

THE AUTO CONTEST ENDED LAST NIGHT

Judges Will Canvass Votes and Make Awards On Tuesday Evening

(By the Contest Editor)

The Oregon Statesman's great automobile contest which has been running for several weeks, came to a whirlwind finish at midnight, Tuesday, March 20th. At the closing hour drew near the contestants worked with feverish impetuosity, realizing that their efforts during the last few hours of the contest would probably mean the winning of an automobile. Consequently there was a terrific pulling of votes during the last few hours of the great rush.

The committee of three judges will meet at the Statesman office next Tuesday, March 27th, at 7:30 p. m. to decide on the winners and the winners will be published in The Statesman of Wednesday, March 28.

Thanks to all. The Oregon Statesman desires to take this opportunity to congratulate the candidates and their friends for the splendid work in making the contest the really wonderful success it has been. Competitors and yet kept clean and vigorous and yet friendly, and the contest has gone over in a big way. The contestants have expressed the desire that we thank their friends who co-operated with them by giving them substantial subscriptions and assisting them in their campaign for votes. Without these friends the campaign would not have been the success it was.

The Statesman is proud of the hearty cooperation that has been given in making the campaign one of the most splendid successes of the kind that has ever been conducted. Fairness to everybody was a big factor in this success.

All contestants were on an even basis, and the ultimate winners achieved their victory by having put forth their best efforts. Moreover, the campaign acted as a spur to ambition and proved a very valuable experience to all who took part in it.

During the life of the contest we offered special prizes for the most money collected on subscriptions during certain periods. These prize winners will be announced at the same time as the grand prize winners are announced.

BIRTH RATE SMALL

ALARM FELT AT EMPTY CRADLE IN GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON (AP).—England's empty cradles rank with the prayer book controversy as a subject for discussion in the British press.

The announcement that the British birth rate for 1927 was the lowest in its history provokes gloom in conservative circles, while it is hailed as a good sign by ultra-socialists and birth controllers who are clamoring for fewer and better babies and decrying the campaign for larger families in a country which has extensive unemployment and is urging its excess population to emigrate.

The Daily Express states a view common in upper and middle-class circles when it says the Empire markets are Britain's only hope, and that the empty Dominions must be peopled by a preponderance of the British race.

Alongside appeals for more babies articles appear in the London press deploring the refusal of England's surplus population to go to the colonies and suggestions that many of its 2,000,000 surplus women could find husbands, work and happiness in Canada, Australia and South Africa.

The venerable T. P. O'Connor has created considerable stir by throwing out the suggestion that all boys be compelled to marry at 21 and all girls at 18. This has started statisticians to work and prompted much speculation as to how the Irish publicist and parliamentarian would find husbands for all the girls unless the laws against bigamy be repealed.

The best dressed girl in the neighborhood couldn't be fitted better if she wore nothing but mustard plasters.—Ohio State Journal.

NONSENSE

HEY! DON'T DIVE THERE! IT'S ONLY 2 FT. DEEP!

I GOTTA! I CAN'T SWIM!

I note a sign in an employment agency on West Forty-sixth street. "Wanted," it reads, "a flier to cross Atlantic—$1,000." Business is bad, it appears, when a man is expected to do a Lindbergh for a mere one grand.

National Congressmen To Ride With Lindbergh

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Bolling field this afternoon after ducking a strong head wind since leaving New York this morning.

Ninety members of congress accepted his invitation for a flight over the city today tomorrow and Thursday. The legislators were as-

How Light Underwear Helps Business

Department store managers once viewed with grave concern certain revolutionary tendencies of the times with regard to underwear. People were wearing the same weight of underwear the year round. They bought light-weight stuff for summer and made it do all winter. Somebody had cleverly discovered that it is much less of a nuisance simply to take off a heavy overcoat on entering an overheated home than to change one's underclothes.

