

GREATER THINGS FOR RADIO DURING 1928

Broadcasting Vastly Improved and Many Things Added To Lives

GREAT THINGS—G. N. DIO

On the outlook for radio in 1928, A. Atwater Kent said:

There are great things ahead for radio in 1928. From every standpoint it promises a good radio year. In 1927 there were great strides in every division of radio. My belief in the future extends to every field of the industry for improvement in one branch brings development in others. With better broadcasting, more people wish to hear programs, therefore, more radio receiving sets are sold. With improved mechanical facilities for both broadcasting and reception, there is greater satisfaction all round.

In 1927, radio may be said to have passed its critical stage. It was the period at which the industry was at the turning point. Perhaps radio might be compared to a child. Everyone knows it was a lusty infant that had a very rapid growth. First, it bustled itself with amusement and entertainment features. Some of these were quite trivial. Gradually, it took on a more sober air. It showed signs of amounting to something. Then, it began to take an important place in practical affairs and in the last year its elders among the industries have taken earnest note of it. Radio has now settled down and is doing its part in the work of the world. Its potential value to every phase of our life from entertainment, which it will always furnish, to the serious side of our daily business cannot be estimated.

There are several things that stand out in radio development in the last twelve months. Perhaps, the most outstanding in the field of radio reception, on which the entire success of radio rests, is the introduction and general acceptance of the house-current set, which completely does away with batteries. The house-current set has come to stay.

Radio has added a new side to our lives, just as did the airplane and the automobile. It has passed through much the same stages of development which they encountered and it will become permanent just as they have become established.

Boardcasting has improved vastly. Of course, we shall have always trivial programs on the air, the same as we have varied entertainment on the screen, but there are more worthwhile programs on the air now than ever before. There are better facilities for broadcasting them and better facilities for hearing them. There are millions more listeners and a greatly increased number of purposes for which radio is employed. There is stabilization in every field of the industry.

Recognition by the great leaders in the musical, political, industrial, educational, financial and religious world is a sure indication of the importance and permanency of Radio. There can be no doubt of that. The only question should be now, that we have this powerful medium, how are we going to use it for the greatest good of the greatest number of people for the greatest length of time.

Souvenirs of Napoleon On Display in Berlin

BERLIN.—(AP)—An exhibition of Napoleon souvenirs was arranged in connection with the recent showing of the "Napoleon" film in Berlin by F. M. Kirchman, who has made the study of the great little Corsican his life's work.

The collection of historical mementos was derived from various sources, among others from the well-known Venetian and Verch collections. There was a well preserved title deed from the year 1792 bearing the signatures of the deputies from Arras, including that of Robespierre. Among many parts of uniforms, weapons, helmets, etc., a high red Jacobins' cap with a faded cockade attracted much attention. A rare find was an uncut leaf of French revolutionary assignats, or emergency paper money, showing that at the time French currency had depreciated to a 344th part of its nominal value.

A cut by Gros depicted Napoleon reviewing his troops in the Lustgarten in Berlin in 1804. A white shirt, still immaculate, worn by Napoleon and taken from his carriage by the Feldmarschal von Blucher after the battle of Waterloo and a proclamation by Blucher in Brussels on June 19th, 1815 were also appreciated. A unique relic was a permit of the town-mayor of St. Helena of the year 1822 entitling the bearer to visit the grave of Napoleon and to tear "one leaf" from the adjoining willow tree as a souvenir.

AUTOMATIC STILL

SAN FRANCISCO.—In the continuous game between moonshiners and prohibition agents in San Francisco, the moonshiners have slipped one over. Some one of their number has conceived an automatic still, which does not require constant attendance. Police have discovered this in a raid on a moonshine plant. They broke into the place and found the outfit going full blast.

