

MILLION PLANNED FOR OPERA TOUR

Chicago Grand Opera Company Stands Out as One of Great Organizations

Chicago (AP)—The Chicago Grand Opera company with the panoply of its cultural spectacles packed in long lines of railroad freight cars and its stars and multitudinous personnel in three special trains, has begun its 1928 swing across the country.

It will present grand opera in 9 cities in 14 different states from coast to coast, and the expenses underwritten for the tour aggregate $1,200,000.

Boston will be the first stop. January 30, and the troupe will remain there for two weeks.

In this day when the cost of transportation has affected theatrical road traveling the Chicago Opera company stands out as one of the few great touring organizations.

Weeks of preparation preceded the movement of the company. As an opera is sung for the last time in Chicago, the scenery is shunted at once to a baggage car, although the date for moving may be weeks ahead.

The Boston "stand" alone involves $15,000 in railroad fares, $11,000 in excess baggage charges, $12,000 in teaming and labor charges and other items of similar magnitude.

After the Boston engagement the company will sing "Resurrection" in Rochester. From there a jump is made to Akron, Ohio, for a stay of two days. The remainder of the week will be devoted to Detroit, followed by Columbus, Ohio; Chattanooga and Memphis, Tenn.; Tulsa, Okla.; Wichita Falls and San Antonio, Texas; Los Angeles, Fresno, Oakland and Sacramento, Calif.; Seattle, Portland, Denver and Lincoln, Neb., and Minneapolis, from which the company starts home to Chicago on April 2.

Twenty-nine special baggage cars of gargantuan size are required to move the scenery. When the company disbands in Minneapolis most of the principals will hurry east to sail for Europe.

STRANGE CAREER OF FAMOUS INDIAN

(Continued from page 4) my brothers the same opportunity which came to me and they, too, can become useful servants of humanity.

"A few months ago I camped one night with thirty Boy Scouts in Fish Creek canon. We got there after night and pitched our camp. In the morning we found that thirty Apache Indians had been sleeping about a hundred yards from us. Had we known it would have slept as peacefully as we did in our ignorance. For it we would have slept as peacefully as we did in our ignorance. For they were our friends, and in the morning they took up their work of making the roads smooth and safe. It was probably in this same canon that 50 years ago the raid took place in which the little Apache Indian boy was carried away captive by the Pimas. Today this canon is part of the great Apache trail, over which our tourists travel with more safety than they can walk the streets of Chicago at night.

"The road to friendship and cooperation between the Indian and the white man has been a long one and a hard one. There have been many rough spots and many accidents along the way, but it is a road that has become smoother and better with the passing years. It has been lives like Dr. Montezuma's that have helped to make the road a better one to travel.

"There is another element in the Doctor's life of which I would speak. It has to do with his religion. He has no doubt brought up in the nature religion of his people, and he has always kept that natural love for life out-of-doors. As a man in Chicago he was a member of the First Baptist church, and in spite of a busy practice, he had time to do missionary work among the foreign element of that city. He taught a

MOTHER!

Look at Child's Tongue if Sick, Cross, Feverish

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless, "truly laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups

INDIVIDUAL WORK WITH PUPILS PLAN

Modern School System An Expensive Institution; Best Results Needed

By Thomas W. Gosling
MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A modern school system tries to provide the best kind of education for every child. A thoroughly modern system is not planning primarily for groups of children but it is planning the best possible things for each individual child who comes within its care.

Most of the children who come to school have reasonably healthy bodies and minds. These normal most numerous, occupy the major attention of the school. The problem of educating them depends mainly upon providing proper conditions for healthy growth. Good teachers; clean, well-ventilated and well-lighted school buildings; plenty of opportunities for play and recreation; libraries; auditoriums; nature study rooms; music rooms; art rooms; rooms for all types of the industrial arts; all of these make it possible for the normal child to be educated in a normal way.