And so it came to pass that comparatively few persons flocked to department stores for special seasonal outfits of underwear in spring or fall. In a short time the department store men found that the change in underwear sentiment, instead of proving a curse to

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

By Burton Rascoe

NEW YORK.—A tolerant and amiable attitude on the part of newspaper men is entertained toward the person who manages to get his or her pictures into the newspapers. A group of well-known aviators, including Bellanca, "Doc" Wright and some others, were discussing aviation at Roosevelt Field, when one of the listening reporters suddenly left the group to welcome a pleasant faced, bespectacled gentleman who had just arrived, and brought him into the group.

POLO STAR HURT

AIKEN, S. C., Mar. 20.—(AP)—Devereaux Milburn, international polo player, suffered a fractured shoulder blade in an accident here today.

It is against the rules of the subway companies for newsboys to sell papers on the platforms or in the trains of the company and on several occasions urchins have been arrested for doing so. Newsboys with their arms full of papers are not allowed through the turnstiles. As a result a number of kids have the habit of getting into the crowded stations and digging old newspapers out of the discard cans. These they fold into a semblance of newness and sell to the unsuspecting passengers. I paid a grimy lad three cents for a day-old newspaper yesterday. That kid will go far.

The New Yorker suggests that policemen in the Holland Vehicular tunnel under the Hudson be given brass rings to twirl, which passing motorists many snatch to relieve the monotony of the trip. This idea would perhaps go far toward relieving the feeling of being gypped which must come to those who pay 50 cents to ride through the gloom of the tunnel on a rubber-neck wagon.

Now that the telephone company sanctions the French type of phone, by making one of its own, countless subscribers are clamoring for them. At the present rate of installation, it won't be long before the old upright variety is as rare as tea at a tea dantant. That is as it should be. The continental phone has the American variety licked in every way thinkable. Before the company appeared with their own make, bootleg instruments were sold at very high prices and promptly confiscated by the telephone company wherever found.

HARDING'S ESTATE TO BE PROBED NEXT

Investigation To Be Made To See Whether Teapot Dome Bonds There

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(AP)—Before closing its inquiry into the disposition of the Liberty bond profits of the Continental Trading company, the senate Teapot Dome committee is to investigate the records of the estate of the late President Harding.

In making this announcement today, Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, chairman of the committee, said he did not believe that any of the Continental bonds would be found in the estate, but added:

"There would be a lack of satisfaction if this committee submits a report to the senate without it determines whether there were any Continental bonds involved in the estate of President Harding. "If they are there we are going to tell the world. If they are not there we are going to tell the world. I don't think they are there."

Senator Nye said the present plan was to send an investigator to Marion to check up on the securities which may now be or may have been in the Harding estate. He added that this probably would not be done until early next month, indicating that the investigation is to be continued at least for several weeks more.

President Harding signed the executive order under which Albert E. Fall, as interior secretary, took charge of the naval oil reserves which he leased to Edward L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair early in 1922, after the government recovered the reserves through court action. This order was rescinded by President Coolidge.

During the early days of the senate oil investigation, the commission inquired into the sale of the Marion (Ohio) Star by the late president after there had been sensational reports that some of the profits in the oil deals had been represented in the price paid for the paper. This was vigorously denied by the purchasers and there was no evidence to support the charges.

ACT POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—(AP)—A resolution postponing for one year the coming into force of the national original provision of the immigration act was adopted today by the senate and sent to the house.

THE FIRST SWALLOW

The gorse is yellow on the heath,
The banks with speedwell flowers are gay,
The oaks are budding, and, beneath,
The hawthorn soon will bear the wreath,
The silver wren, of May.

The welcome guest of settled Spring,
The swallow, too, has come at last;
Just at sunset, when thrushes sing,
I saw her dash with rapid wing,
And hailed her as she passed.

Come, summer visitant, attend
To my reed roof your nest of clay,
And let my ear your music catch,
Low twittering underneath the thatch,
At the gray dawn of day.

—Charlotte Smith.
