

"DRESS PARADE" FULL OF THRILLS

Many Brilliant Players In
Cast of Splendid West Point Picture

Vic Donovan, an athlete enters in a cross-country race the prize for winning which is a Reo motor car. It is during the progress of this race that Vic meets Janet Cleghorne, daughter of the Commandant of West Point Military Academy. Her charms win him but she snubs him and when he seeks to force his attentions upon her, Stuart Haldane, a cadet, calls him to order, explaining he's not the sort they care for around West Point.

This treatment plagues Vic's vanity and he determines to get into West Point regardless of their opinion of him.

During his training for athletic honors, he studies and, through political influence, wins an appointment to the Academy. On the eve of his professional boxing debut, he announces that he is going to enter West Point, and his manager, Patsy Dugan, almost breaks down. Vic arrives at West Point, accompanied by a group of admirers and reporters.

Vic assumes a patronizing attitude toward West Point. He can't forget that he is Champion Vic Donovan, the idol of the fight fans. However, a summer of "riding" by the upper classes takes most of this out of him. Dusty Dawson, contributing most of it, while Mealy Snodgrass, a fat, serious-faced cadet, shares in the ragging every "plebe" receives. Haldane is on furlough.

Vic frequently meets Janet and despite his boorish exhibition on the first day he saw her, she is attracted to him. A "hop" is staged and Vic falls harder than ever for Janet. While the dance is in progress Haldane returns and is warmly received by Janet. Haldane doesn't speak to Vic and starts off with Janet. Vic doggedly tags along, until they reach Flirtation Walk, where Plebes are not permitted and he is forced to watch his rival walk off with his girl.

Believing he has lost Janet, Vic grows careless. Haldane reproaches him. Vic feels it is prompted by personal animosity and says so. Haldane resents this unfair attitude and, against regulations, agrees to fight Vic. Vic whips Haldane badly.

Vic grows careless in his studies and, reprimanded by the commandant, pleads for another chance. The first year is completed. There is a big hop, attended by Vic's former boxing manager, Patsy Dugan. Haldane proposes to Janet, who refuses him. Haldane kisses her hand and is observed by Vic, who bitterly confides to Patsy his intention of returning to the old life.

Summer maneuvers find Haldane in charge of a patrol with Vic named as contact man for a sham battle. Planning to leave, Vic and Haldane argue over every command. They are so engrossed in their own arguments that they fail to give proper attention to the battle. Haldane falls and wedges his foot between two heavy boulders. Vic laughs and walks on.

The artillery opens fire, and Vic suddenly realizes that Haldane is in the path of the barrage. In spite of the danger, he runs back and finds Haldane almost out from a shrapnel wound. He carries him to safety. A board of inquiry is appointed to look into the matter. Being in charge of the patrol, Haldane is subject to dismissal. He hasn't mentioned Vic's responsibility for the near-disaster, as he realizes he owes him his life.

Janet sends Vic a note explaining the scene he witnessed between her and Haldane, adding that while she will not marry Haldane, she will never marry out of the army. Vic is in a dilemma, realizing that if he permits Haldane to be expelled, he may win Janet, at the cost of his own self-respect. On the other hand, if he owns up to his part in the affair, he will undoubtedly be expelled and lose Janet.

He confesses his guilt to Janet who advises him to make a clean breast of it and take the consequences. He does, and just when he feels sure that expulsion is inevitable, Janet's father yields to her pleas and agrees to give him another chance and sixty hours

VAUDEVILLE BILL SURE TO PLEASE

Sunbeam Follies Only One of Splendid Acts Engaged for One Day

There will be plenty of entertainment at the Capitol theater on Sunday when a splendid vaudeville bill will be staged in addition to the picture "Dress Parade."

On the bill for Sunday only will be staged the following entertaining acts:

Sunbeam Follies, billed as a melodious, musical and dancing quintet, offer a number of crooning melodies varied by violin selections and beautiful fast dancing. There is not a dull moment in the entire presentation. The quintet consists of three men and two girls.

Helen Jussa & company, assisted by Millard McConn and Charles Hart, offer "A Study in Syncopeation," a musical number entirely new to the stage. The act is featured principally by an atmosphere of complete novelty. It is offered by a trio made up of two men and a woman whose talents as entertainers have achieved them a rare distinction.

Orlando is a clever young chap adept at juggling various articles in a pleasing and entertaining way—at the same time keeping up a flow of amusing chatter. Working in a special stage setting that is pleasant to look at, and he keeps you wondering what is coming next.

One act opens with three minutes of talk, then into double song. Tenor solo follows with a Spanish dance with a Spanish song and dance to close. A strictly Castilian atmosphere pervades the number which is offered by William Culver, and entitled "A Cycle of Song and Dance." The pair are full of pep and spirit demonstrating real talent and skill in their renditions.

NETHERLANDS NOW REACHED BY PHONE

The Netherlands is the second continental nation and the sixth foreign nation to be brought within speaking distance of American business and residence telephones according to C. C. Allen, manager of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. Connection will be made via London, as in the case of Brussels and Antwerp last week, using the transatlantic radio telephone link between the two continents. The first connection will be made Monday, January 30.

