Interesting Work Exhibited By Pupils at Washington School

Mothers and even fathers found time yesterday afternoon to go to the Washington school for the delightful tea given by the pupils of the fourth grade and their teacher, Miss Luella Elrey.

The first four classes of the Washington School have been engaged with the unit of work plan which was sent out by Columbia University and has been taken up in a Salem school for the first time this year.

The pupils of the fourth grade, the first to finish their project, have been studying, living, and having their being in Holland for the past few weeks. These children who have constructed all of the interesting decorations arranged about their classroom, have learned more of Holland life and of the characteristics of the country than most people learn in a year of travel there.

A large windmill, five feet high, constructed of wall board and card board, in colors of orange, blue, and white, stands at the front of the room. Another windmill, three feet in height, occupies a corner.

An attractive border of that country's famous flower, the tulip, has been placed around the walls. A screen of burlap upon which have been placed paper plates painted with Holland scenes is another charming feature of the decorations.

The sand table in a corner of the room has been converted into a section of Holland. The little Hollanders dressed in appropriate costumes, the beds of tulips; the canals and dykes the windmills, and other characteristics of the country have been constructed in careful miniature by the enthusiastic children.

The pupils of the class, of whom there are 30, were dressed in quaint Dutch costumes—the little girls in full skirts of blue, yellow bodies, white, stiffly-starched caps, and wooden shoes; and the little lads in blue pantaloons, black tight caps, and wooden shoes. The children also made their charming costumes as a party of the work—or rather play as it has proved to be.

A short program was given in the afternoon which included Holland songs, songs by the children, and the introduction of the Holland flag.

At the close of the program the guests were served by the pupils with delicious refreshments consisting of hot chocolate with marshmallows, cheese sandwiches, Dutch cookies, and Dutch pastries. The parents and other visitors were seated at card tables centered with low bowls of daffodils, while the children were seated at the desks.

A little boy in Dutch costume, with a dog cart loaded with milk cans, greeted the guests at the outer door.

UNIVERSITY'S GLEE CLUB COMES TODAY

Opens Annual Spring Tour in Salem; "Fools of Fashion" Picture

The University of Oregon men's glee club, one of the outstanding collegiate musical organizations on the Pacific coast, will open its annual spring tour of various cities of the state here today at the Capitol theater in conjunction with the regular feature photograph. It has been the custom of the Oregon singers to travel about the state for at least one week of every year, appearing before crowds which reached a high total of 15,000 last season in a period of six days.

On the tour of the club planned for this season, a three-day appearance has been arranged for the Broadway theater of Portland, where the singers will augment the weekly Fanchon and Marco stage presentation. The club made a tremendous hit with Portland fans last season, breaking the Broadway week-day attendance record.

Although much of the program has long been ready for presentation, John Stark Evans, director, has been working with the musical group particularly hard in the last few days in order to arrange the features so that the entire concert can be compressed into the time requirements.

EIGHTEEN JUNGLE BEAUTIES COMING

"But my wife," said Ruben T. Cohen, as he shifted in his chair, "ain't here."

His companion, Horace G. Boggs, was not above being a trifle trite.

"Neither," said he, "is your old man. Personally, I'm casting all my unofficial votes for that girl who is fourth from the left." He went on to study his subject.

The two men were attending a Fanchon and Marco vaudeville bill, "The Jungle Idea," which is to be seen this week-end at the Elsinore on Sunday and Monday.

It's a fact. There are 18 of the girls—and their beauty has been vouched for by many a reviewer. Race, previous condition of servitude or color has no place here.

Along with them are Callahan and Millar—and the most extraordinary team of Wallace and Sanna.

Nor is that all. Kindly read on and get the idea that Nora Schiller—herself—is promised for the bill. And, in addition, there will be a regular feature picture, for which the management is now scouting.

Altogether—is it not some idea?

The Last of Pyrotol Announced by U.S. Government—

The FIRST Announcement of AGRITOL The NEW Explosive for Land-Clearing. Manufactured by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Inc.

AGRITOL is no more. The supply of war explosives is exhausted from which Pyrotol was made. But there is now ready to use a new land-clearing explosive, AGRITOL, made by the du Pont Company which carried Pyrotol for the Government. AGRITOL can be used stick for stick—the same as Pyrotol.

We have laid in a good stock of Agritol in anticipation of your spring land-clearing needs. Also a fine assortment of blasting accessories—blasting machines, electric blasting caps, leading wire, caps, fuse and cap crimpers. Good blasting caps are especially important. Don't try to use any kind of explosive with poor caps—it's too dangerous and too wasteful.

Advantages of AGRITOL:
Economical because it has more sticks to the pound: About 172 sticks to the 50-lb. case instead of 150 sticks of Pyrotol, or 86 sticks to the 25-lb. case.
Additional Strength: Enough to heave out the large stumps.
Easy and safe to handle: Much less inflammable; resists moisture; and doesn't waste when cut in half or slit for loading.
Equally effective on all agricultural work: Stumping, heaving out boulders, tree-planting and subsoiling.

Prompt delivery of Agritol and blasting accessories. Your phone call starts our truck on its way.
