

RADIO OPERATORS BEING ENLISTED

Some of Best Amateurs in Country Now Being Recruited For Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the best amateur radio operators in the country will be available for immediate service to the United States in the event of war. Selected men from the ranks of radio amateurs are being enlisted for four years in the Volunteer Communication Reserve of the Navy.

Operators with a commercial license of extra first grade may qualify as chief radiomen in time of war; those with first grade licenses as radiomen first class; those with second grade licenses as radiomen second class; amateurs first grade as radiomen second class; and amateurs second grade as radiomen third class.

One of the noteworthy examples of the development of this branch of the naval reserve is the growth of the units in Florida. Commander J. A. Schofield of the Navy Reserve, says, "In February, 1925, Capt. C. D. Stearns, then commandant of the Seventh Naval district, began organization of the communication reserve in his district. At that time there were one officer and two enlisted men in the district. The personnel now is 84 officers and men and the reserve has acquired 24 radio transmitting and receiving stations, in various Florida cities.

Units of the communication reserve have been established in Orlando, Jacksonville, Ft. Myers, and Tampa, Fla. Each unit reports by radio to the master control station at Orlando on Thursday nights. The navy department through the cooperation of the department of commerce, has assigned two Navy call letters to reserve radio stations. They are WJVA at Orlando and NRRQ at Tampa.

Each year a selected number are given shore radio station duty with full pay for two weeks, and in some instances, radiomen have been sent on summer cruises on board navy destroyers, where they have been assigned to stand radio watches at sea. The enlistment age is from 17 to 35, and all ages apply for the reserve.

His entertaining half-hour discourses will be heard Thursday nights at 8:10.

ST. MORITZ, SWITZERLAND (AP)

Visitors here who notice the caption "Skeleton Races" in the program of the Winter Olympic Games, February 11 to 19, need not expect to see half a dozen skeletons clanking along in grim contest, but what they will see is just as thrilling.

In the language of Swiss winter sports, a skeleton is a light, flexible sled made of steel which dashes with its crew over a perilous course at 70 to 80 miles an hour. The skeleton races constitute an Olympic event this year for the first time.

Cresta Run, the famous toboggan course constructed here by English sportsmen, is the scene of the races. It is 3,750 feet long and yet the races are over in a minute or less. The race is not always to the swift, but more often to the courageous skiff and strong for steering a sled going 70 miles an hour requires great strength.

The race course is an ice-fluting built with extreme exactness, winding in numerous curves from the top, north of St. Moritz, to the finish near Celerina. The record for the whole length is held by the Englishman C. R. ("Bob") Williams, well known southern football coach and official who is a Roanoke man.

The two Alberts and Fitzpatrick went their three different ways to college when they were graduated from high school and all three played on their freshmen teams. Last season and the year before they were varsity stars.

Barnes and Fitzpatrick played high school football together in 1922, 1923, and 1924. They were joined by Bailey for the last two seasons.

They are natural football players. C. R. ("Bob") Williams, well known southern football coach and official who is a Roanoke man, selected Barnes and Fitzpatrick from a squad of 100 high school football players to make the first trip of the season, the first year they came out for the team. At that time Mr. Williams did not know their names but singled them out as likely prospects. The years have vindicated his judgment.

THRILLING CLASH WON BY TROJANS

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The University of Southern California tonight won the deciding basketball game of a three game series with the University of California 39 to 29, but not before the play went into two extra periods to determine the winner.

Some indication of the nip and tuck battle may be gained from the following period scores: Half time: U. S. C. 17; U. of Calif. 15.

End of regular play: U. S. C. 27; Calif. 27. First five minutes extra play: U. S. C. 29; Calif. 29. Final score: U. S. C. 39; Calif. 29.

TEN-PIN CHAMPS TO GATHER SOON

KANSAS CITY.—(AP)—Interest in bowling is keen in Kansas City this winter, largely because the American Bowling congress will be held here March 5 to April 2. One hundred bowling leagues have been formed in the city. There are 802 teams in all of the leagues, and more than 750 of them already have entered the A. B. C. event.

Bowling has taken a position as one of the important winter sports, as 4,000 persons are participating in league play and many others are in the game for recreation only. Two years ago, Kansas City had 400 teams in 87 leagues. In the winter of 1920-21 there were only three leagues with 20 teams.

