

HIKES 30,000 MILES TO REGAIN HEALTH

Clarence H. Jones, Boy Scout, Visits Salem; Now Plans to Id Tour

"Outwalking the undertaker" is the task which Clarence H. (Casey) Jones, Boy Scout, of Burlington, Skag' county, Washington, has set for himself, and to date he has led that funeral in individual a 30,000 mile chase in the last three years. Friday night he lodged in Salem, just three days out on his present venture, which he expects will take him around the world. He had exactly 25 cents in his possession when he visited The Statesman office, but that is one of the least of his troubles.

"Casey" Jones' father died of tuberculosis at the age of 30, and the son showed symptoms of the disease three years ago. When he started out on his first long hike, he was unable to climb a flight of stairs without becoming exhausted. Health came back gradually, he built himself up from 110 pounds to 205.

Then, while stopping at home for a time, the idle gossip of neighbors drove him to work against the advice of his physician, and he lost 75 pounds. Today he is back to 147, after another trip which took him across 35 states.

Hiking alone in 43 states, as well as into Canada and through three Mexican states, and earning all of his way as he goes, is a task that might daunt many a youth, but young Jones finds much in his travels to interest him. He has collected the autographs of the governors of many states, and also those of people even more noted: Governor Al Smith, Luther Burbeck, Bill Hart, General E. F. C. Grey, Indian fighter; Chief Standing Bear, of the Sioux; Dakota Clad Jones, Jack Dempsey, Governor Hartley of Washington, Miriam (Ma) Ferguson, Nellie Taylor Ross, once woman governor of Wyoming; Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy; Queen Marie of Roumania, Prince William of Sweden, John Philip Sousa, and many others. "Casey" was in Seattle on Col. Charles Lindbergh's recent visit, and met the "Lone Eagle;" but seeing an "autograph crowd" approaching, Lindy decided not to set a dangerous precedent.

Jones called on Governor Patterson Saturday morning, and then continued on his way south to San Diego and then east. His notebook also contains his own drawings of many of the famous people he has met.

PAGEANT SCHEDULED

"THE NATIVITY" SUNDAY AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The Christmas pageant "The Nativity" which will be given this evening at 7:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Episcopal church, is based on the events surrounding the birth of Jesus.

It begins with the annunciation and takes up the birth, the adoration of the shepherds and wise men, the flight into Egypt and ends with the institution of the Eucharist and the commissioned apostles.

There are over 60 in the cast and all the costuming and arrangements are completed. The action is not spoken, but is entirely in pantomime.

This pageant is given as a part of the Christmas celebration of St. Paul's church, and is open to the public. No admission is charged but an offering will be taken to pay expenses. Those attending are requested to be seated at 7:30 p. m., as the caroling will begin promptly.

BIG BILL APPLAUDED

AT LEAST, 80 SAY COPIES OF SPEECH HE SENDS

The honorable William Hale Thompson, now the country's most colorful politician, wants the world to know that Chicago has a good mayor.

Press notices emanating from the Windy City are not sufficient; the people must be reached in yet another way, so the estimable city head has sent broadcast copies of his address delivered at the Coliseum in Toledo, Ohio, October 31. City Recorder Mark Poulsen received one yesterday.

The address is principally concerned with William Hale Thompson, and the mayor has emulated the Congressional Record in reprinting it by sprinkling the word "applause" in parentheses generally throughout.

Here are some excerpts:

"When we double Chicago's business if we don't double Toledo's business then Bill Thompson doesn't know his business, my friends (applause)."

"I am an American and believe in and love my country" (applause).

"Why Chicago's got the reputation of being the crime ridden city of the world, but since Bill Thompson was elected and Mike Hughes appointed general superintendent of police, we've got the crooks so tamed that schoolboys can go out and get them now." (Applause.)

"Bill Thompson..."

make them stop calling George Washington, in Chicago's schools, a rebel and a traitor." (applause.)

