

Delaney Knocked Cold in First Round of Fight With Jack Sharkey

'RAPID OF NORTH' PUT TO SLEEP FAST

BY ALAN J. GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN,
New York, Apr. 30.—(AP)—After having talked and fiddled his way out of the main heavyweight picture for this year, Jack Sharkey suddenly came to life tonight and knocked out Jack Delaney, the one-time rapier of the north, in one minute, 13 seconds of the first round.

Smiling and victorious, Sharkey stepped at his lighter foe at the tap of the gong, had him punch-drunk in less than 30 seconds and on the floor for the first time, taking the count of 10, from as crushing a right hand uppercut as has landed in any ring or on any jaw for several moons.

Delaney Not In It
Delaney didn't land a blow and made only a few faint gestures. The French-Canadian's handsome features were twisted grotesquely and he went to one knee from the effects of the first onslaught of his foe. Wild-eyed and wobbling he struggled to hit feet, only to go down heavily from a smashing right hander. Delaney was able to stagger up at nine but he was "out" on his feet. Sharkey lunged and swung a right uppercut from his heels.

Delaney went down as if hit by an axe, rolled over and squirmed in agonized fashion on his face. Blood poured from his mouth and one ear. They picked the fallen boxer up and carried him to his corner, dead to the world, while the roar of the crowd reverberated to the rafters.

Savior Jack Goes Strong
With nothing particular at stake except to regain some prestige he had scattered to the winds in the winter's elimination tournament, Sharkey fought probably the greatest—certainly the most spectacular—bout of his career. The big Boston sailor, after frittering away in mediocre exhibitions against Tom Heeney and Johnny Risko his chances of going up the heavyweight scale during the winter, suddenly had showed a return to form.

But it is to late now to do him any good this year. After the fight promoter, Tex Rickard, declared it would make no change in his plans for Gene Tunney to fight Heeney in July in the only heavyweight title battle this year.

Blow Causes Sensation
The "sock" that Rickard had been looking for to bolster up his heavyweight extravaganza, the sensational work he had previously expected from this same Sharkey made a belated appearance tonight. Had Sharkey, a few months ago, shown even a portion of the vicious "killer" instinct he exhibited against Delaney the whole complexion of the heavyweight picture would now be different.

"What a wallop that was," said Tex somewhat mournfully, as he referred to the final knockout blow administered to Delaney.

"I haven't seen anything like it since Dempsey was at his best, and old Jack never hit any harder than Sallor Jack."

As Delaney rolled and turned in agony on the floor, spectators feared he was badly injured. Sharkey himself seemed to think so for his first reaction was to cry and look fearfully at his victim. The viciousness was quickly gone, but perhaps Sharkey's tears also were in memory of a lost cause, so far as 1928 is concerned.

Flyers Welcomed
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Apr. 30.—(AP)—Jack Sharkey, silent sailor from Boston, tonight battled Jack Delaney, dulled rapier of the north, in a 15 round match for the consolation prize in Tex Rickard's heavyweight elimination series.

The winner will be first assistant alternate to Johnny Risko, Cleveland baker boy whom Rickard nominated official substitute for the Gene Tunney-Tom Heeney title fracas. Sharkey scaled 192 pounds, 14 more than the Bridgeport warrior.

About 11,000 fans, including Baron Von Huenefeld, Captain Hermann Koehl and Major Fitzmaurice, transatlantic fliers were in attendance.

Oration Tremendous
The fliers—Germans in evening dress and Irishman in trim khaki, nearly stopped the show as they were forced by a terrific ovation to climb into the ring for introduction.

Announcer Joe Humphries raised the hand of each amid the terrific din to signify in the language of the ring that each was victor over the westward passage of the Atlantic.

The three fliers blinked their eyes under the glare of the ring lights, chatted and poked each other in amazement as they looked over the arena and then climbed out of the ring amid the roar of the crowd. Sharkey and Delaney were hardly noticed after that reception when they climbed through the ropes.

Tomorrow Night's Card Will Be Big Attraction

All is in readiness for the triple main event boxing card at the local armory tomorrow night announced Matchmaker Harry Plant last night. Every fighter has been going through the daily workouts and is in first class condition for the fight which will give them a real test as boxers and fighters.

Nearly all of the knuckle swingers will be local boys who have been seen in action in the local armory before.

Much interest has been aroused over the fight in the city during the past week and a good crowd of fight fans is expected to attend. Some of the fighters reside in surrounding towns, which will attract many from out of Salem.

Eddie Graham is training hard for his bout with Jack Boise of Seattle, a Mexican fighter, who is hoped to give Eddie a rub for his money tomorrow night. Eddie is by no means a set up and will put up a good fight, whether he loses or whether he wins. Boise is 24 while Eddie is 17. Willert is also going through strenuous practice each day in preparation for his encounter with Young Yoakley of Albany in their six round event. It will take no few or easy blows to put the battling Pete to the canvas, and Yoakley will have his hands full. Both have been in action here before, so the fans know what to expect—nothing less than a real fight.

"Red" Hayes of Stayton and Terry Killeen of Independence will exchange leather in a six round encounter. This is looked forward with much interest, as both will use every inch of energy before even thinking of losing the fight.

The fighters are still focusing their eyes and interests upon the $10 award by the Boxing commission for the fighter who puts up the best battle judged by the public. It has stimulated much interest in the fights among the fight-cates.

COTTAGE GROVE, April 30.—(Special.)—Piling onto the offerings of Hubbell and Derscham in the fifth inning for ten runs, the Wendling team in the Willamette Valley baseball league evened the series with Cottage Grove in the opening game for this city Sunday, 11 to 6.

The home team outfit Amburn's Wendling club, getting ten safe blows to the visitors' seven, but lost through wild playing in that one disastrous inning. Hubbell and Derscham, the local pitchers, both they also walked six.

The fifth inning was also Cottage Grove's best at bat, three hits and four runs being gathered. Bilderback, who relieved Amburn on the mound for Wendling after this inning, pitched tight ball, allowing no runs and striking out seven Cottage Grove batters in less than four innings.

HASKELL FIGHTER KNOCKED OUT FAST

CHICAGO, April 30.—(AP)—Otto Von Porat of Chicago knocked out Tiny Roebuck of Kansas City, 19 year old former football star of Haskell Institute, in the first round of a scheduled 10 round bout before a capacity crowd of 10,000 in the coliseum tonight.

Von Porat, conceding 61½ pounds to the ponderous Indian, knocked him down twice before he was counted out.

Surviving Roebuck's attack in the first few seconds of the round, Von Porat nipped him with a short right to the jaw and knocked him reeling. A left hook floored him. Roebuck, weighing 249 pounds, hit the floor like he weighed a ton. He struggled to his feet after taking a short count, flew at Von Porat but was nailed again with another right and left to the chin and went down. He started to get up at the count of two and took a position on his right knee, remaining there until counted out.