SKI-JUMP STARS WILL MEET SOON

MINNEAPOLIS.—(AP)—Minnesota's snowy terrain will be the scene of nine of 23 scheduled ski-jump meetings including the national tournament this winter.

The U. S. ski-jump title will be decided at Red Wing, 40 miles south of Minneapolis, February 5 and 6. Other Minnesota towns slated for regional tournaments are Minneapolis, St. Paul, South St. Paul, Duluth, Hibbing, Coleraine, Ely, Chisholm and Virginia.

The remainder of the 23 events will be held at mid-west and northwestern cities including Berrien Springs, Mich.; Chicago and Rockford, Ill.; Canton, S. D.; Hammond, Ind.; and Madison, Milwaukee, Racine, Chippewa Falls, and Oconomowoc, Wis.

Sports Done Brown

By NORMAN E. BROWN Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to the Statesman.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Lean days are upon the New York Giants. A general discussion here with baseball men brings this conclusion.

Nothing short of a miracle will wrest from the hands of the New York Yankees the monopoly they now hold on baseball interest here in the big town.

The prestige the Giants have held through the years of McGraw's reign has been knocked into a cocked hat—through the fall of McGraw or Stoneham or both to handle the Hornsby situation adroitly, not to say firmly.

The fact that the Giants are now left without a counter attraction for Ruth is an incidental matter compared to the devastation caused by the partial wrecking of the team and the internal strife revealed by the Hornsby deal.

In other words John McGraw, at a time when his baseball acumen and dynamic personality should be coping with the Yankee menace, finds himself under a cloud because of the inability of anyone aboard the Giant bark to explain in lucid, logical fashion, a deal that sent the greatest batter and outstanding star of the National league to a tail-end team "for the good of the team."

that the enthusiasm of American boxing fans over the sport was prompted by their love for cruelty—a sort of sadism.

Benny went on to state that the doctor could not have seen any boxing bouts, holding such a view. He (Benny) went on to point out that the average boxing bout is a contest of science, etc. Great stuff. Column done for the day. No blood shed.

But not nearly as clever a bit of work as Gene Tunney's debate with George Bernard Shaw.

"Delaney Starts Title Chase," is a headline that greets me here. Meaning Jack Delaney, the Canadian sharpshooter, who once held the light heavyweight title.

The headline, announcing Delaney's new effort to win heavyweight attention is new evidence of the popularity he enjoys in New York and the press agenting he has received. But he is no nearer the top of the heavyweight group than he ever was.

Washington, Oregon, and Oregon state joined Montana at the top of the coast conference standings, northern section, as result of victories last week.

Oregon and Oregon state scored each a win over Idaho, and Washington doubled the score on Washington state to win 26 to 13 last night.

Oregon's 29 to 23 victory over Idaho was a bit unexpected as Coach Reinhart has been juggling his line-up in an endeavor to find a combination which proved stable. Oregon State defeated Idaho by a lucky three-point margin as the result of Bill Burr's scoring rally in the last minute of play.

In the southern section, all four teams have tasted defeat at least once. California showed strength by defeating Southern California on Friday, 28 to 18, but the Trojans came back last night to win 39 to 29 in a hectic two overtime periods game. Stanford finally broke into the win column with U. C. L. A. as the victim. The final score was 34 to 27.

Southern California and U. C. L. A. are tied for the leadership with two wins and one defeat each.

CARDS WIN GAME FROM L. A. QUINT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The Cardinal basketballers of Stanford university, coming from behind in the second period with a thrilling rally, wiped out an early lead marked up by the University of California at Los Angeles' cage man, to enter the Pacific coast championship aspirations of the Bruins by chalking up a 34 to 27 triumph here tonight.

The U. C. L. A. players went into the second half, leading 24 to 18, but the sensational shooting of "Chuck" Smalling of football fame, and two midget forwards, Cook and Richards, soon put Stanford in front.

KIDNAPING CASE PROVES HOAX

Viola and Jennie, daughters of Walter Rutewicz, Brooklyn laborer, disappeared without a trace. For three days, police searched in vain. The father was certain the children had been kidnaped. Finally, their brother, Walter, Jr., confessed he had taken his sisters to the home of his fiancée "to teach his father a lesson." Photo shows the father and Viola, left, and Jennie.
