

Eight Victor Artists Will Present Splendid Entertainment at Elsinore

VICTOR ARTISTS IN SALEM TODAY

Eight Artists Scheduled To Appear At Elsinore Today and Monday

The first of a long list of super attraction booked to appear during the coming year at the Elsinore stage is "The Eight Victor Artists". Their appearance has been definitely set for today and Monday when they will head Fanchon and Marco's "Ideas of Harmony".

This famous musical organization is known from coast to coast through the medium of their many recordings and their several hundred or more concert appearances throughout the United States and Canada during the past few seasons.

Henry Burr heads the list of artists and is known for his "heart interest" ballads. It was he who back in 1916 conceived the idea of bringing together a group of Victor artists who could travel about the country offering a complete musical program of semi-classical, popular and humorous numbers both vocal and instrumental in solo and concerted form. Since its inception it has year by year grown in popular appeal to such an extent that today the Eight Victor Artists stand second to none of America's musical organizations.

Among the other artists appearing is Billy Murray, known as the funniest man on the phonograph records; then there is Monroe S. Kover, the originator of the "Cotton on the Telephone" records; James Stanley, baritone and one of America's foremost concert singers; Carl Mathieu, lyric tenor; Frank Banta, younger member of the group and a demon at the piano when it comes to rhapsody and jazz; Stanley Baughman, bass and also a pianist of note; and Sam Herman, xylophonist.

The Peerless Quartet which is composed of four members from the Eight Victor Artists, Henry Burr, Carl Mathieu, James Stanley and Stanley Baughman has been singing for the Victor for many years and their appearance on a theatre stage makes musical history in itself. They will offer several of their most popular selections during the course of the program.

From all advance reports on the appearance of these famous artists, Elsinore patrons are assured of a royal musical treat and the engagement should establish new attendance records for the theatre.

KOLB AND DILL COMING HERE SOON

Elsinore Announces One of the Greatest Attractions Ever Presented

Next week everybody's gonna have the Ha-Ha's. For it is the privilege of the Elsinore to announce the greatest attraction ever presented in a motion picture theatre—Kolb and Dill, for Feb. 26-27.

The famous original comedy team will appear in person in their glorious new musical comedy farce "In Algeria" supported by thirty talented performers. There will be two acts and two complete changes of scenery. The first scene takes place in one of the picturesque street cafes of Algeria.

The second scene is a fort of the French Foreign Legion where the two funsters have been railroaded by the authorities, who mistake them for a couple of experienced army officers sent over to aid them against the Rifis. A well-selling novelty by twelve trained beauties, costumed as Legionnaires is one of the novelties of this sketch.

New Snappy tunes, fast peppy dancing, new costumes and new scenes will make this the greatest Kolb and Dill show ever offered on any stage—and at popular prices, too. In fact this will be the first time that this famous team has ever appeared in a motion picture theatre at popular prices.

Kolb and Dill alone would be more than enough to entice the Elsinore patrons to see next week's gigantic show, but that isn't all, for they are bringing with them a big company of players and a bevy of beautiful girls. From the looks of things next week's show is going to be the stage event of the season at the Elsinore.

"FRECKLES" COMES TO EL SINORE TODAY

Most Thrilling of Gene Stratton-Porter's Works Sure To Please

Introducing on the screen the best known book of a famous author—"Freckles," by Gene Stratton-Porter, will open at the Elsinore today.

now today. It is an FBO production made under the direction of Leo Mehan, who has directed many screen successes based on the works of Mrs. Porter. "Freckles" deals with the simple and charming love affair between an orphan boy and a wealthy girl who meet through their mutual love of the great outdoors and the mysteries it presents.

Laid in the Lumberlost Forest, made famous by Mrs. Porter, the thrilling story is presented against a background of woodland dell and giant trees which will appear to every true lover of Nature.

A one-armed boy, an orphan without a friend, is given the hazardous task of guarding the valuable timber in the Lumberlost. Through a marvelous collection of moths he accumulates, he makes the acquaintance of the Bird Women and her daughter, whom he likes to an angel.

The boy's bravery in dangerous situations and several breath-taking encounters and his open-hearted frankness win the respect of the elder woman and the love of the girl, who, when her lover gets in trouble with timber thieves, goes gallantly to his aid.

But the timber guard realizes the difference in station between himself and his love and is afraid to propose. Only an accident in which he almost loses his life to save hers brings them together in a sweet and charming finale.

