

PERSHING ACCORDED FARMERS' OVATION

American General Hailed With Enthusiasm As Presidential Timber

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—(AP)—A spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm for General John J. Pershing, who was hailed as a candidate for president of the United States, and adoption of a legislative policy for the coming year, marked the close of the American Farm Bureau Federation meeting here Wednesday.

General Pershing addressed the farmers on the place of agriculture in a national defense program, recommending development of the merchant marine, a larger navy and an uplift in the level of prices on basic products.

Cheers Rock Hall
At the conclusion of his speech a farmer jumped up on his chair, and called for three cheers for General Pershing, "a candidate for president of the United States." The response was tremendous, and as General Pershing left the hall, he was surrounded by enthusiastic farmers.

As they grasped his hand they assured the general he was "presidential timber," but the only response was a smile of appreciation. General Pershing later refused to express himself regarding the ovation.

"What can I say? I do not talk politics." That he was greatly pleased, however, was obvious.

McNary Bill Backed
Verification of the report that the federation would be united in a fight for the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, passed by congress at its last session and vetoed by President Coolidge, was had in the resolutions adopted.

Although no mention was made of the president's message to congress, and his reiteration of his stand on the farm question, the resolutions left no doubt of the federation's stand on points mentioned by Coolidge.

It will insist on passage at this session of congress of a measure similar to the McNary-Haugen bill.

Henry W. J. Roti, head of the St. Louis farm bureau, said President Coolidge's message was a continuation of his "near-sighted policy regarding the farmer," while J. B. Yager, president of the Nevada state farm bureau, believed the president's stand on the farm question was one reason why he "didn't choose to run."

Cigar Store Stock To Be Sold Under Court Order

Stock and fixtures belonging to the cigar store formerly operated by Roy Romaine and John W. Long will be sold under the sheriff's hammer to pay obligations totalling $5500, according to a decree handed down in circuit court here Wednesday.

The cigar store is located at 356 State street, and has been closed for several weeks.

The decree of foreclosure comes as a result of suit brought by Joseph Adolph and Sam Adolph to foreclose on a $4000 note. In the foreclosure proceedings the United States National bank of Portland, Fred Davenport and Mrs. A. N. Mumford are also named as defendants, they claiming some title or interest in the property.

The decree, however, states that neither the Portland bank nor Fred Davenport has any right in the property. Mrs. Mumford, holding a second mortgage, is entitled to $1500 after the first $4000 has been paid to the two Adolphs.