For certain kinds of children the modern school makes special provisions. It has reading clinics for children who have special difficulty in learning to read, health clinics for all who have any sort of physical defects, open air and nutrition rooms for children who need to be restored to health and strength. It has special teachers for speech defects. It has special schools for the deaf and for the crippled and for those who have defective vision. It has experts in behavior problems so that children who do not behave well are studied with patient, scientific skill instead of being punished as criminals. A modern school system recognizes that the school is not a by-path or a detour, but a part of the main highway of life. Consequently, the school is interested in the child's whole life. It measures the success of its efforts not by the amount of information which it imparts, but by the kind of conduct which it produces. The modern school wants to know whether the things it teaches will make its pupils better able to be good members of families, good neighbors, and good citizens. A modern school system aims to give guidance to children in all of their activities and ambitions. A modern school system is an expensive institution because it costs a great deal more to provide for the welfare of individual children than to take large groups together and to educate them in a mass. A thoroughly modern school system is watchful of its expenditures. It believes, however, that the people are willing to spend money for the best type of service is rendered for every dollar that is collected in taxes.

WHITNEY L. BOISE DOING GREAT WORK

(Continued from page 4) 1900. Since that year he has been engaged in managing his properties. He was closely identified with early civic development in Portland. From 1903 until 1905 he was a member of the executive board of the city of Portland under Mayor Williams. As president of the old Portland East Side Improvement association from 1898 to 1906 he was one of those responsible for filling in the flats on the east side of the river. All buildings from the river bank to Union avenue were once on stilts. He was also chairman of the committee that procured the passage of the present highway act, which has done much in the rebuilding of Oregon. The other members of the committee were L. N. Day, John B. Yeon, Amos Benson, Jay Rowerman and Bruce Dennis.

The Oregon land settlement work of Mr. Boise has attracted such wide attention that he has been named vice president of the Western States Reclamation association, comprising 11 states, and vice president of the Columbia Basin Irrigation league.

FARMERS' SPENDING NEEDS OVERHAULING

(Continued from page 4) ber of farm families concentrating their trade at one accessible trade center; for health, a sufficient number of farm families patronizing one set of health facilities; for education, a sufficient number of farm families sending their children to one school; for religion, a sufficient number of farm families supporting one church.

"A sufficient number of farm families operating together in spending can, at moderate costs per family, enjoy all these items of modern life. The heart of this is the consolidation of present whole income-spending groups of farm families into large enough groups of farm families into large enough groups to provide the adequate volume of business for each unit of operation.

"There is a technique in spending money" the speaker emphasized, "comparable in difficulty with the technique of production and marketing of crops. From a State and national point of view to ignore the technique of income-spending while giving exclusive attention to the technique of income getting is to leave the farmer with little or big incomes in the dilemma of accepting a low standard of living or of leaving farming for the city."

Resume Operations To Raise Sunken Vessel

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Salvage operations on the sunken submarine S-4, which had been held up for some days by cold weather and rough seas were resumed yesterday. New apparatus recently installed on the salvage ship Falcon for drying and warming the air supplied to the divers was tested in actual diving work and proved to be a success, officers said.

Six divers descended to the hull of the S-4. The work was preliminary to preparing the torpedo for unwatering.

Because of the new apparatus no difficulty was experienced in operating the air lines.

INDIVIDUAL WORK WITH PUPILS PLAN

Modern School System An Expensive Institution; Best Results Needed

By Thomas W. Gosling
MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A modern school system tries to provide the best kind of education for every child. A thoroughly modern system is not planning primarily for groups of children but it is planning the best possible things for each individual child who comes within its care.

Most of the children who come to school have reasonably healthy bodies and minds. These normal most numerous, occupy the major attention of the school. The problem of educating them depends mainly upon providing proper conditions for healthy growth. Good teachers; clean, well-ventilated and well-lighted school buildings; plenty of opportunities for play and recreation; libraries; auditoriums; nature study rooms; music rooms; art rooms; rooms for all types of the industrial arts; all of these make it possible for the normal child to be educated in a normal way.

