

HELP GIVEN HEALTH PROGRAM APPROVED

Dr. Courtenay Dinwiddie,
Director of Demonstration
Work, Visitor

That the people of Marion county are cooperating to a particularly gratifying extent with the Marion county health demonstration program, was the expression Thursday of Dr. Courtenay Dinwiddie, director of the child health demonstrations for the Commonwealth Fund who is at the demonstration this week.

Dr. Dinwiddie commended the splendid cooperation of the professional groups in the city, as well as that given by the teachers and the citizens. The local people really want to do their own work and these things which will fit into the needs and desires here, as the visitor put it.

He is particularly enthusiastic about one of the most tangible results of the work here: the decrease in diphtheria deaths from 18 in 1925, when the local unit entered the county, to the single death last year.

In 1925 there were 159 cases of diphtheria in the county, with 18 deaths; in the next year, cases had been cut to 94, with three fatalities; and last year there were only 44 cases. This startling decrease in loss of life and suffering from this disease may be directly traced to the program of immunization which has been carried on by the demonstration.

The diphtheria work is only a small part of the health work carried on, and in the other efforts the visiting doctor sees good results and work which will leave a sound foundation from which the city and county may carry on when the unit's five-year program has been ended.

Among this other activity is lessening of smallpox, sanitation and improvement of the milk supply and the attempts to aid in the building of a vigorous coming generation, through the work with pre-school and school children.

Dr. Dinwiddie, enroute to the coast, visited at Fargo, N. D., where the first health demonstration was opened and which has just finished its program and turned the work over to the city. Fargo is carrying on in fine style and with no excessive expense. The local unit is heading in the same direction, he said.

The Marion county unit is the only one of the four established by the fund that includes any amount of rural territory, the doctor pointed out. Fargo included only the population of the compact city and at Athens, the Georgia center, the situation is similar to that of the unit in Rutherford.

At Athens that all the work taken over the health work, and will have complete charge in another month. A new health department at Rutherford county will take over that center's work in another year.

The visitor made a trip to the communities around Woodburn the fore part of the week, and may visit the work in other towns before leaving Sunday for Chicago where he will give an address before the health conference of the American Medical association.

The director makes two or three tours of the units yearly, his last visit here being in November.

ALL WANT TO HELP DESERVING FAMILY

Maxwell Establishment Will Likely Get Into Right
Zone In Hollywood

During time resurveyed caterer, Marion Oregon, is anxious to establish a chicken dinner and lunch counter establishment in this city. He traded his home and property on 25th street for a lot in Hollywood, owned by contractor Ellis, who also agreed with him to erect a permanent concrete building to house his family and business.

Maxwell, who is a city and county resident, in classifying the building as a "residence" was completed it was found that it strictly speaking the Maxwell building belonged in class "three," as it provided a home for his family on the second floor and the business to be conducted on the first floor. A petition of 58 of Hollywood residents was presented by Maxwell to the zoning commission which was represented by its chairman Mr. Campbell, who is an engineer of the state highway commission. The zoning ordinance provides a fine of $500.00 or imprisonment in the city jail not to exceed six months, or both fine and imprisonment. Each day of violation of the ordinance shall be considered a separate offense. Mr. Maxwell's petition to put his property in the proper zone was laid on the table until the next meeting of the zoning commission and city council next Monday night. In the meantime members of the zoning commission have expressed a desire to help Charlie Maxwell get his business started. The Maxwell family has saved up all his capital to start the business.

his business in Hollywood, which is on the highway and really very much needed, but through the kindly office of Senator Hal D. Patton, who is also a member of the city council, Mr. Maxwell's business has secured financial backing if he can ever get possession of the place under all the technical difficulties one encounters in trying to erect a business building and residence combined. Maxwell is a substantial citizen who has a large family and is one of the best ham and chicken cooks in Oregon and is anxious to get started in his new business and the zoning and city officials are all his friends and friends of his family.

Have Many Friends

One great difficulty in applying the zoning ordinance and avoiding all its technical complications grows out of the fact that Salem has no building code and inspection ordinance and has been trying for two years to enact one in the city council. Charlie Maxwell has more friends than almost any colored man in Oregon and at sessions of the legislature holds the highly honorable position of chief high mucklump of the state house shoe shining parlor, for lawmakers, state officials and lady stenographers. One day at the command of Senator George Joseph he occupied a seat in the state senate that had been assigned to Senator Joe Dunne, and the Senate nearly elected him one of its members as the biggest man in Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell, the latter a vocalist and music teacher, have a family of nine children. The oldest daughter, aged 25, has been a missionary of the African M. E. church for two years. Two of the children are at work away from home. A younger daughter is a violinist in Los Angeles. The children have all attended the Salem public schools and one of the girls is in Willamette university. The rest are in the grade and high schools. The entire family is industrious and all are highly esteemed by Salem people. He conducted a barbecue place on the highway between Salem and Portland, making thousands of friends who will be glad to patronize them. Mr. Maxwell got his ideas of a first-class chicken and ham emporium from Noah's place, well known Virginia sugar cured ham dinner establishment at Burlingame, aristocratic suburb of San Francisco, where hundreds of the finest families, including millionaires, eat chicken and ham dinners, all preserved and served by Noah's family. Noah himself, having been owned as a slave. The Maxwell family are educated Christian people and an institution at the capital of Oregon. When once in operation the Maxwell chicken and ham parlors will attract a great many people to Hollywood.
