

MINING OUTPUT INCREASED, 1927

Nine Per Cent Growth In Gold, Silver, Copper and Lead in Oregon

A bulletin of the United States department of commerce, released for publication in newspapers of this date, has the following:

The value of gold, silver, copper, and lead produced in Oregon in 1927, according to the estimate of J. M. Hill of the United States bureau of mines, department of commerce, was $365,000, an increase of $30,260 or 9 per cent as compared with the value of metals produced in 1926. The largest increase (58 per cent) was in the value of copper produced. Gold increased 3 per cent, but the value of silver decreased 3 per cent, due to lower prices of the metal, and the value of lead decreased 68 per cent, due to smaller production and lower price.

The gold production of Oregon in 1927 is estimated at 13,600 ounces, valued at $281,000, an increase of 357 ounces as compared with 1926. The Empire dredge, Superior dredge, and Buffalo Monitor lode mine were the largest producers of gold. An abundant supply of water made possible more widespread and larger placer activity throughout the state.

The output of silver from Oregon mines in 1927 is estimated at $1,700 ounces, valued at $18,000, as compared with 29,733 ounces, valued at $18,553, in 1926, an increase of 7 per cent in quantity as compared with 1926. Gold concentrates produced in Grant county yielded the largest quantity of silver, and copper concentrates were the second most important source of the metal in 1927.

The yield of copper in Oregon in 1927 is estimated at 605,000 pounds, valued at $65,700, as compared with 296,454 pounds, valued at $41,504, in 1926. This represents an increase of 70 per cent in quantity. Most of the copper output was from the Homestead Iron Dyke mine in Baker county. It is estimated that 5,000 pounds of lead, valued at $300, was recovered from Oregon ores in 1927, a decrease of 57 per cent in quantity as compared with 11,549 pounds, valued at $324, produced in 1926. The 1927 output of lead was a by-product of gold concentrates produced in Grant county.

In Eastern Oregon the principal production of gold and silver was made by the Empire dredge, near John Day, the Superior dredge, near Bridgeport, both of which were in operation all year, the Buffalo Monitor lode mine, at Granite, and the Ben Harrison and Rabbit mines in the Greenhorn district. The Badger and Little Badger mines, at Susanville, and the Miller Mountain mine, near Canyon City, were productive and many small shipments of bullion to mints indicate that prospecting and placer operations were carried on at many places. The Idaho Copper company, owner of the Homestead Iron Dyke mine, shipped copper concentrates and continued development at deeper levels. The Oregon Copper company sunk two shafts, each over 300 feet deep, on its holdings near Keating and plans to prospect the Balm Creek properties at depth. The Cornucopia gold mine, at Cornucopia, usually a large gold producer, reported no production during 1927, and the Bay Horse silver mine was idle. The Rainbow Consolidated Mining company was incorporated to operate the Rainbow and Sunday Hill mines in the Mormon Basin district. A flotation mill was completed at the Baisley-Bikhorn mine near Baker.

In Southwest Oregon there were apparently no large scale mining operations in southwest Oregon in 1927, but gold and silver production was larger than in 1926, due to abundance of water, which permitted more widespread placer work, and to the finding of several rich pockets. The Progressive Mining company (Robertson's lode mine), near Galice, was the largest individual producer of gold in the region. The Greenback, near Leland, was under development and milled some ore. A new mill was installed at the Jewett mine near Grants Pass. The Pacific Copper company, of Portland, developed the Cowboy and Queen of Bronze mines, near Takilma, Josephine county, and the Banfield, near Canyonville, Douglas county. The Llano de Oro (Logan) and Osgood hydraulic mines, near Waldo, were productive, and the Pacific hydraulic in Ferris Gulch was engaged in opening a new deposit of gravel.

Here we are trying to control liquor and we can't even control water. And for the matter of that, we don't seem to have much say over oil.—Brooklyn Eagle.

REV. PAYNE SUEED BY MISSOURIANS

DEBTS OF $205.48 ALLEGED AT WARRENSBURG

Three Firms Assign Claims to Adjustment Bureau, Complaint Says

Another page was written in the eventful career of Rev. R. L. Payne, acting pastor of the First Baptist church of Salem, when action was begun in circuit court here yesterday to collect a total of $205.48 alleged to be due for coal, laundry and groceries at Warrensburg, Missouri, where Rev. Payne lived before removing to Salem.

The list of Warrensburg firms, with amounts claimed by each, is as follows: U. J. Burns Coal company, $106.47; City Steam laundry, $82.45; Allen's market, $36.56. The three claims have all been assigned to the League Adjustment bureau, which appears in the action as plaintiff, represented by Ivan G. Martin, Salem attorney.

The Burns Coal company, the complaint filed yesterday recites, delivered coal to Rev. Payne over a period extending from September 13, 1926, to May 2, 1927, the total amount of coal so delivered being of the reasonable value of $126.47. On this bill $10 was paid on December 4, 1926, and another $10 was paid on December 14, 1926.

The City Steam laundry, the complaint filed yesterday recites, performed professional services over a period from November 10, 1926, to June 7, 1927, the total bill amounting to $82.45. Of this only $20 was paid, payment being made on May 8, 1927, leaving a balance of $62.45 due.

