December 20, 1927... came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

UMATILLA RAPIDS PROJECT

Associate editor of the Portland Journal... before the Salem Rotary club on reporting what he had to say, the editor in several particulars, through the editor of reader. Mr. Dana, under recent date, the following letter of correction, which is gladly printed:

"I note from a clipping in your paper of November 24, that I am quoted as saying that $425,000,000 would harness the Columbia river at Umatilla Rapids. The estimate is $45,000,000. Also, the article states that the power output would be 2,700,000 kilowatt hours per year. The estimate is 2,700,000,000. It is also stated that all the streams in the United States contain 40,000,000 horse-power as compared with 20,000,000 in the Columbia river system. The estimate is that all the stream systems of the United States contain 60,000,000 horse-power, potential hydro-electric energy, and that the Columbia river contains 20,000,000 horse-power.

"The Columbia river represents half of the hydro-electric energy of all OTHER stream systems in the United States combined. A cost estimate of $425,000,000 for the Umatilla Rapids project with a power output of 2,700,000 kilowatt hours per year would render the project infeasible. Whereas, the estimate on the basis of correct figures is that the cost of power production would be at the switch board only 1.2 mills per kilowatt or $10.51 per kilowatt year of $8.27 per horse-power year.

"If you would find opportunity to use the correct figures it would be appreciated."

Salem is one of the cities interested in the Umatilla Rapids project. All the cities of Oregon and Washington and Idaho are interested.

Development of this project, and the use of the other energy running to waste in the Columbia basin, will be a great manufacturing center of the United States in the Pacific northwest.

More than half the human race for customers, joined together by the Pacific ocean, with the cheapest transportation known, or that will likely ever be known, so far as human vision can reach, up to the present time.

All of us ought to be for the development of the Umatilla Rapids project.

Mr. Dana is one of the members of the commission having the preliminaries leading up to this development in charge. He is an outstanding member. He is a student, and he has a complete understanding of all the details, and he is able to make clear the whole great scheme. He is doing a great work in this field.

Looking to the time when that project will lead to the navigation of the Columbia river and its tributaries east of the Cascades and the Blue mountains, and when the harnessed energy of that great scheme will provide irrigation for vast areas, and will furnish power and light to an empire in extent, and also, in good season, heat for its homes and other buildings.

THE BUSY, BOUNTIFUL BEE

The members of the Salem Chamber of Commerce who heard H. M. Mead at the noon luncheon yesterday carried away with them a higher estimate of the value of the beekeeping industry to this section. This industry in Oregon, with the present number of colonies, 100,000, representing an investment of $1,500,000, would make a total of $2,500,000 in capital employed, and annual cash value for the product of $480,000.

If all the present colonies were equipped as they should be, and given the attention the importance of their work justifies.

And this is only a beginning. This industry is capable of being made a major one in this state, and especially in this section and all of the Willamette valley.

The honey bee benefits the vegetable growths from the flowers of which she extracts her product. And she exhausts no part of the soil, but rather encourages the planting crops that renew its fertility.

And she works for nothing and pays her board in the bargain, and at a very high rate, when she is given the chance she should have.

The Salem district ought to ship honey in car lots to the markets. And there should be built up here a beekeeping industry running into millions annually. It can be done. There are many uses for honey that may be developed, and all for the benefit of the health of the people using it.

The location of the incinerator is postponed again. But the place for it is below the level of the city—which means north of the city, because that is the proper location of the coming sewage disposal plant, and they should be together, for reasons of economy that ought to be obvious to every one.

It will be only a short time till a sewage disposal plant will be provided. It would pay its expenses and provide a fund for paying for itself if it were built under the proper auspices.

Mill reorganization is almost but not quite ready to go to the world. It will be mighty good news, if it comes.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

(From columns of The Statesman, Dec. 19, 1902.) The state land board considered and approved forty-two applications for loans yesterday.

Ashland—The city election Tuesday resulted in the defeat of the anti-saloon ticket.

Walter Winslow is the leader of the Willamette university freshman class debate team which meets the sophomores tonight.

Wallace, Ida.—John Beaton, strongest man in Montana, has put up a forfeit of $50 that he can stay six rounds with Champion James Jeffries. Jeffries has accepted the challenge.

For the first time in the history of the school, students at Willamette university have undertaken the publication of an "annual." Edgar Meresse is editor. E. F. Averill suggested the name "Wal-luh" and won a prize in the name contest.

Milton—With a victory over the saloon, dancing is now to be prohibited in Milton. One thousand dollars recently was offered the city council of Milton for a saloon license for one year. The members and the mayor laughed at it. It is said the council will not endeavor to put a stop to card playing.

German Titleholder Put Out of Way By Van Porat CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Otto van Porat, Norwegian heavy-weight champion, ruined whatever hopes Ted Sandwina, German titleholder had of progressing in the championship ranks by knocking him out in the second round of a scheduled eight round fight at the coliseum tonight.

The battle was one of seven staged for Christmas charities for which more than $50,000 was realized.

Toronto Flyweight Gains World Title; Beats Jarvis TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 19.—(AP)—French Belanger, of Toronto, gained the flyweight championship of the National Boxing association tonight by outpointing Ernie Jarvis of London in a 12 round title struggle. Belanger weighed 110 pounds, Jarvis 111 1/2.

RUB PAIN OUT OF RHEUMATIC JOINTS For 65 years, millions have rubbed soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil right on the tender spot, and by the time they say Jack Robinson — out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism and a d pain liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia. 35 cent bottle guaranteed by all druggists.
