

THE OREGON STATESMAN

Issued Daily Except Monday by THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING COMPANY 215 South Commercial Street, Salem, Oregon

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the special news published herein.

BUSINESS OFFICES: Manager Selected Oregon Newspapers—Pacific Coast Representatives—Doty & Hayes, Inc., Portland, Security Bldg.; San Francisco, Sharon Bldg.; Los Angeles, Chamber of Commerce Bldg.

And if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you. So they took the money, and did as they were taught; and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day. Matthew 23:14-15.

CARNATION DAY TOMORROW

"For your letter telling me of the plan of the American War Mothers in connection with the sale of carnations for Mothers' day, I am under obligations. I think the idea an excellent one, particularly in view of its purpose to assist the needy ex-service men. You have my sincere hopes for the fullest measure of success for the enterprise."—Calvin Coolidge.

So wrote the president of the United States endorsing the idea of Carnation day of the American War Mothers— And in Salem tomorrow, and in all the other cities and towns of the United States, carnations will be on sale by voluntary workers, who will turn the money over to banks, to be used by local and state and national chapters of the American War Mothers, and by all the other regularly constituted organizations of the country devoted to assisting the needy ex-service men and women and their families—

Every cent going to such purposes. There are no paid workers—

It is all a work of love and service for the men and women who served their country in the World War.

Jefferson City, Missouri, about half the size of Salem, sent an order for 30,000 carnations to be sold tomorrow! There will be great sums gathered throughout the country—"Great oaks from little acorns grow." It was an idea. It was tried. It brought results. It brings greater amounts each succeeding year. It reaches all the 110,000,000 people of the United States, giving every one an opportunity to give and thus to help, according to his or her ability, and according to his or her sympathy for the needs of those who responded to duty's call, and for many thousands of whom the war is not yet over.

CONGRESSMAN W. C. HAWLEY

Congressman W. C. Hawley does not need any defense against the attacks that are being made upon his efficiency and industry and his record for accomplishments, at the end of the campaign—

Because the people of his district are very largely thinking people; people who read and have kept track of the career of Mr. Hawley—

And they know it is a fact that he is a great national leader; that he stands high among the men regarded in Washington as the big men of congress—

They know he is chairman of the ways and means committee, the most powerful of all the committees of congress—

They know he has secured many millions for Oregon rivers and harbors; for postoffices; for the Salem Indian school; for roads and highways—

That he was one of the originators of the policy of federal aid for road construction, under which Oregon has received great sums; that he was largely responsible for the federal aid for the Roosevelt highway; that he has aided in securing funds for forest roads—

That he has secured funds for Crater Lake national park and is working for the Silver Creek Falls national park, a federal memorial at Champoeg, the Oregon caves, etc., etc.

They know it was his bill that passed granting relief to the counties with O. & C. land grant lands—

That he was the ranking member of the ways and means committee when the present tariff law was being considered, and so performed the heavy work; a stupendous job, and secured protection for our flax and linens and various other products affecting Oregon's well being—

But why continue? Why enumerate things so well known?

Mr. Hawley is one of the ablest men in congress, one of the hardest working members. He is an authority on more things affecting his country and his state than any other single member of congress.

Salem ought to honor such a distinguished and worthy son, instead of allowing him to be discredited, even by persons who know they are grossly misrepresenting the facts.

WHY NOT CHAMPOEG?

(Portland Journal)

There can be no doubt that the meeting at Champoeg saved the Oregon country to the United States.

Because George Rogers Clark is declared, with his frontiersmen, to have saved the Lake states to the American Union; the federal senate has passed a bill to spend $1,750,000 for the erection of a memorial to him in Indiana. The library committee of the house has reported favorably on the bill, with the appropriation cut to $1,000,000.

"It is our judgment that this sum should be expended by the national government," says the report of the committee. "The appropriation can be justified only on the ground that it is a matter of national interest which is to be commemorated," the report adds.

The senate bill went so far as to recommend $200,000 for mural paintings and $225,000 for sculptures, all in commemoration of the fact that, in 1779, Clark and a small band of frontiersmen defeated a force of British near Vincennes, Indiana, where it is planned to erect the great memorial.

