NOTES OF TRAVEL BY COLONEL HOFER

San Francisco Has a Barber Shop That Has Operated for Sixty Years

Editor Statesman:

San Francisco has a historical barber shop that has operated continuously since the Palace hatel was built in 1868. For 60 years it has shaved presidents, mining, kings and millionaires. In the gay old days high livers, and men! who were theater and opera patrons, shaved twice a day.

The first manicuress was imported from France and charged a dollar. The shave is now 35 cents and some tip. The shop faces on New Montgomery street and is the best equipped shop in the U.S. A. Many of the barbers are personally known to the most prominent men of the city, who call them by their first names. Napoleon said men who were shaved were ruled by others. Those who shaved themselves were rulers. Not so with this shop. It shaves men who are leaders in finance, commerce, and the politics of the west. Coming home soon and Salem good enough

STRAUS MAKES GIFT

Noted Philanthropist Presents $100,000 Sum

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 .- (AP). Nathan Straus, one of America's most famous philanthropists, celebrated his 80th birthday today by contributing $100,000 to the United Palestine Appeal for reconstruction work in the Jewish home-

The contribution increased his total contribution to the cause to more than $1,500,000, including $250,000 for a health center in Jerusalem and $75,000 for a health center in Tel Aviv.

In excellent health and high epirits, he spent the day receiving callers and reading telegraphed congratulations from hosts of friends in all parts of the world A bound volume containing messages from President Coolidge. governors of most of the statee nd men high in every walk of was presented by Herman Bernstein, a friend of long stand-

Other messages came from John D. Rockefeller and George Foster Peabody, both past 80 years and loth toted as philanthropists. Mr. Straus talked with zest t many callers. "Do you know," he said, "the city of New York owes me a dollar" I gave it a milk station for a dollar a year and I haven't yet been paid for this year."

University Day Planned To Be Observed In Salem

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON Eugene, Feb. 1 .- (Special) .- University day, which is to be celebrated in 28 cities of Oregon on Friday, March 23, is attracting attention in social circles in all parts of the state. Already, Miss Maxine Glover, chairman of the committee for Salem, is receiving inquiries regarding this event, which will give each city an opportunity to uphold its support of the state

Miss Glover has selected as her subcommittee, Miss Nancy Thielson and Josephine Albert and Kenneth Allen and Edward Fisher, all students at the university, and arrangements will be completed within the next week.

The committee is planning several surprise features for the dance, and are making every effort to make it one of the outstanding affairs of the social sea-

University day is to be an annual event to give the townspeople and university students an opportunity to meet for a social evening. While the success of this first party requires harder work on the part of the committee than will be required in the future. Miss Glover is confident that Salem will head the list when reports are in.
