Honor Roll Today Mae Young Hazel McMorris N. E. Williams D. B. Boydston

(By the Contest Editor.) More concerted action is being manifested on every hand in the Statesman's Automobile contest...

Subscribers and friends are proving more loyal each day, and those who really wish to get ahead and are willing to put forth the effort...

Who is there to say that the Oregon Statesman is not offering you the opportunity of a lifetime? Where else could you spend your spare time as remuneratively?

Subscriptions are to be held out of them. When you total up what a few subscriptions brings in votes, you know that they figure up mighty fast...

Get in Right Now—Today! If you have not sent in your nomination, send it in today and participate in one of the greatest gift-giving campaigns ever inaugurated in Salem...

The office of the campaign department will be open until 8:30 o'clock each evening to issue supplies and give information.

It seems strange that men and women will come to headquarters nominate themselves by signing the nomination blank, take out a receipt book and then apparently drop out of existence...

Talk about opportunity—there never was such an opportunity offered to live wires as exists right now in the Oregon Statesman's $5000.00 "Everybody Wins Something" election.

An absolutely new candidate can enter the lists today, and with some effort, put himself or herself in the running in a real way.

theory that moral standards of the younger generation had shown a change for the better since his own youth. "The kind of person you are depends on your forbears for generation back, just like a plant," he said.

Despite that fit sleep an average of but six hours nightly, he said if he had his life to live again he "would do as I have been doing."

This led to talk of aviation and Mr. Edison vouchsafed that it still was in the experimental stage. In 29 years or so, he said, he might ride in an airplane because "by then they ought to be as safe as steamships."

He was reticent on his experiments with rubber producing vines here but reiterated that he was not attempting to compete with the tropics in rubber growing but only to afford a supply from domestic plants in case of war.

Before the interview Mr. and Mrs. Edison and Harvey S. Firestone were entertained by a group of negro singers who sang old folk songs while gathered around a fountain on the inventor's lawn.

Mr. Edison and Mr. Firestone dined for nearly an hour on a wide range of topics, chief of which was the coming presidential campaign.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—(AP)—Conferees between Secretary Hoover and some of his supporters in Ohio have brought increasing indications that he will announce shortly he is at least a receptive candidate for the republican nomination.

Brown of Toledo, who is assistant secretary of commerce, Representative Burton of Cleveland, who has declared for Hoover, and others he returned tonight to Columbus apparently pleased with the outlook.

SAN FRANCISCO GAVE RICHARD WETJEN, SALEM WRITER, A WONDERFUL RECEPTION

R. M. Hofer, Who Was There, Intimates That Salem Does Not Make Enough Over Such Men as Mr. Wetjen. Our Growing Colony of Writers, Who Are Spreading the Fame of This City Around the World—Mr. Wetjen, in His Present Tour, Is a Sort of Ambassador of Good Will Without Portfolio to the Countries of South America

Editor Statesman: Many Salem citizens wonder at the remarkable growth experienced by our beautiful city, including over the country, however, one cannot help being impressed by the fact that Salem is not exceeded in beauty by any other locality in the United States.

From what used to be called a moss-back community, Salem has developed a constructive spirit of its own and it is known today as one of the most progressive and prosperous localities in the country.

We have gone beyond the purely local field in business, for we have a number of industries which today ship their products to all parts of the United States and, in some cases, to all parts of the world.

The writer recently attended a luncheon in San Francisco given by the McCormick Steamship company to "Dick" Wetjen, one of our residents for some years past.

Who are you pulling for in the next election? the inventor asked me. "I'm for Hoover," Firestone replied, to which Mr. Edison assented.

At the luncheon in question were representatives of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, the large newspapers in San Francisco, magazines, photographic feature service bureaus, writers and business men.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—(AP)—Growers of a dozen states went before the tariff commission today with a plea for a 50 per cent increase in the import on onions.

He said that the western markets had been closed to foreign manufactured products, and that justice demanded that the eastern markets be kept open to American farmers.

Referring to the above Associated Press dispatch, it is not necessary to tell the cherry growers of the Oregon district that the onion growers have a big task before them.

ONION GROWERS WANT HIGHER DUTY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—(AP)—Growers of a dozen states went before the tariff commission today with a plea for a 50 per cent increase in the import on onions.

Senator Gooding declared that the Idaho growers, besides having suffered in the general depression beginning in 1920, were forced to stand severe losses through the competition of foreign onion producers.

He said that the western markets had been closed to foreign manufactured products, and that justice demanded that the eastern markets be kept open to American farmers.

Referring to the above Associated Press dispatch, it is not necessary to tell the cherry growers of the Oregon district that the onion growers have a big task before them.
