at the meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs.

Sexton declared present methods and activities of major league scouts has exceeded anything ever thought of or foreseen by baseball supply and warned that unless protective measures were adopted, the source of supply of young players for minor clubs will be destroyed.

"It has now reached the point of a mad scramble to see what scout can first reach the promising youngster in the small college, in high school or on the sand lot," he asserted referring to the activities of major league scouts. "So extensive has this practice become that it is almost impossible for minors to recruit talent from that source."

The thermometer reaching 31 degrees above zero before midnight last night, and it was expected to go several degrees lower before morning, making last night the coldest that has been experienced here since early last spring.

Shortly before daylight Tuesday the mercury got down to 30 degrees. It had registered 34 at midnight, a few hours earlier. On the basis of this it was estimated that the mercury would hover somewhere around 27 or 28 degrees early this morning.

LA GRANDE, Dec. 6.—(AP).—Winter breezed into the Grande Ronde valley in earnest last night and deposited a two inch snow covering and a minimum temperature of 29 above zero. The mercury hovered near the freezing mark today.

KLAMATH FALLS, Dec. 6.—(AP).—Another freeze was expected here tonight as a result of the bitter cold northeast wind sweeping into the Klamath basin from snow capped peaks. The thermometer registered its low mark last night when it reached 14 degrees above zero.
