MY BRIDGE

Had I the power to bridge the sea,
Or from Heaven to Earth my span could be,
I would shun the task and build to thee.

I would frame my span in memories' mould,
Made strong with girders of love untold,
And over this gulf that lies between,
I would cross my bridge to thee.

Those of Salem's music lovers who heard Williams' Jubilee Singers here seven years ago will be delighted to learn that this excellent company of colored musicians will appear in concert at the First Congregational Church next Friday evening, January sixth, under the auspices of the church choir.

Eight highly talented vocalists comprise the chorus, all selected from American college and university conservatories. Since their last appearance here the Williams' Jubilee Singers have appeared in concert in all of the principal cities of Europe. They sang one hundred and thirty concerts in London, England. The programs are made up of solos, duets, trios, ladies' quartets and full chorus numbers, in such a variety of selection as plantation, jubilee, cabin, river and camp-meeting songs, negro lullabys, sacred and classical compositions. The male quartet which will be featured on the Jubilee Singers' program, is said to be irrestive in its laughter-producing antics.

PAY AS YOU GO!

AND BUY WHERE YOU LIKE

THERE is a certain satisfaction in ALWAYS having money in your purse and there is a distinct dissatisfaction in sometimes being "broke."

There are several ways of averting this calamity but the surest and safest one is that is—pay cash for all of your small purchases and pay your larger purchases by check but ALWAYS pay as you buy, and keep an emergency balance in the bank.

It's easy to say, "Charge it"—it's too easy. One often buys more than one can pay for just because it's easy to charge it. BUT at the first of the month or whenever the reckoning comes and it certainly comes sometime, is the dreaded time of trying to "make both ends meet." The time when discord is often struck in the family circle, the time when it is often necessary to rob Peter to pay Paul, the time when one realizes that they have spent more than the monthly pay check and someone will have to wait. If it stopped right there it wouldn't be quite so bad but the same thing usually happens the following month and added to the ONE that has to wait are a couple of more. All this time merchants are pressing their claims, they are entitled to their money, a cloud, a black cloud shadows one's conscience and the ease of feeling, which is the foundation of happiness, is gone.

Anything that creates an asset such as buying a home, furniture and the like is a legitimate deferred payment obligation but clothing and the luxuries of life should be paid for as you go.

In 1928 PAY AS YOU GO—and there will be no worry for anyone.
