Plans Being Completed For National Convention of Women's Clubs

"I am gratified and delighted with the plans of the club women of Texas for the forthcoming convention of the General Federation of Women's club," said Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the general federation, on her arrival in Washington from the west and south, where, according to custom, she visited the convention city of San Antonio and conferred with the chairman of the local biennial board, Mrs. Henry Drought.

"The local biennial board is made up of the leading club women of Texas who have established reputations for efficiency and willingness to give loyal service in the great cause of organized womanhood as exemplified by the general federation of Women's clubs. I was assured by scores of women that every effort was being put forth to make this the best convention ever held by the general federation.

"Without doubt the municipal auditorium where the convention is to be held is the best adapted to our needs of any meeting place we have ever had. I was assured that the use of amplifiers will not be necessary and after trying it out, I believe this is true. The building is ideally arranged for the meeting of small groups and for exhibit purposes. In addition to this the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A. which is opposite the auditorium, has been engaged by the department of education for the school of methods in adult education which will be conducted by Mrs. Elizabeth C. Morris, a nationally known authority on this subject, of Asheville, North Carolina.

"A delightful innovation is being introduced by the local biennial board in its arrangements for the reception to be held in honor of the General Federation. This will be held out of doors in the plaza in front of the auditorium, which will be flooded with light. The program for the opening session, which is essentially a Texas program, but is largely prescribed by precedent, will include addresses of welcome by the chairman of the local biennial board, the president of the state federation, the mayor of the city, and a representative of the local chamber of commerce. To these addresses, the president of the federation will respond, and these will be musical numbers.

Mrs. Drought entertained in her home with a tea during my visit for members of the local biennial board and the city federation of San Antonio gave a luncheon on the roof of the Plaza hotel, which gave opportunity for me to meet more than 300 of the club leaders of the convention city. This was a delightful affair, full of cordiality and friendliness. I have always noticed in my travels in all parts of the country that in no section is there as much made of the children as in the southern states. Conventions and other gatherings never fail to include some interesting feature by children and the luncheon was no exception.

Little girls, each dressed to represent one of the nations whose flag at one time floated over the present state of Texas, presented a little pageant, a verse of explanation was read by one of the club women and each child carried the flag of the nation, later presenting the flag to me as a souvenir of the occasion. The park commission sent me lovely flowers and I was also presented with a framed picture of the beautiful doorway of the Mission Concepcion de Acapulco."

"THE CROWD" HERE SHOWS HERE TODAY

B & C Players Will Present "One Dollar a Week" as Part of Program

It might well be said that King Vidor gives the picturegoers three new things in "The Crowd," his Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture which shows at Elsinore today. Something new in screen drama.

A new Eleanor Boardman in the featured feminine role.

A brand new male lead in James Murray, erstwhile extra man who will never grace the "extra list" again.

"The Crowd" has made James Murray just as a single picture in years gone by has established other screen players.

Eleanor Boardman has done good work before in many Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer productions. She was lovely opposite John Gilbert in "Bardelys, the Magnificent." She was good opposite Charles Ray in "The Auction Block," and she helped carry on with the remainder of the principals in "Exchange of Wives," but she has never before been cast in a role which has permitted her to really show her wide range of acting ability.

A slice of life, served from any one of a hundred cities—served with heart interest—flavored with humor—spiced with humor—a dish of America—one of the most human stories on the screen—that in short, is the essence of King Vidor's "The Crowd."

This photoplay comes very near telling the real history of the life of the great American middle class and it is a genuine "big parade of peace times." The principal characters may be any one of the hundreds of thousands of Americans struggling for a living.

Eleanor Boardman and James Murray have the leading roles, supported by a large cast of popular players.

An added feature for the Elsinore program today will be the presentation of "One Dollar a Week" by the B & C players. This is an exceptionally fine bill and will entertain all.

POLITICS BOOMING AMONG COLLEGIANS

Candidates Being Hustled into Foreground by Frats and Sororities

Students of Willamette university are now turning their attention toward the coming election of student body officers, and politics is beginning to boil more and more as the final date for filling petitions draws near. Midnight Saturday has been designated the final date.