THERE'S CHANCE FOR A HEAVYWEIGHT DARK HORSE

Not a single new figure looms on the heavyweight horizon as the 1928 ring season opens. The eight outstanding heavies, according to a general poll conducted by an eastern expert, include, besides Tunney and Dempsey, Jack Sharkey, Tom Heeney, Jack Delaney, Johnny Risko and George Godfrey. After these come Paulino Uzcudun, Knute Hansen and others of their caliber. Phil Scott, British heavy, could have claimed a place had he remained in the U. S. What a wonderful opportunity for a dark horse, with a mule kick in both hands and some gray matter in his head, to step into the limelight by bowling over three or four of these boys.

KAY AND TITUS DROP PIN TITLE

"Frisco" Edwards, renowned as a baseball man, and Clem Kertson, challengers for the Salem doubles bowling championship, were successful over Al Titus and Erceel Kay, champions, in a special five-game match at the bowling alley last night. The total scores were 1942 to 1819.

Clem Kertson averaged over 200 for each game and reached the remarkably high total of 1014. Edwards was second with 928. Titus, third with 920, and Kay last with 899.

Both challengers and champions were cheered mightily by a large crowd of fans who gathered to view the match.

Countess Tankerville Sees Famous "Ghosts"

LONDON (AP).—The Countess of Tankerville is authority for this ghost story. She told it at a dinner of the Lyceum club.

Her family seat, Chillingham Castle, Belford, Northumberland is credited with having a ghost. Lady Tankerville had never seen the ghost, although skeletons had been found under her bedroom, until one day shortly after the war. She was looking out of her window and suddenly through the foliage saw a castle and parapet, apparently just a spool as the room in which she was sitting. A lady clad as a Dominican abbess walked on the parapet, followed by a richly-clad handsome man who had his hand on his sword hilt. He in turn was followed by two men in the costumes of the period of Henry the Eighth. These two men seemed to be talking in a treacherous manner about the other man. The lady knelt, and Lady Tankerville, thinking she was about to see a tragedy, called out, "May I help you my friends?"

NEW CHAMPION OF GERMAN ICE

Herr Mayke is winner of the title in the 1,500-meter ice race at a meet of the Berlin Skating club at Friederichshain.

South's New Hope

The latest white hope to be offered by the south is Addison Exum Warren, University of North Carolina graduate, who has just cast his lot with the professionals and has signed with Jimmy Bronson, New York manager. Warren is a light heavy.

There was no reply, but when the man with his hand on the hilt of his sword turned Lady Tankerville saw he had the face of her husband, but wore the clothing of 400 years ago. Then the whole scene faded. Upon examining old books in the library of the castle Lady Tankerville found material which assured her that what she had seen bore direct relation to events which had happened at the castle centuries before.

Tremendous Blast Set Off in City of Seattle

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 14.—(AP).—Seattle residents hurrying home from dances and theaters early this morning were frightened by the explosion of a bomb under the fire escape of the Palace-Hip theater that shook the downtown district and shattered windows within a radius of 300 feet. Police are working on the theory that the bomb was set by a former employe of the theater who was angered by his dismissal. They are also investigating a report that the management of the show house has been declared "unfair to labor."

MOSHER LEADER OF RIFLE CLUB

D. H. Mosher, local tailor, has been elected president of the Salem rifle club. All other officers were re-elected.

The need for a new range for small bore rifle shooting was brought up at the annual meeting. At present, the riflemen use the basement of the Salem armory, but this is usually occupied by fighters in training when the clubmen wish to practice.

A new range on the outskirts of the city may be selected.

Fans can be assured that there will be no decisions like one given on the last card, as long as Tom Loutitt is referee. The boxing commission did well to hire this competent fellow, the squares and best liked sporting official in the northwest today.

Hiring Loutitt, brings to mind a little incident that occurred in Portland several years ago. A. C. was playing Washington State a football game on Mt. Rainier field. The game was starting, because of a wrangle as to who should officiate. Washington objected to every suggestion O. A. C. made.

Finally, the Aggies gave up despair and told Washington State to select whomever they wanted. The Cougar coach spied Loutitt sitting in the stand and shouted: "There's the fellow we want!" This was called down. He refused much to the satisfaction of everyone. And by the way, Loutitt is an O. A. C. grad. The Oregon men won 9 to 0, but not by any help from Tom.