"Instead of being a hero, George Washington must be a rebel and a traitor according to the British; not when Bill Thompson is mayor of Chicago!" (applause.)

"As for Bill Thompson, I will follow in the footsteps of the men who made us what we are, and if that isn't good enough for the newspapers they can call me what they damn please." (applause.)

ARMY PLANS CHEER

ANNUAL DINNER FUND SEPARATE FROM ALL OTHERS

In order to clarify the situation with regard to the annual Salvation Army campaign for Christmas cheer funds, Ensign Pitt Friday night gave out the following statement:

"The Salvation Army has begun to realize the Christmas needs of the community. Many requests have been received from worthy cases.

"The Army kettles are receiving money for the specific purpose, while others are mailing in their donations.

"It should be understood that the Army's Christmas dinner effort, which is a regular annual affair, is a thing entirely separate from any other Christmas cheer movement, and that all moneys intended for this should be received by the Army itself."

Salvation Army headquarters are at 241 State street.

AQUATIC STAR SUCCUMBS

Lucille Chamberlain Passes Away After Long Sickness

LONGVIEW, Wash., Dec. 17—(AP)—Lucille Chamberlain, 18-year-old Longview high school senior and aquatic star, died in a hospital here Friday where death had hovered over her for many weeks. She received a broken neck when she made a 26 foot dive into the Coveeman river August 1, and had been in the hospital since.

On the previous day she swam across the Columbia river from Rainier, Ore., to Longview in 27 minutes, and immediately after made a heroic rescue in saving 8-year-old Lila McIvor from drowning.

Switzerland and Holland

Benefit by Keeping Peace

Switzerland and Holland, non-combatants in the world war, are having the benefit of low taxation and are in a stable condition as compared to the nations who warred, Dr. W. Carlton Smith, who visited those sections on his recent trip to the American Legion convention, told members of the Lions club at the luncheon Friday.

Mrs. Ivan Stewart sang two numbers for the entertainment of the club members.

WRITE LIKE THE DICKENS

An Oriental paper, printed the following notice:

"The news of English we tell the latest. Writ in perfectly aye and most earliest. Do a murder commit, we hear of it and tell it. Do a mighty chief die, we publish it and in border somber. Staff has each been colleged and write like the Kipling and the Dickens. We circle every town and extortionate not for advertisementes."

LIQUOR SE CAUSE OF FINE; TWO PAY

Third Dendant Isn't Bootlegger So He Hysn't Cast For Penalty

Two bootleggers and one other man who had liquor in his possession were sentenced Friday by Justice of the Peace Grazer Small to pay fines ranging from $100 to $250. The two bootleggers paid up promptly and were immediately turned loose.

Everett Glover of Sublimity, was haled into justice court on a charge of illegally selling intoxicating liquor yesterday forenoon. Entering a plea of not guilty at that time, he changed his plea to one of guilty in the day and was sentenced to pay a fine of $250.

He operates a service station at Sublimity, and made the mistake of selling a pint of moonshine liquor to a prohibition officer.

George A. Eitel who was also arrested in justice court on a charge of bootlegging Friday. Entering a plea of guilty at once, he was fined $200 by Judge Small paid up and was allowed to go on his way.

It developed Friday that charges have been pending against both Glover and Eitel since December 5. The specific acts of which they are accused took place on that date.

J. H. Lofton of Hopmore also entered a plea of guilty to a charge of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor. Sentenced yesterday to pay a fine of $100, Lofton was committed to the county jail to serve out his sentence.

State and county officers declared they found parts apparently intended for use with a moonshine still about Lofton's place, but were unable to discover the still. He has lived in this vicinity for about a year, having formerly lived in Tennessee. He entertained officers who arrested him with anecdotes out of his experiences in the south when he operated a still under legal license, paying 18 to 20 cents a gallon as internal revenue. Lofton is now 57 years old, he says.
