Native Songs and Dances Will Be Special Feature of Fine Show

The Portuoff's Russians are heading the Vaudeville bill at Bligh's Capitol today. They are a unique organization of the Vaudeville stage, distinctly different from the majority of two or three a day performers. There are three pretty girls, unusually attractive in their gay costumes, and two talented men in the act. They offer a group of native Russian songs and dances with the accompaniment of their odd shaped Russian string instruments. The man is a feature number with the act.

tainer, with the spirit of comedy night. highly developed. His vocal range is seemingly unlimited if not musical: and as a yodler he is equal to a steam caliope. To show what the human voice can do by way of novelty, Tint will imitate anything from the silent warblings of a gold fish to a sawmill in full tune.

Cecial Byrd is an entertainer De Luxe, using a piano on stage Miss Byrd gives a good account of herself with character numbers interpolated with whistling and comedy. She also has an unusual double voice, singing in both a high clear soprano and equally low full baritone. She has a most engaging personality and enjoys making everyone enjoy themselves.

Bishop, Clarke and McLean offer a varied assortment of entertainment that keeps an audience in constant applause. The numbers include piano selections, song dance numbers. A pretty wardrobe, vocal selections by Miss Clark, dancing by Mr. McLean and piano numbers by Mr. Bishop are lightlights of the act. The trio are all well known radio stars.
