

HOSPITAL HERE PUT ON APPROVED LIST

The Salem General hospital which has been completed only recently, received the highest recognition possible to hospitals Tuesday night when it was placed on the fully approved list of standardized hospitals by M. T. MacEachern, M. D., director of hospitals for the American college of surgeons. It meets every requirement of that institution.

For some time has the local hospital been on the list, although certain requirements demanded by the college had not been complied with. These deficiencies have been remedied and now it will be awarded a certificate from the surgical college.

In his speech, Dr. MacEachern told of the progress of hospitals as a whole over the entire country. He brought out the fact that certain principles, common to all institutions should be followed and that now the hospitals were confronted with the problem of standardization.

To date 1400 hospitals from over the entire country have been accepted with some 300 placed upon probation, meaning that they were not up to the requirements of the college. It is only through closer cooperation, consultations, better records and laboratory service that the stay of the patient and death rate have been materially reduced.

In his lecture he declared that no new doctor should be admitted to the hospital immediately, but to allow him to show his ability during the first six months, and then if all goes well, make him a member of the staff. Before admittance their applications must be approved by the executive staff and board of trustees.

HOOVER ASKED TO TELL STORY; AL SMITH NEXT

Hoover asked that it be reported that the manufacturers of China had contributed to his campaign and that for this reason he had permitted Barkley's question.

The secretary of commerce who was on the stand for more than twice as long as any of the other ten candidates for the presidential nominations thus far examined, stated emphatically that he had made no promises of patronage in return for political support.

Resentment Shown "And none will be made during the campaign?" Chairman Steiwer asked.

"Certainly no promises will be made," Hoover said. He started to extend that statement but said he supposed he had better not say any more.

"Go right ahead Mr. Secretary," the chairman said. "We are grateful to you for your cooperation."

"Well, if anyone had suggested that to me outside of an important inquiry," Hoover said, "I would regard it as rather offensive."

Later in the examination the candidate was asked by Senator Barkley whether any idea on the part of some men that they might be members of Hoover's cabinet in the event of his election was to be credited entirely to their own optimism.

Agreeing that this was the situation, Hoover added. "I don't resent you asking that but I rather resent the implication."

The lure of newspaper work has proven stronger than the glamor of the movies for Miss Carolyn Whitney, student at the University of Oregon. Last summer Miss Whitney won the West Coast theater beauty contest in Portland, which included a free trip to Hollywood. While there she was made of the Portland girl, and a movie contract was offered her. She decided to go to the University of Oregon instead, however, and now is a student in the school of journalism.

Fighting Heavy

SHANGHAI, May 9.—(AP)—The Japanese 28th brigade under General Sotoyama bore the brunt of fighting between the Japanese and nationalist forces today. General Sotoyama's brigade came into contact with a force with southerners at Kottien, about 15 miles east of Tainan and disarmed many of them after stubborn resistance.

Later in the day when Sotoyama's forces were returning to Tainan they encountered a powerful force under General Chen Tiao Yuan. Fighting was last reported still in progress with the result unknown.

The Japanese were continuing today their attempts to disarm the nationalist as rapidly as they came in contact with them in the entire Tainan area. The Mikado's forces had occupied the bridge across the Yellow river at Tainan and other strategic points.

Other Battles Light With the exception of the two encounters with Sotoyama's forces, most of the fighting was of a minor nature.

Hawang Fu, nationalist foreign minister, today published in Shanghai his version of the events leading to the hostilities at Tainan. He says that relations between the southerners and the Japanese were most friendly last Thursday morning and that the Japanese were removing the barricades and shops were reopening.

He was greatly surprised Thursday night he said, on returning from General Chiang Kai-Shek's headquarters to find there was shooting going on on all sides.

His statement continues with a narration of efforts to stop the firing and he reiterates the story of the murder and mutilation of the newly appointed Shantung foreign commissioner. He asserts the Japanese were

WILL CONTRACT USE OF PATROL PLANES

Airplane patrol for detection of fire in timbered lands of the northwest will be contracted to commercial flying concerns this year, for the first time in the five years since the inauguration of this type of patrol, F. A. Elliott, state forester, was informed yesterday in a telegram received from the district headquarters of the United States forest service in Portland.

Tentative plans contemplate two planes in the Puget Sound district, one at Portland and one at Wenatchee, Wash. The operations will not begin until July 1 for the reason that the federal appropriation does not become available until that time.

Information received by State Forester Elliott indicated that the patrol would be used in connection with the protection of national forest and adjacent lands. This will permit their use by the state and other cooperative agencies that patrol lands adjacent to the national forests. In areas that are not adjacent to the national forests, state and private agencies cannot use the planes at government expense. In such cases private agencies will be required to pay for the planes at the same rate as is charged the federal government.

Bids will be advertised for 30 days and it was predicted that a large number of airplane concerns would submit proposals. The contracts probably will be awarded early in June.

Bids will be advertised for 30 days and it was predicted that a large number of airplane concerns would submit proposals. The contracts probably will be awarded early in June.

Those desiring to contract the work will be required to bid on the cost per hour for the first 150 hours, the guaranteed minimum, for the next 50 hours above the guaranteed minimum, for the second 50 hours above the guaranteed minimum, and for all time in excess of 250 hours.

The specifications require the contractor to provide airplane pilots for certain specified landing fields, and that one or two serviceable planes, equipped with every kind of necessary device to make flying safe, be provided at the landing fields. The airplanes must be licensed by the secretary of commerce and be operated by pilots holding air transport licenses issued by the government.

Supporters of Watson and other republicans who have lined up in an effort to head off Hoover's nomination for the presidency made much of the point that Hoover had failed to carry the state and that the solid Indiana delegation, under law must support Watson in the national convention until he releases it.

On the other hand the Hoover forces while admitting defeat, stressed the vote their candidate polled, and made the prediction that once the Hoover delegates are released many of them will be found in the Hoover fold.