The hours of operation for transatlantic telephone service to Dutch points will be from 7:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. eastern standard time, the same as that now in use for British and Belgian points. The rate for the Netherlands will be $3.75 higher for three minutes and $1.25 higher for each succeeding minute than the present rates from the United States and Cuba to London. Thus a Portland call for Amsterdam, Rotterdam and The Hague will cost $90.75 for the first three minutes and $26.25 for each minute thereafter. The route traveled by an American-Dutch call will be the same as any other transatlantic call as far as London. From London, however, the call will reach the Dutch subscriber by means of a submarine telephone cable under the North sea, which establishes direct communication between Amsterdam, Rotterdam and The Hague.

The first such cable was laid in June 1922 and the growing traffic between England and the Netherlands has required two additional cables since that date any of which may be used for the American-Dutch call.

In the case of Belgium, telephone connection has been established to the United States within a year's time of the first direct connection between Belgium and the British Isles. Due to the extension of the transatlantic service to two continental nations the American caller can now reach a total of 1,836,500 telephones.

BURNS CASE WEAKENING

Defense Counsel Slowly Breaks
Own Weight of Evidence

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Fighting with their backs to the wall, government counsel Friday saw defense attorneys slowly break down the testimony of William J. McMullin, whose story the prosecutors had expected would go far toward convicting Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and their associates of criminal attempt for shadowing of the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy jury.

Under intense cross examination by Charles A. Douglas, counsel for Burns, McMullin admitted that while employed as a Burns' detective in shadowing the jurors, he faked expense accounts and received more than $100 in a week from this source. He maintained, however, that Charles G. Ruddy, in charge of the Burns' operations, hired by Sinclair, instructed him to put the juror he was shadowing, Norman J. Glascock, "out for a ride" on those occasions.

He admitted however that Ruddy paid the expense accounts and said that he did not divide the money with anyone.

KAISER CELEBRATES

FORMER RULER OF GERMANY
69 YEARS OF AGE

DOORN, Holland, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany celebrated his birthday in quiet fashion yesterday.

A black and white banner of the Hohenzollerns waved above the castle here in honor of the day. There were guests assembled and many flowers were received from all over Europe. But there was little else to mark the day for what it was, the one-time emperor's 69th anniversary.

Wilhelm last evening had as guests various Dutch officials and members of the surrounding nobility. Luncheon was served to the family circle. The former crown prince and members of the family having arrived Thursday night.

Among the guests during the day were Prince Heinrich, Duke and Duchess of Brunswick, Prince Walkampf von Hessen and his lady, Queen Wilhelmina and the lady, Mother Emma sent their congratulations as did nearly all of the German princes. Large numbers of telegrams were received from monarchists circles in Germany and the German colonies.

Recent bereavements suffered by the Princess Hermine, which include the death of her brother, Prince Henry of Reuss, were given as reasons for the quietness of the celebration.

Former Husband of Pearl White Kills Self With Gun

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Wallace McCutchen, 45, former husband of Pearl White, movie actress was found dead in his home here yesterday. A bullet from a small calibre revolver had punctured the brain.

McCutchen, said to be prominent in Long Island, N. Y., social circles, left a note scribbled on the label on a liquor bottle, which read "Have a drink."

In his pocket police found an address book containing the names of several score of prominent movie actors and actresses together with telephone numbers. Among the names were those of Douglas Fairbanks and Owen Moore.

VESSEL RAMS INTO RIVER GRAIN DOCK

British Steamer City of
Osaka Does Big Damage
At Portland

PORTLAND, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Twenty men ran for their lives and damage estimated at many thousands of dollars was done to the Northwestern Grain dock and warehouse in lower Albina last night when the British steamer City of Osaka crashed into the dock.

The grain dock holding 8,000 tons of new wheat valued at about $300,000 towers 150 feet above a gapping hole about 50 feet high, 35 feet wide and 35 feet deep where the nose of the big ship crashed into the building.

The two new elevators in the building, which were installed last summer at huge cost, are said by officials of the Northwestern Dock and Elevator company, owners, to be seriously damaged. It will require one or two months' work before the elevator will be ready to resume operations according to John S. Hanna, superintendent, after a cursory examination of the damage. In the meantime, the huge amount of wheat stored above cannot be moved because of the loss of the elevator equipment.

The gapping hole in the dock and elevator is the worst ever made by a ship out of control in Portland harbor, Tim Abern, engineer for the harbor police stated after visiting the scene. The City of Osaka could not have struck a more vital spot in any elevator than it did in the Northwestern grain dock.

Cause of the accident had not been determined tonight and officers of the ship refused to talk. The opinion was voiced however that there was some misunderstanding of signals between the bridge and the engineroom, whereby the engines continued to drive the vessel forward when they should have driven backward to hold the vessel away from the dock.

Officers of the ship refused tonight to comment on the accident while Captain Herman Fresno, 65 East 71st street, North, Columbia river pilot, who was in charge of the moving of the vessel at the time of the accident bluntly hung up the telephone when asked to give his version.

Captain John Smith is skipper of the vessel. Superintendent Hanna spread the alarm that saved the lives of a number of men just inside the elevator. About 12 longshoremen standing on the dock where the ship struck ran for other parts of the structure when they realized that the vessel was out of control and headed straight at the building.

Damage to the City of Osaka was declared not great by the ship's officers. A few plates for 35 feet or more back from the prow were sprung and paint was scraped off the head end of the vessel.

The report offered the house of commons today after 14 months of public hearings in every province of Canada, stated "smuggling has been greatly facilitated by individuals, firms and corporations carrying on business in certain provinces of Canada as exporters of liquor."