For certain kinds of children the modern school makes special provisions. It has reading clinics for children who have special difficulty in learning to read, health clinics for all who have any sort of physical defects, open air and nutrition rooms for children who need to be restored to health and strength. It has special teachers for speech defects. It has special schools for the deaf and for the crippled and for those who have defective vision. It has experts in behavior problems so that children who do not behave well are studied with patient, scientific skill instead of being punished as criminals. A modern school system recognizes that the school is not a by-path or a detour, but a part of the main highway of life. Consequently, the school is interested in the child's whole life. It measures the success of its efforts not by the amount of information which it imparts, but by the kind of conduct which it produces. The modern school wants to know whether the things it teaches will make its pupils better able to be good members of families, good neighbors, and good citizens. A modern school system aims to give guidance to children in all of their activities and ambitions. A modern school system is an expensive institution because it costs a great deal more to provide for the welfare of individual children than to take large groups together and to educate them in a mass. A thoroughly modern school system is watchful of its expenditures. It believes, however, that the people are willing to spend money for the best type of service is rendered for every dollar that is collected in taxes.

CHICAGO PLANS A BIG EXPOSITION

(Continued from page 4) Grant Park, along the lake front opposite the heart of downtown Chicago, and on a chain of artificial islands that are being constructed in Lake Michigan from Twelfth street to Jackson Park, a distance of seven miles.

All the civic developments in Grant Park will be utilized—Soldiers Field for athletic events; the Chicago Art Institute, the projected $15,000,000 convention hall, which is to be finished by the time of the exposition, and other buildings of a total value of some $100,000,000.

One of the artificial islands, which were projected some time ago as a civic development, has been completed, and the others will be completed in three or four years. They will have a total area of 840 acres.

The stretch of islands will be joined by bridges, and on one of the man-made isles Chicago will be reconstructed as it looked in 1833, with old Fort Dearborn and the huts of the villages set up. C. S. Peterson, city treasurer and vice president of the fair, believes the exposition will pay a profit. He figures there should be at least 50,000,000 paid admissions, which would amount to $20,000,000, and he believes concessions should bring in 40 per cent of that total. The 1893 fair was attended by 27,539,041 persons. Representatives in the United States of Turkey, Norway, Denmark, Germany and Poland already have made inquiries, and as

SILK TRUCKS GUARDED BY INTRICATE SYSTEM

(Continued from page 4) in any way unusual, there would have been instant action. Policemen at cross roads cannot keep an eye on every truck, but when one comes along with the letters "S. A. A." high on the front, it is a signal to the officer: "Watch it! Valuable load carried."

Each police officer in the area knows that the trucks are expected to travel the most direct and frequented routes. If trucks are seen following unusual routes or moving under unusual circumstances, the papers of driver and helper must be examined. Each truck is under the observation of a police officer as often as 7 times in a day.

The driver is photographed, fingerprinted and bonded. Never must the truck be left without

CHAPLAIN IN TWO WARS SPEAKS WEDNESDAY EVE

What is the relation of the church to the institution of war? This question will be discussed Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church by Lieutenant-Colonel W. S. Gilbert formerly of Astoria, one of the most colorful army chaplains in the country.

His appearance in Salem will be under auspices of the Methodist Men's council of the church, and Salem people are invited to attend the interesting lecture.

REPORT MADE ON NAVAL FATALITIES IN AVIATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Eighty per cent of the fatalities in naval aviation since 1921 have been traced directly to personnel. The bureau of aeronautics in making this announcement after an exhaustive study of the causes of airplane accidents said however, that an improvement of 340 per cent in the six years was shown as the result of natural evolution in aviation.

The leading causes of personnel failure were found to be bad judgment and inexperience. The safest procedure for a pilot, the bureau said, is to permit him to fly as frequently as possible.