Each year much rivalry is stimulated between the various groups on the campus as the elections draw near, each seeking the election of one of their members to the higher offices, the presidency of the student body and editorship of the Collegian. Having student body officers as members of their fraternity, or sorority is of much assistance at pledge rushing time, and each makes a desperate effort to have its candidate elected.

Joel Berreman student body president two years ago, was the only independent man ever elected to a student body office, since fraternal groups, Charles Redding, member of Alpha Psi Delta social fraternity, has directed student activities for the past year.

HEADLIGHT ON PLOW

THAT IS, ON TRACTOR, FOR PLOWING AT NIGHT

SUNNYSIDE, Apr. 20—Special.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murry entertained as their guests over the week end Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and son of Olympia, Wash.

On account of unfavorable weather a large percentage of the orchards remain unplowed. One energetic grower has equipped his tractor with head lights so that when the weather clears he can plow at night as well as in day.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. King of Walla Walla have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Heckart, Mrs. King is Mr. Heckart's sister. During their stay Mrs. King, Mrs. Heckart and Ray Heckart drove to Butteville.

H. S. Chandler of Lin Water is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Chandler of Sunnyside. On blossom Sunday Mr. Murry of Salem, his daughter Mrs. Elliott of Pittsburg, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Dickson of West Salem and M. S. Chandler of Silverton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Heckart.

Jack Chapman, who scored such a success in the student body play at Salem high, "Smilin' Thru," has a part in the play to be given by the senior class on April 27th. Jack Chapman is the son of Mrs. Warden whose husband is the proprietor of one of the filling diners, member of Alpha Psi Delta social fraternity, has directed student activities for the past year.

Hugh McGilvra, member of Kappa Gamma Rho and registered from Portland as editor of the weekly college publication.

The two probable candidates for presidency are Kenneth Litchfield of Hood River. Litchfield is a letterman in golf and tennis, is now second vice president of the student body, and has been president of his class. It is not certain whether Smullin will be a candidate or not. He is now manager of the Collegian and has been president of his class and of the Cubs.

To date Everett Faber of Central Point is the only candidate for editor of the Collegian. He is a member of Alpha Psi Delta social fraternity and was manager of the publication last year. There is a possible chance of Smullin running for this position instead of for president. The editor of the weekly publication receives a salary of $100 a year, besides a trip to the coast convention of college publication editors.

Two candidates have indicated that they were in the race for editorship of the Wallahull university annual. These are Frank Van Dyke of Medford and George Poor of Hillsboro. Both are members of the Collegian staff and have had experience in this line of work. This position also pays a salary, and a great deal of work is attached to it. Van Dyke is a member of Alpha Psi Delta social fraternity and Poor of the Kappa Gamma Rho.

Candidates for second vice president are Reeve Betts, of Athena, member of Sigma Tau; Paul Geddes, Roseburg, member of Alpha Psi Delta; and Ivan White, Salem, also Alpha Psi Delta. The Epsilon Delta Mu is the only fraternity on the campus that have as yet not entered a candidate for any of the offices, but its members make it a rule to their prospects the last few days.

As a rule women are chosen to the office of first vice president and secretary of the student body. The most probable candidates for first vice president are Jean White, Portland, Beta Chi; Georgia Fairbanks, Pensacola, Florida, Alpha Phi Alpha; Bureva Culbertson, Portland, Delta Phi; and Beulah Launer, Albany Delta Phi.

The only candidates running for secretary are Beatrice Lockhart, Portland, and Beulah Wampler, also of Portland, members of Beta Chi and Delta Phi respectively.

The election will be held in May.

contest conducted at Sunnyside school treated the winning side to a hot dinner. The children prepared the dinner.

Mr. Hoper and son, who are working in the new dormitory at O. A. C., were home over the week end.

The members and friends of the Community club are urged to be present Saturday evening.
