

OPPORTUNITY WEEK GOING WITH A RUSH

The Big Prizes in the Auto Contest Will Go To the Hardest Workers

HONOR ROLL TODAY
Mrs. George Tucker
Hazel McMorris
W. L. Wilson
Mrs. Henrietta Martindale

(By the Contest Editor)
Mrs. George Tucker leads the honor roll today. Mrs. Tucker is the wife of George Tucker, the excavation contractor. George is well and favorably known among the building trades. Mrs. Tucker has requested us to notify her friends and the friends of her husband through the columns of our paper that she is making a special effort this week, known as "Opportunity Week," to not only get votes for the grand prizes, but to improve her standing for the radio prize, and she would appreciate it very much, indeed, if they would kindly let her have their subscriptions this week when the vote schedule is the highest.

Nominations Still Open
Nominations are still open in the Statesman Auto Contest and a doubt a number of names will be sent in within the next day or so. It is advisable, though, to get started as soon as possible, and persons contemplating entering should send in their nominations at once.

You have never had an opportunity presented to you before like "Opportunity Week" and prizes big and as easy to secure as you have in this voting contest. We will warrant that you never before had a chance to secure a luxurious motor car without the expenditure of one cent of your money; but that is just what we are offering you in this campaign, and your opportunity to win a car is still here. All that is necessary is that you take advantage of now. Go after one of these cars and go after it strong. Make up your mind that you are going to win and stop for nothing.

It Is For Workers
This campaign is an opportunity for workers. It is an opportunity to get within a very few weeks, something that can only be obtained by months of patient toil. Have you found it altogether easy to save up $1243.00 for some luxury that you have wished for persons who make the best use of their time between now and the end of the campaign, just a few short weeks, are the ones that will rejoice on March 20th. Do you realize it is but a short time away? Can't you see that there is no time for hesitation or delay? The person who hasn't a car this season must jump right into the contest today and toss with the best of our candidates.

Candidates in The Statesman's Big Automobile Campaign, as well as some of those who have not entered or who are already in the contest and have now made even a showing in the race, are busy with pencil and paper these days, figuring out what it would take in subscriptions to acquire the leadership for one of the valuable prize cars, which will soon be awarded to them. Candidates further down the list today, or for that matter, entirely new candidates, may make themselves important factors and probable winners of the radio and grand prizes if they use this "Opportunity Week" to the greatest advantage. Votes are the only thing necessary to win, and they can be secured by energetic work this week.

Teachers' Association Issues First Bulletin

The first issue of the bulletin of the Salem Teachers' association was ready for distribution to the various schools yesterday afternoon. The bulletin, in charge of Mrs. Mildred Daly, Highland street, contains short items of news at the various schools, clippings of interest from different school journals, coming events and hints and helps for teachers. W. Tavenner, assistant principal at the senior high and president of the Salem Teachers' association, in the bulletin's salutation gives its purposes as follows: To broadcast the work of the council, give advance notice of the business of the council, and promote cooperation.

If the innovation meets with success, a regular day of publication will be established. This issue calls attention to Oregon school laws for 1927 stipulating that a portion of the class room work on Monday, February 13, be set aside in observance of Lincoln's birthday, which falls on next Sunday. In keeping with the law, all schools in the Salem system will have appropriate exercises. It also quotes the school law to remind teachers, that on Washington's birthday "not less than one and one half hours of the forenoon of such day shall be set apart and observed in the public school of the state by appropriate exercises and the afternoon of such day shall be a holiday."

It is said that in the new English dictionary which is to appear soon, something like 53 columns are devoted to the word "put." Why not? "Put" is a very important word, so important that it's hard to get politicians to stay that way.

SIDELIGHTS OF THE Stage and Screen

Elsinore Theater
Mary Astor's first departure from her role of the indirect innocent was the indirect innocent of a career of demure and inaction of confining her to her home for several days during the production of "Two Arabian Knights," current at the Elsinore theater.

Her initial sophisticated effort is that of a seductive Oriental beauty. She never before had exposed quite so much of Mary. The costumes were beautiful before the camera, but hardly adequate to withstand the studio drafts and Mary soon was confined to her home with a severe cold.

Now she hopes that the next naughty lady she plays will have a penchant for clothes! William Boyd plays the principal male role in "Two Arabian Knights," a comedy drama of post-war days. Louis Wolheim enacts a character-comedy part as a hard-boiled first sergeant. Ian Keith, well known stage star, Michael Cavitch and DeWitt Jennings head a strong supporting cast. The film was directed by Lewis Milestone.

The story deals with the experiences of a private and first sergeant, sworn enemies, whose paths cross through so many dangerous adventures that they are compelled to become buddies against their will. Escaping from an enemy prison camp in Arab garb, they find themselves transported to Jaffa, in Arabia, in spite of their best efforts to rejoin the American army. Here an Emir's daughter involves the plot and humorous incidents flow rapidly between thrilling experiences.