A remarkable cast was assembled by Mehan to make "Freckles," and it includes John Fox, Jr., Gene Stratton, Hobart Bosworth, Eulalie Jensen, Billy Scott, and Lufe McKee.

EUGENIC PICTURE CALLED VERY BEST

"Are You Fit To Marry?" Coming To Oregon Theatre Today For Run

The picture "Are You Fit To Marry?" which starts a four day run at the Oregon theatre today Feb. 19th, is classed as the best Eugenic picture in the country.

The story was taken from the book "The Black Stock," written by Jack Tait. The entire cast is made up of characters from real life. Doctors, nurses, hospital and even the victims of the coun-try's "greatest Social Disease" save their time willingly for the making of this picture for the sake of humanity and the furtherance of Eugenic education.

Unlike many so-called medical pictures this picture "Are You Fit To Marry?" treats its subject in a very delicate manner so that there is nothing revolting or embarrassing to the audience. Yet the subject matter is too bold for an adult mind. Therefore this picture is being shown to adults only.

A special preview was held a short time ago in Canada for a selected group of professional men and women as well as the head of all the women organizations. Some of the most prominent members present were the Chancellor of the University of British Columbia, a woman judge of the juvenile court, several Reverends and the President of the Canadian Women's Council of Canada.

At the conclusion of the view-ings these people in a body signed an endorsement for this picture. This is not only a precedent but is the first picture of this type that they have ever endorsed.

WATER POWER PLANTS TO BE EYED CLOSELY

Plans for the McKenzie river Lane county.

The plan of Charles H. Lee and Romaine W. Myers to build high dams and other hydro-electric facilities on the Rogue and Illinois rivers, Curry county.

Deschutes Project Named. The Deschutes Falls Power company plan for a 60 foot dam on the Deschutes river in Sherman county.

J. G. Kelly's application to develop power on Marion lake and the north fork of the Santiam river in Marion and Linn counties.

Kelly's plan to develop power on Loon lake and Mill creek in Douglas county.

H. L. Vorse's application to build a power project on the lake branch of the west fork of the Hood river, Eagle creek and Wahtum and Lost lakes in Hood River county.

The streams and lakes affected by these proposed projects and their tributaries include principal spawning areas upon which fish propagation agencies depend for their collections of eggs, the resolution states.

"SORRELL AND SON" FATHER-SON STORY

Story of Devotion Based On Warwick's Novel and Real Picture

Father-and-son love is the theme of "Sorrell and Son," Herbert Brenon's production of Warwick Deering's best-selling novel, made into a United Artists picture, and offered at the Elsinore Theatre Feb. 21-22-23-24-25.

H. B. Warner appears as Stephen Sorrell, and Mickey McBan and Nils Asther enact, respectively, the child Kit and the Matured Kit Sorrell. The notable cast includes Anna Q. Nilsson as Dora Sorrell; Carmel Myers as Florence Palfrey; Norman Trevor as Thomas Roland; Alice Joyce as Molly Roland; and Louis Wolheim as Sergeant Buck.

Much of "Sorrell and Son" was filmed in England and with the aid of the author, Warwick Deering. All of the film "Sorrell and Son" is faithful to the spirit and sense of Warwick Deering's book and the ending of the film is that of the book.

Herbert Brenon, who made "Peter Pan" and "Beau Geste," says that "Sorrell and Son" is his best motion picture. A father himself, Mr. Brenon believes the story of "Sorrell and Son" is that of any father and any son, and that the appeal of the film as entertainment is supplemented by its spiritual effect on men and women who view it.

The story of "Sorrell and Son" is that of a British war veteran whose wife deserts him and his 15-year-old son. The veteran, Captain Stephen Sorrell, M. C., hereafter struggles against ingratitude, poverty, vice and physical exhaustion to rear and educate his beloved son, in whom he is ultimately well pleased.

Intervening with the story of father-and-son devotion are the sub-plots of Stephen Sorrell's friendship with Fanny Garland; Kit Sorrell's love for Molly Roland; Roland's kindness for Stephen Sorrell; Sergeant Duck's enmity for Sorrell; Florence Palfrey's scorn of her drunken husband and angry passion for Captain Sorrell; and Dora Sorrell's bitter struggle to win from her husband the love of their son, Kit.

