Miss Winifred Byrd Announces Date of Salem Concert as March 29

Music lovers of Salem as well as the other cities and towns of the state will be delighted to learn that Miss Winifred Byrd will play a concert Thursday evening, March 29, at the Capitol theater.

Miss Byrd, who is recognized as one of the foremost pianists of America, canceled her concert engagements in New York and came to Salem to be with her father, Dr. W. H. Byrd, who is now convalescing from a serious illness.

Although Miss Byrd has been urged to appear in practically all of the cities of the Pacific coast, she has accepted no engagements with the exception of the concert which she will play March 29, in Salem.

Interesting Meeting of W. H. M. S. of First Methodist Church

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church enjoyed a very interesting meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors.

Mrs. T. Crozier conducted the devotional service. Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney presented the lesson chapter from the study book, "The Adventure of the Church."

The feature of the afternoon was the delightful travel talk which Mrs. M. C. Findley gave concerning her recent trip to Cuba.

The tea table was unusually lovely. Yellow daffodils were arranged in the center and a bowl of violets and two tall green tapers in crystal holders placed on either side.

Mrs. George H. Alden, president of the Woman's Home Missionary society, and Mrs. M. C. Findley, president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, presided at the serving urns.

The tea committee included Mrs. E. E. Gilbert chairman; Mrs. F. A. Legge, Mrs. Almira E. Hale, Mrs. W. C. Young, Mrs. A. B. Hanson, and Mrs. W. C. Keck.

Fifty members of the society were present for the afternoon.

Mrs. Laban Steeves Hostess at Attractive Bridge Luncheon

One of the most attractive affairs of the week was the bridge luncheon for which Mrs. Laban Steeves was hostess Tuesday afternoon at the EIKS club.

A spring color plan of yellow and green was carried out on the luncheon tables which were centered with tapers in those shades and a low bowl of daffodils and fern. Covers were placed for Mrs. Harry Willett, Mrs. Harry Crawford, and Mrs. James Lewis, special guests; and the following club members: Mrs. M. P. Adams, Mrs. L. D. Brown, Mrs. Lucille Sweeney, Mrs. John W. Orr, Mrs. F. E. Sherwin, Mrs. Sam Laughlin, Mrs. Harold M. Brown, Mrs. George Alexander, and the hostess, Mrs. Steeves.

Several hours of bridge were enjoyed following the luncheon.

The high score prize was won by Mrs. F. E. Sherwin.

Mrs. Lucille Sweeney will entertain the club in a fortnight.

J. S. Club Entertained at Busy Home

The members of the J. S. club were entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Busey.

Lovely baskets of daffodils were arranged about the living rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hansen received the high score prize. Mrs. J. R. Kennedy and Mr. T. W. Davies won the second award.

Mrs. Louise Bechtel assisted Mrs. Hansen in serving the late supper.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Davies, Mrs. Ed Keene, Miss LaVelle Keene, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Louise Bechtel, Mr. and Mrs. John Spong, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Dennis, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Busey.

Judge Percy Kelly Gives Interesting Talk at B. and P. W. Club Meeting

Judge Percy Kelly came from Albany Wednesday evening to address the Business and Professional Women's club at their meeting at the Gray Belle.

In an exceedingly interesting and instructive talk, Judge Kelly explained in detail the jury system tracing its development from the reign of Henry II when the first record of trial by jury is known. He explained all the details of the challenge system of calling the jury.

Judge Kelly said that the point is not whether the jurors know anything of the case for which he has been called or whether he has formed an opinion, but whether he can concentrate his mind on the points which are brought out in the court procedure.

The speakers advocates in cases involving a sum up to $250 to call two jurors to sit with the judge instead of a panel of 12 men, and in cases involving from $250 to $1,000 there should be six men.

If the judge instead of the lawyers would question the jury much time would be saved and needless repetition avoided.

Judge Kelly, however, is not at all in favor of abolishing the jury system for, as he said in conclusion, this is the institution which represents more nearly and more clearly the principles on which our government is founded. The jury is the link between the laity and the law.

A number of new members were formally admitted to club membership at this time. They are: Esther M. Hanson, stenographer in State Highway Department; Sarah E. Atwood, teacher at Highland school; Miss Erma J. Cobb, teacher at State school for the Blind; Miss Naomi E. Cobb, teacher at State school for the Blind; Miss Esther L. Hagedorn, manager of department store, 235 South High street; Miss Ruth Moore, bookkeeper and stenographer; Mrs. Effie Tachanz, teacher, state school for the Blind; and Mrs. Mabel Rutherford of the Oregon Electric depot.

A short business session followed the talk. The club donated $25 to the local Y. W. C. A.

The state convention of Business and Professional Women will be held May 18, 19, and 20, in Roseburg. The national president, Lena Madessin Phillips, will be present.

The next district meeting and dinner of the Oregon Federation will be held at the Portland hotel, March 17.

Reservations should be made with Mrs. Maude Pointer not later than March 15.

Miss Dorothy Neale Povey, Portland president will assist Miss Mabelle Hair, state B. and P. W. president, in conducting the session.

The program will include selections by the Portland B. and P. W. Choral club, with Madame Freda Stjerna, director, and Mrs. Rose Weinberger, accompanist; the roll call of clubs; open forum discussion, a vocal solo by Miss Gladys Collins; and an address on "What a National Organization offers its membership" given by Miss Adella Prichard, national membership chairman.

Nancy Burk, district deputy grand chief, announced that the Pythian Sisters district convention will be held in Salem on April 24.
