CANNOT CHALLENGE JUDGE IN PROBATE

Affidavit of Prejudice Law Does Not Apply, Supreme Court Decides

Probate judges in Oregon may not be challenged under the 1919 law relating to affidavits of prejudice, according to an opinion handed down by the state supreme court here Tuesday.

The opinion was written by Justice Bean in mandamus proceedings filed by Barge E. Leonard, Portland attorney, to require Judge William A. Ekwall, presiding judge of the Multnomah county circuit court, to transfer guardianship proceedings involving Nathan Amus King, alleged incompetent, from the probate court to some other department of the Multnomah county circuit court.

The proceedings were based on an affidavit of prejudice filed against Judge George Tazwell, in charge of the probate court for Multnomah county.

"The circuit judge of Department No. 7 of the circuit court for Multnomah county, when exercising the jurisdiction and performing the general duties of a judge of the circuit court, is subject to the provisions of the affidavit of prejudice law" read the opinion of the supreme court.

"When such judge is sitting as a probate judge and exercising the jurisdiction and authority, in probate and other proceedings, formerly exercised by the county judge, except county business, the affidavit of prejudice law does not apply."

In an opinion modifying the decree of Judge George Tazwell of the Multnomah county circuit court, the state supreme court Tuesday handed down an opinion in which it granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Myrtle Hill, rescinded a property division contract entered into between Mrs. Hill and her husband, S. B. Hill, and decreed to Mrs. Hill a substantial part of her husband's property.

Under the terms of the modified decree Mrs. Hill will receive a one-third interest in two farms and a city lot valued at approximately $50,000, and $1000 all-money. A mortgage debt of $9000 was made an obligation against both Mr. and Mrs. Hill.

Other opinions handed down by the supreme court follow: A. R. Richardson vs Investment company, a corporation, appellant; appeal from Multnomah county; action to recover on contract. Opinion by Justice Belt. Judge John H. Stevenson affirmed with modifications.

Commercial Bank of Omaha vs Benjamin J. Eilers, appellant; appeal from Marion county; action to recover on promissory note. Opinion by Justice Belt. Judge Percy R. Kelly affirmed.

Union Central Life Insurance company, plaintiff and appellant, vs William Kerron, defendant and respondent, John F. Coffman, defendant-appellant, and Portland Trust company and Lida Harrington, defendants; appeal from Washington county; appeal from decree dismissing complaint in suit to foreclose mortgage. Opinion by Justice Belt.

MANY SALES NOTED

CANNERY AT WOODBURN TO INCREASE ACTIVITY

WOODBURN, Feb. 23.—(Special)—For the past few days Woodburn property has been moving quite freely. Last Saturday it was reported that the Dunlap property on the highway was sold to a man from the east. This property is close to the new cannery located here last year. The cannery expects to run a larger crew this year than last. They have disposed of 75 per cent of their last year's pack and expect to clean it all up by May 1 when the cannery opens up again.

Olat Stocker sold his two and one-half acre tract located on the Pacific highway just outside of the city of Woodburn to a party who arrived here from Kansas. This party had been staying here for some time with his old friend, John Fikan, who has a large farm outside of Woodburn. They will take possession of their new home in a few days.

Ernest Parker of The Dalles, a former resident of Woodburn, was here renewing old acquaintances on Sunday. Mr. Parker had just been married to a young lady from Silverton and had a smile and a handshake for everyone. He expects to return to The Dalles the latter part of the week where they will make their home.

GUTHRIES INJURED

WOODBURN YOUTH THROWN THROUGH WINDSHIELD

WOODBURN, Or., Feb. 23.—(Special)—A serious accident occurred on Harrison street Sunday at 3 p. m., in which Tom Guthrie, aged 21, was accidentally run over by young Lytle. It appears that the young men who are chums, were together on West Harrison street at that time and when Lytle attempted to start his machine, Guthrie playfully stepped in front of it.

Lytle could not stop the machine.

Alfred E. Ball, Willamette Law Graduate, Dies In East

Alfred E. Ball, well known in Salem, died in New York February 14, following an operation for an abscess in the head. He was manager of the Alancie hotel at the time of his death. He is the son of George M. Ball, who resides on a ranch near Ballston. Ball resided in Salem a number of years and is a graduate of the school of law at Willamette university.

He left Salem in 1917 to enlist as a lieutenant on a transport between New York and Le Havre, France. After receiving his discharge in 1921, he returned to this city for a short time, and then returned to New York where he accepted a position as assistant superintendent of water transportation in New York City. He later went into the hotel business in which he was engaged at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife and a daughter and his father and brother, Chester, who reside near Ballston.

Rickey Residents Spend Several Days in Portland

RICKEY, Feb. 23.—(Special).—Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Coplinger spent several days in Portland last week.

Mr. Steinkil has disposed of his farm and will move to Salem in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Savage and family of Salem were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Harris.

Tresle Carlson McCully, who lived here for a number of years, has been seriously ill with pneumonia at her home near Aumsville.

Mrs. George Hager spent Saturday afternoon in Salem. Dale and Mildred Magee and Edgar Nicholson of Scotts Mills, were visitors at the M. M. Magee home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Humphreys and Mrs. Wallace visited the school Thursday.

quickly enough, and Guthrie caught by the fenders and the light fixtures of the car, was thrown violently through the windshield. Young Guthrie was severely lacerated. His cheeks were cut open and several bad bruises and cuts on his head and body.

Medical attention was secured at once and for awhile it appeared doubtful if he would recover. At present, however, he is on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hauge of Glasgow, Mont., spent the weekend at the home of his cousin, J. N. Hauge of east Young street. Mr. Hauge is in the bakery business at Glasgow but is expected to sell out and move to the Willamette valley as he is much interested in this part of the country.

Clarence Olson and family of Portland visited at the Knutson home on Sunday.

Mrs. Julia Gullicks has been spending several days with her relatives in Silverton. She returned home Sunday.