DEGREE WORK GIVEN

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Jan. 28.—(Special)—Degree staff of the Agate Rebekah Lodge No. 177 of Monmouth, with Ailie Butler, captain of degree staff, took charge of the initiatory degree work Wednesday night at the Falls City lodge, Magnolia Chapter No. 140. Two members received the degree work. Forty members of the Monmouth lodge made the trip.

JOEY SANGER WINS

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Joey Sanger, Milwaukee featherweight made his eastern debut by whipping Sammy Dorfman, local pride, in a ten round match in Madison Square Garden last night. Sanger scaled 127 and Dorfman a pound heavier.

EDUCATOR KILLED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—John Spencer Bassett, 60, of Northampton, Mass., educator and writer, was killed here Friday by a street car.

OPPOSE $3 LICENSE COUNTY JUDGES AGREED ON HIGHWAY SUPPORT

County judges of the state will use every effort to defeat the proposed law providing for a flat license fee of $3 on automobiles, according to announcement made here Saturday by John Siegmund, county judge for Marion county. Mr. Siegmund attended the annual convention of county judges held recently in Portland.

County Judge Siegmund said that enactment of the proposed law would halt all highway construction in Oregon, and reduce the revenue to such an extent that it would not be possible to provide for maintenance. Clubs will be organized in the various counties for the purpose of opposing the proposed legislation.

CANNOT PREVENT CANADIAN FIRM SOLICITING BUSINESS

The state insurance department has no legal authority to prevent a Canadian insurance firm not licensed in the United States from soliciting business in Oregon through the mails, or to regulate such acts on the part of the insurance corporation, according to a legal opinion prepared by the attorney general. The opinion was sought by Clare A. Lee, state insurance commissioner.

LOS ANGELES STAGES RED SCARE, PAPERS SEIZED

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—(AP)—More than 50,000 copies of an alleged communist newspaper were seized and two men arrested here when police raided what they termed communist headquarters. A "gathering of

NEW INCORPORATIONS

The Gail Hotel company, with capital stock of $30,000 and headquarters at Dallas, has been incorporated by C. A. Dunn, Harry Nelligan and Emma Olmstead. Other articles filed in the state corporation department follow: Burns-McIntyre Lumber company, Sandy, $5000; O. G. McIntyre, Edward F. Burns and Mabel McIntyre. General appraisal company.

PORTLAND, $10,000; R. A. DEAN, EARL C. BRONAUH AND ALICE AGLE

Portland, $10,000; R. A. Dean, Earl C. Bronauh and Alice Agle. Automobile Sales, Inc., Bend, $5000; P. F. Beaulieu, A. E. Anderson and D. B. Stuart.

STEPHANIA M. W. KING

Stephania May Warren King was born January 9, 1875. She died at her home after a lingering illness, January 22, 1928.

She was born and lived her entire life in the Waldo Hills. She was the daughter of Henry Warren, deceased, and of Harriet Caroline Warren. She was married to Henry Elmer King, November 13, 1895, and there came into their union nine children, two of whom are deceased.

The following survive her: her husband, Henry Elmer King; sons, Jasper King, Verle King, Edward King; daughters, Zelma King, Mrs. Elsie Tate, Jessie King, Helen King; her mother, Harriet Caroline Warren of Oakland, Cal.; brothers, Charles Warren of Rose Lodge, Oregon; Frank Warren of Dorris, Cal.; Merton Warren of Los Angeles, Cal.; Elvin Warren of Berkeley, Cal.; Harry Warren of Oakland, Cal.; four grandchildren, Frances, Carol, Delbert, and Melvin King of Silverton, Oregon.

Mrs. King was a member of the Tryphena Rebekah lodge, No. 38, of Silverton, also a member of the Marion circle of Silverton, Ore.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. King at the Eckman chapel in Silverton, Ore., January 25, at 1 p. m. Rev. Bennett of the Christian church in Silverton officiating. The Rebekah lodge took charge of the services. Interment followed in the Union Hill cemetery.