FINE CLEAN COMEDY OF BUDDIES ABROAD

Cooke and Guard Star In Tale of Second A.E.F.; Real Entertainment

A fine, clean, mirth-provoking comedy—such is the FBO picture of Paris during the American Legion Convention, "Legionnaires in Paris," featuring Al Cooke and Kit Guard, which shows at the Elsinore February 26-27.

Written by Louis Sareck and directed by A. E. Gillstrom, "Legionnaires in Paris" stands out among comedies for the fast moving story which carries Cooke and Guard, as two ex-doughboys, through a series of highly humorous incidents in Paris during the hectic times of the convention.

The story opens with a flashback to the two privates celebrating the Armistice in 1918. Having narrowly averted trouble with the French authorities for beating up a gendarme, they leave France owing never to return. But through an accident, they are elected delegates to the convention nine years later and have not the heart to refuse the honor.

Upon their arrival at La Havre, they are greeted by a group of gendarmes, whom they elude, fearing that they are wanted for their old offense against French civil authority. They lead a merry chase through the gay life of Paris, incidentally rounding up a

MOTHER

A Cross, Sick Child is Constipated! Look at Tongue

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When crossed, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mother can rest easy after giving this harmless, "fruitly laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love. He pleases taste. Full directions for babies, gang of desperate Apaches, and are finally tracked down by the police. But to their surprise they find they are wanted because a French general desires to decorate them for saving his life in battle.

PLANE PLUNGES TO CITY STREET

MACON, Ga., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Running wild after an ill-timed aerial bomb had killed its pilot, and his aviator-passenger, an airplane participating in the southern air derby here plunged 7,000 feet into the heart of the business district here today, killing a pedestrian and seriously injuring two others.

The weight of a noon-day crowd of hundreds of persons who rushed to the wreckage caused the collapse of a concrete sidewalk and the injury of six of the more than a score who were thrown into the basement of a drug store. Buck Steele of Shreveport, La., veteran stunt flier and pilot of the ill-fated craft, and Francis Ashcraft, student aviator of Towanda, Pa., who were in the plane, met death in mid-air when the third bomb they tossed out in an exhibition as part of the carnival, caught in the wings and exploded prematurely.

Several planes were in the air when the crash occurred but only one was flying close enough for fellow airmen to see what happened. Gardner Ragle, its pilot, said the ill-fated plane's first two bombs had exploded without mishap but that the third appeared to have exploded within a few feet of the ship.

DE AUTREMONTS COMING

Wife of Train Bandit Will Live Here With Mother-in-Law

MEDFORD, Ore., Feb. 18.—(AP)—A letter from Mrs. Belle De Autremont of Lakeview, N. M., mother of the three De Autremont brothers serving life sentences at Salem for the Siskiyou tunnel holdup and murders, to a friend in this city, says that with her son, Verne, and Mrs. Ray De Autremont, she will soon establish a home at Salem, Mrs. Ray De Autremont, who recently bore a son to her convict-husband, now at the home of her parents at Hanging Rock, Ohio, will join them as soon as health will permit.

RABBIT SHOW TUESDAY

Table Exhibit Planned by Local Association at Chamber

Between 20 and 25 exhibits will be made. H. E. Osborn of Portland will be here to judge the exhibits.

STATE TO FIGHT BILL INTRODUCED BY HAWLEY

The case was heard by Judge L. H. McMahan, who held against the state. The case is now on appeal in the state supreme court and a decision probably will be handed down next Tuesday.

In case the Hawley amendment is rejected by congress any decision that is handed down by the supreme court in the Marion county proceeding will apply to 17 other Oregon counties which have benefited under the provisions of the refunding act.

It was estimated that the state's share of the refund, based on figures for the year 1926, would aggregate $1,350,000.

CHICK EMBARGO LIFTED

Federal Court at Portland Overrules Dr. Lytle

The state embargo against the importation of baby chicks, hatching eggs or poultry into Oregon except from stock which has been tested and declared to be free of bacillary white diarrhea, has been set aside by the federal court in Portland pending a hearing which has been set for March 5.

A copy of the temporary injunction was served on Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian here Saturday.

The embargo was attacked by the Must Hatch Incubator company of Pealuma, Cal., the largest hatchery in the west. The products of this company were were said to have been excluded from Oregon because of the embargo. Similar injunctions probably will be sought in Washington and Idaho, where embargoes similar to that adopted in Oregon, are in effect.
