Mrs. D. J. Fry, Sr. Entertains Missionary Society of Congregational Church

One of the most delightful meetings of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Congregational church was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Sr.

The rooms of the Fry home on South High street were lovely with poinsettias, holly, and glowing red tapers.

The meeting was devoted to a study of India and the many lovely articles which Mr. and Mrs. Fry brought from that country while touring the world in the spring and summer of the past year were shown to the guests.

Among the trinkets was a beautiful little container such as the natives use to carry water from the Ganges River, and also a standard with six little elephants of black onyx with ivory tusks, the largest standing four inches high and the smallest but one inch.

Mrs. Charles E. Ward, as missionary leader, conducted the missionary study. Mrs. W. D. Clarke, lead the devotions, and Mrs. George E. Rossman read a very interesting paper on "Current Events in India."

That delightful song cycle, "In a Brahmin Garden" was sung by Mrs. Harry Harms, Mrs. Roberta Morton Zinn played her accompaniment.

A review of the book, "The Christ of the Indian Road" by Rev. Stanley Ives was given in a very interesting manner by Mrs. Mark D. McCallister.

Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr., and Mrs. Orris Fry assisted the hostess at the tea hour.

Assistant hostesses for the affair were Mrs. E. A. Miller, Mrs. Kittle Graver, Dr. Fannie Brown, and Mrs. F. D. Kibbe.

Interesting Meeting of Business and Professional Women

The first meeting of the new year was held Wednesday evening at the Gray Belle by the Salem Business and Professional Women's club.

The program was in charge of the membership committee, with Miss Martha Gasch, chairman of the state committee, as chairman.

Each of the past presidents gave a short talk on a subject of interest to club members.

Dr. Mary C. Rowland, president of the local club in 1919 and 1920 told of the difficulties encountered in getting the club organized and the great increase in interest shown by the public in the second year. The ideals of the club which is a national as well as local organization, were emphasized by Miss Miraph Blair.

Miss Grace Taylor spoke chiefly of the meaning of the club emblem; Miss Laura Hale told of the increasing number of activities and interests of the club; and Dr. Mary Purvine spoke of the fund for the club-house which was instituted in her term of presidency.

High lights of the national convention of B. and P. W. Clubs which was held last summer in Oakland, California were given by Julia K. Webster.

Miss Edna Purdy told of the work which is being done by the state club, and Miss Carlotta Crowley enumerated the various professions represented in the B. and P. W. club which at the present time has a membership of more than one hundred.

Vocal numbers were given by Miss Nellie Morgan, Miss Evangelina Hall played her accompaniments and also gave several piano solos.

New members of the club are Miss Thelma Alexander, Miss Pearl McVey, Miss Lina Helst, Miss Grace Hendrickson, Miss Clara Guerne, Miss Margaret Livsey, Miss Ethel Collier, Miss Elva Fischer, Miss Ruby Poujade, Miss Bessie L. Lunn, Miss Jennie M. Thompson, Miss Olive M. Dahl, Miss Adeline Hughes, Miss Nell Morgan, Mrs. Edith P. Whitten, Dr. Ruth Daugherty, Miss E. Florence Miller, and Miss Marie Stanton.

The new members and the past president were seated at one long table.

The state dinner of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be held Saturday, January twenty-first.

The next dance sponsored by the local club will be an event of February second.

"Bohemian Girl" Will Be Given in Salem January 10th

Basil Horsfall's famous "Opera film" production of the immortal opera by Balfe, "The Bohemian Girl" will be given at the Elsinore theater on the evening of January tenth by the National Opera company.

The principals of this excellent company include Miss Theo Pennington, prima-dona soprano; Mercedes Dalmada, dramatic soprano; Franklin Meeker, tenor; Carl Bundschu, baritone and Frederick Wheeler, basso; all of them experienced operatic artists with fine reputations. Miss Pennington and Mrs. Bundschu will be remembered very favorably all through the Northwest, for their remarkable voices and unusual artistry, when they appeared here some years ago, as principals with the American Light Opera company. The other principals always give great delight, both in solo and ensemble numbers. There will be a supporting chorus, and an augmented orchestra under the personal direction of Basil Horsfall, the eminent English operat composer, and conductor.

The novel "Operafilm" production has for its slogans, "You See It" and "You Hear It." On the screen is shown a very beautiful motion picture film, while at suitable intervals, the living artists appear on the stage, in appropriate costumes and with effective scenery, singing all the delightful melodies of the opera. This attraction has won splendid success in its first tour through Canada, and is now making its premiere tour of the Pacific Coast.

Local music lovers, as well as film fans are assured a genuine treat. Tickets are now on sale at the theater.

Williams' Jubilee Singers Will Give Concert This Evening

The outstanding musical event of the week will be the concert given this evening at the First Congregational church by Williams' Jubilee Singers. These talented colored musicians will be remembered by the large number of Salem music lovers who heard them here about seven years ago. Members of the company are of the highest moral and musical standard, having been selected from the best Christian homes and trained in America's finest schools.

The octette is touring the United States for the first time following a year's travel and study in Europe. The following review appeared in the South Wales Echo following the concert given in Cardiff, Wales: "Williams' Jubilee Singers, an octette of colored ladies and gentlemen, are the star turn of an excellent program at the Palace, Cardiff, this week. In their solos and more especially in the choruses, which they render, they gave some beautiful harmony but by far the best item was the "Suwanee River." Although the setting of this old favorite was in parts somewhat strange to British ears, the melody was beautifully rendered and its pathos and appealing sadness went home to the hearts of everyone in the audience."

The repertoire of the company includes: jubilee, plantation, and cabin and river songs; negro melodies, camp-meeting songs; negro lullabies, and classical selections. Their Salem appearance is sponsored by the choir of the First Congregational church.

Hostess at Attractive New Year's Dinner Party

Christina M. Harold entertained Saturday evening in her home on Center Street with an attractive twelve-cover New Year's dinner party.

SCHOOL BOARD AUTHORIZES CLARION CONTRACTS

Authority from the school board to sign contracts for work on the 1928 Clarion annual was conveyed Wednesday to Lee Coe, manager, and the faculty, by Superintendent George Hug. The book will be started immediately. Try-outs for the editorial and managerial staffs were held Tuesday and Wednesday, the results of which will be announced later in the week.

While the school board has not yet given formal permission for publication of the annual, the authority to sign contracts is seen as a certain sign that favorable action will be taken at the next meeting.

Subject to approval by the student council, Manager Lee Coe announced the following as his assistants during the coming year: Wesley Heise, assistant manager; Francis Gamble, advertising manager; Auden Reeder, circulation manager; and Robert Boals, photograph manager.

Isabel Childs, editor, has selected Doris Godsey as her assistant editor.

The remainder of the staff will be selected on the basis of scholastic and activity records of applications, and their fitness for particular departments.

Miss Ada Ross is faculty adviser to the Clarion editorial staff this year and Merritt Davis is business advisor.

HOLIDAY PARTY ENJOYED AT CENTRAL HOWELL

CENTRAL HOWELL, Jan. 5.—(Special.)—The Misses Imogene, Lucille and Joe Wood entertained a number of their little friends on Friday afternoon. The little folk played games and admired the large Christmas tree which was beautifully decorated. The mother of the hostesses, Mrs. Pearl Wood served a dainty luncheon before the guests' departure.