Capitol Theater
"Sailor Izzy Murphy," a Warner Bros. production, with George Jessel, comes to the Capitol today. Prominent in the cast are the pliant Audrey Ferris, Warner Oland, John Miljan, Otto Lederer, Theodore Lorch and Clara Horton. Henry Lehrman directed the production, which is probably the most hilarious sea story ever done on the screen. It recounts the adventures of a young and amorous perfumery salesman—George Jessel—who, being kicked out by the father of his intended wife, serves papers on her papa, and finds himself suddenly with the two, aboard their yacht, which has been manned by escaped lunatics. He himself pretends to be nutty, in order to get aboard, and then goes through some ludicrously half-raising adventures, among which are being appointed Lord High Admiral, Lord High Executioner and Coal Stoker. Extraordinary! It will get you going.

WILL NORTHWEST TRAIN MINISTERS?

Claims of the Kimball School of Theology To Support In This Field

(The friends of Kimball School of Theology are undertaking a campaign for larger support of this institution. The following is a part of the printed matter that is being prepared for use in the campaign.)

The right of Kimball School of Theology to live and prosper is not well enough understood. This is a regularly constituted seminary of the Methodist Episcopal church, founded twenty-two years ago, in wisdom, love and consecration. Some good friends have expressed surprise on hearing that fifty-eight alumni have gone into active service, and others who have not finished their courses. We are proud of the records made. Ten years ago, March 21, the articles of incorporation were so altered as to change the name from "College" to "School." The charter motive was not disturbed. We read, "The courses of study to be at all times in harmony with the doctrine and policy of the Methodist Episcopal church." We steadfastly believe a seminary should prepare ministers to more efficiently wait on their ministry. This school has ever been loyal to Christ and His church.

We face a new decade with reverent consecration to the task of making better ministers of Jesus Christ, for the great days coming is was Jesus who said, "For this cause came I unto this hour," and in true faith in his mission, he added, "I, if I be lifted up, shall draw all." This consecration still draws with power. We accept a serious commission and are not concerning ourselves with every kind of doctrine. We are grieved for those whose intellectual outlook catches at infidelity, as well as those whose spiritual horizons are befogged by superstitions and prejudice. We stand for the open road of Christian education, believing this to be the King's highway. The apt slogan of Williamette university, is equally applicable to this seminary: "She has kept the faith." Nowhere should such a motto remain indelible more than in a training school for ministers.

Making Ministers Sunday
Ministerial training special Sunday has been assigned to February 19, 26, March 4, 11 or 18. It is hoped that each church in the parsonage conferences will assign one of these Sundays to guarding this front door of the church. By action of the annual conference each church should make this a first claim upon its budget, or take an offering. Whatever the local policy or the conference enactment, it would be helpful if pastors and churches should set aside one of these weeks to a worthy effort toward making good ministers of Jesus Christ.

Puget Sound conference—The amounts suggested by the district superintendents might be met at this time.

Columbia River, Idaho, Montana—The percentages of educational claims could be met and augmented.

Oregon conference—One uniform, conference-wide, list by all the churches would exceed the gifts of any past year and greatly strengthen the school. Contending for the faith and praying for the future minister, with a substantial offering, would quicken any evangelistic effort.

We esteem it an honor to be the first seminary to receive definite support from so large a patronizing territory. Whatever the coming general conference may ask of the church at large, we here have the privilege of setting a new pace of liberal support of seminary training. We believe there is no greater claim on Christendom than the better preparation of its leadership. So we hope no church will be too busy, here and there, to give attention to this spring of

ARMISTICE KISSES

THE VEILED LADY: Am I the first girl you've kissed?
WILLIAM BOYD: Gosh, no; wasn't I in France the day the Armistice was signed?
The cartoon shows William Boyd as one of the "Two Arabian Knights" on an adventure in the seraglio while seeking Mary Astor as the Arabian princess, with whom both he and that other truant Yank, Louis Wolheim, are frantically while hiding from pursuing shikis and enemy secret service men. It is all in the huge post-war comedy spectacle, "Two Arabian Knights" which comes to the Elsinore theater today.

Bolsheviks have been advised in Russia to beware of American workers because they constitute an industrial aristocracy. Of course if the American standard of living was universal the communist leaders would be out of a job.

DON'T STARVE TO END FAT

Few succeed without harm. Try the modern way, embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. The results are seen everywhere. Marmola contains a gland element which helps turn food into fuel and energy. The formula appears in every box, also the reasons for results. Thus you will know how the changes occur without harm.
All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box. Go start it now. Take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. Do this because of the new beauty and vim which Marmola has brought to so many, for so long.