SCHAEFER'S HERBAL COUGH SYRUP

One of the Finest Cough syrups made Gives Immediate Relief From Coughing and Throat Irritation Sold only at Schaefer's DRUG STORE 135 N. Com'l St. Phone 197 The Penuisr Agency ORIGINAL YELLOW FRONT

WHEN GLASSES ARE NEEDED

"APPEAL TO O'NEILL" New Location Dr. C. B. O'Neill Fourth Floor First National Bank Building Phone 626

New Spring Suits Tailored for Men

Your choice of over 300 Spring and Summer Suits

Patterns for 1928

$32.50

Made to Measure Guaranteed to Fit

D. H. MOSHER

TAILOR 474 Court St.

GIESE-POWERS January Sale Comes to An End Tuesday Night

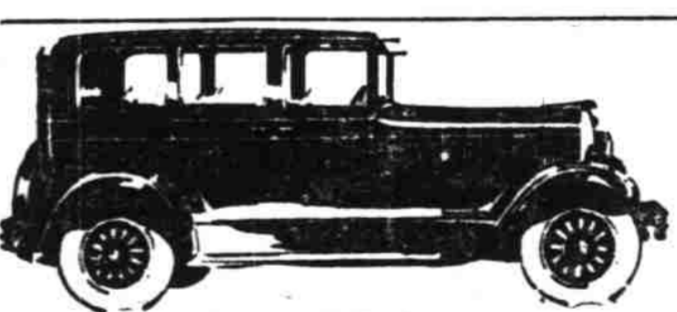

If you need anything in the Furniture Line it will pay you to call and make your selection. A small deposit will hold any merchandise you may select for future delivery.

GIESE-POWERS Furniture Company

Use Your Credit We Charge No Interest

STATESMAN'S

Automobile and Prize Campaign

District 1—First Prize FORD PHAETON Value $500.00

District 2—First Prize FORD PHAETON Value $500.00

Additional Auto Value $500.00

First Grand Prize—Oakland Six Sport Sedan, Value $1343.00

Second Grand Prize—Chrysler "52" 2-Door Sedan 970.00

Radios, Electric Washers, Gold Prizes and Cash Commission— Total Value of All Prizes Over $6000.00

HERE'S THE CAMPAIGN PLAN IN BRIEF

The object of this Prize Campaign is two-fold—to increase the subscription list of The Oregon Statesman; to collect in advance subscription payments from present and new subscribers and at the same time afford our friends and readers an unparalleled opportunity to profit in a big way through their spare time during the next few weeks. It is a plan that works both ways and to the ultimate good of all concerned.

HOW TO ENTER—WHAT TO DO

1. Send in the Nomination Coupon. It counts for 50,000 votes.
2. Clip the 200 vote coupon—collect all of these that you can and get your friends to save them for you.
3. Use the receipt book. As soon as we receive your entry we will send you a receipt book so that you may take subscriptions. Every paid subscription counts for votes according to schedule. You do not have to be a subscriber to The Oregon Statesman to compete.
4. See your friends. Get your friends and acquaintances to subscribe. Also organize them so they will assist you to get subscriptions from their friends.
5. Use the telephone—call up everybody. Tell them you are in the campaign and ask for their support.
6. Once in, stay in. Don't get discouraged or let any one discourage you. Somebody will win the cars. Why not you?
7. Get complete information—call, write, or phone the Contest Editor. The Oregon Statesman, 215 South Commercial Street, Salem, Oregon. Phone 583.

GET BUSY TODAY

Jump in today and put your own town on the map in big red letters by winning one of these big cars. Not luck—not chance—earnest effort alone will win. Test your salesmanship ability. Remember those who start now will have the advantage. Be an early bird! Tuesday, March 20, is only a very short distance ahead. Your hustling ability will place you in the winning list. Drive away, March 20.

NOMINATION COUPON

GOOD FOR 50,000 VOTES Only One Counted to an Entrant

This Nomination Ballot is good for 50,000 votes for the person whose name is written thereon.

Name

Street and Number

Town E. F. D. State

Nominated by

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless, "truly laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Retuse any other kind with contempt.