Allen's Market, a grocery store of Warrensburg, delivered groceries to Rev. Payne from March 31, 1927, to June 8 of the same year. During this time a bill of $36.56 was run up. Thirty dollars was paid on this bill, the remainder remaining unpaid, according to the complaint.

Governor Claims Insult
CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Illinois has received an unwarranted affront from the United States senate in its refusal to recognize Colonel Frank L. Smith as one of its senators, Governor Len Small declared today in a formal statement in which he served notice he would refuse to recognize the senate action.

Coupled with the declaration of Colonel Smith to resign, the governor's statement was interpreted as meaning that Illinois would function with one United States senator for the next six years unless other developments intervened.

Colonel Smith was with the governor when the typewritten statement was passed out to newspapermen in the office of Werner V. Schroeder, Governor Small's personal attorney.

Legal Action Hinted
Schroeder said he did not represent Colonel Smith and he did not know whether the senator-elect contemplated legal action in a renewed effort to force recognition by the senate.

Oscar E. Carlstrom, state attorney general, said he had no statement to make now but might have one at some later date after a conference with Colonel Smith.

It was understood Carlstrom was ready as head of the state's legal department to assert publicly that Colonel Smith still was senator-elect from Illinois despite the senate action, that his credentials were good for six years and that there was no vacancy subject either to election or temporary appointment.

The Illinois general assembly was on record with a joint resolution holding Colonel Smith was entitled to his seat in the United States senate.

Smith Keeps Quiet
Colonel Smith declined to indicate what his next step might be. Two forms of litigation were said by some to be open to him, would be to compel payment of the senatorial salary and the other to compel Vice President Dawes to administer the oath of office to him.

A third, discussed in some unofficial quarters was that Colonel Smith might see fit to have a notary public or some other capable officer administer the oath of office to him.

On the other hand the Chicago Daily News quoted an unnamed republican leader as explaining Colonel Smith's dilemma had two prongs:

"If he attempts to hold his certificate of election the democrats will nominate a candidate for the Smith vacancy in the senate. The republicans then will be forced to nominate a candidate or permit the democratic candidate to win without opposition. Smith will have to run again for re-nomination and re-election to his own seat or stand idle by clutching a worthless certificate and watch another take the seat to which he was elected."

POST GETS CHARTER

CLARES C. POWELL HEADS MONMOUTH LEGION

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Jan. 20.—(Special)—Clares C. Powell was installed as first commander of the newly established American Legion Post No. 65, of Monmouth, last week with impressive ceremonies presided over by State Commander George E. Love.

Charter No. 65 was presented to the Post by Carl P. Moser of Silverton, state adjutant.

Speakers of the evening were E. J. Baylis of Silverton, chairman of district No. 2 and June Vallant of Portland, service officer.

Representatives from the Corvallis, Dallas, Independence, Sheridan, Monroe and Salem posts attended the meeting and took part in the ceremonies. The Post at Monmouth has been given the number 65, but is the youngest organization in the state—being the 92nd established under the national order since the signing of the Armistice.

Commander Clares C. Powell is a member of one of the outstanding pioneer families of Oregon, his grandfather, F. S. Powell, being one of the founders of the Christian college, and an uncle, P. O. Powell, being a professor of mathematics at the college for many years.

Commander Powell is a graduate of the University of Oregon and later enlisted in the air service during the World war. While in the army he contracted a severe illness from which he did not fully recover for several years.

He is assistant cashier at the First National Bank at Monmouth, and has always been an active participant in all civic movements for the upbuilding of the city. As a past member of the city council and through his affiliation with and service on important committees of the commercial club he is recognized as one of the outstanding younger business men of Monmouth.

Provinces Named
"With reference to Manchuria and Mongolia, especially the three eastern provinces," he continued, "we are inclined to think that, in view of their peculiar historical and geographical relations to this country, it may be necessary for us to take these provinces into special consideration."

Declaring that the maintenance of peace and order there is the object of Japan's constant attention, Baron Tanaka added: "In this connection, the Japanese government particularly wishes it to be understood that as in other parts of China, they always intend sincerely to respect and observe the principle of the open door and equal opportunity in these provinces and, in pursuance of this principle, are prepared to cooperate with Chinese authorities and people for the economic development of that region."

compulsory arbitration by the much discussed Pan-American court, total prohibition under all conditions of international intervention and allied questions which it is expected will be thrashed out fully in committees here.

Committee Head Picked
This morning in the last committee organization, Ambassador Judah nominated Eduardo Alfonso de Santo Domingo for the chairmanship of the committee on resolutions, with subsequent election.

Alfonso's nomination and election was practically the only important bit of business transacted in today's session of the conference, the congress adjourning shortly after noon to resume its sessions Monday. The election came only after Dr. J. Varela, Uruguayan minister at Washington had refused to accept the chairmanship because he said his delegation had agreed not to accept any of the presidencies of committees. Long technical arguments delayed and finally prevented the transaction of other business.

LINDY TO ARRIVE BACK AT WORK TODAY, WORD

Therefore, he has been left alone to enjoy himself.

The actual time for Lindbergh's hop off for Caracas has not been fixed. At France Field it is said that his start will depend entirely on his wishes.

There is talk that the aviator will try tarpon fishing at some nearby place when he returns, but he himself is the only one who would be able to confirm this, or deny it, as the case may be.

It is considered unlikely that he will start for Caracas Sunday, and those most interested believe he will take his final departure from Panama Monday.