As Senator M. A. Miller very properly insisted on a recent visit to Washington, the little band of frontiersmen at Champoeg saved far more territory to the American nation than the area won by the brave band under Mr. Clark.

Why shouldn't congress provide for the Champoeg memorial?

The answer to the above question of the Portland Journal is, that congress should, and no doubt congress will. It is the duty of the newspapers of Oregon, and the people of Oregon, to keep this matter alive and push it to a conclusion, with the active help of the Oregon delegation in congress, which is assured.

Let this be done in time so that the appropriation may be had, and, if possible, the memorial provided, before the 1924 centenary celebration of the coming of the missionaries to the Oregon country.

Would it not be great, too, if the Champoeg highway connecting Portland and Salem could be finished by that time?

The securing of what amount to an option from the state of Oregon for 160 acres of land at $150 an acre, for the proposed airport site, will put that proposition forward very materially, because the proposed site is an ideal one, lying just south of the state highway department shops and adjoining the eastern city limits. It is convenient to the eastern extension of State street; is far enough from the main part of the city, and yet near enough to raise no objections from any section of Salem. The securing of this option, at a very reasonable price, will go far towards causing a favorable vote at next Friday's election. The airport will finally pay for itself. The fees will pay the interest and retire the bonds.

So far as the writer knows, James W. Mott is conducting a clean campaign for the nomination on the Republican ticket for congressman from the First district. Mr. Mott is an able man. He is a Salem boy. Were it not that he is running against W. C. Hawley, whose defeat would be a state as well as a national calamity, the writer would be pleased to support and vote for Mr. Mott. The kind of a campaign Mr. Mott is conducting will leave him in good favor with the people of Oregon. He will make scarcely a dent in the usual sweeping majority for Mr. Hawley. But his defeat will be no disgrace. Some of the biggest men America has produced scored as many defeats as victories, and came up smiling after each one. Mr. Mott is a young man and has a future.

FALLING UPON LAMP CAUSES BAD WOUND

CENTREVIEW, May 10.—(Special)—Vesper Gear had an accident Saturday evening that made it necessary to take her to Silverton for medical aid. She was lighting the Aladdin lamp when she dropped the chimney. In trying to catch it she fell forward onto the broken glass and cut her forehead so badly that four stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Orlando and Waldo Rue played with the stringed quintette at the community evening at Silverton's celebration of National Music week. Roger Comstock read Mayor Barr's proclamation. Mrs. Edson Comstock acted as accompanist for the community singing and for the male quartet.

Ralph Hurst is driving a new Ford coupe. Miss Mildred Haberly, a senior at O. A. C. spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. W. J. Haberly. Mrs. Haberly took her back to her school Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lee Engeman accompanied the Royal Neighbors to Dallas, Thursday. She is a member of the drill team.

Little Janet Comstock, a pupil in the Eugene Field school in Silverton is ill at the home of her parents, with German measles.

Ardis Egan entertained a group of young people from Silverton and Centreview Sunday evening. Music and cards were enjoyed and Mrs. Egan served a lovely lunch at midnight.

Rev. and Mrs. Grambo of Silverton were guests at the K. O. Rue home Wednesday.

George, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Haberly, is ill. He was taken to Silverton Tuesday where the doctor lanced both ears. He is reported to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland of Condon, Oregon are visiting at the home of their granddaughter, Mrs. Fred Finley. Mr. McFarland is recovering from a serious illness, but is gaining every day.

VITAPHONE PROVES REAL ATTRACTION

Premier Showing of "The Jazz Singer" Held at Capitol Theater Last Night

The premier showing of "The Jazz Singer" featuring Al Jolson delighted a large group at the Capitol theater last night and especially was this showing made more enjoyable through the use of the vitaphone which has been recently installed.

For several weeks workmen have been busy at the Capitol theater making the necessary arrangements and installing the equipment or the vitaphone and the movietone. The cost of this additional service for the patrons of the theater totals practically $20,000, however it brings to the Capitol a certain distinction.

Only a very few people were permitted to witness the showing last night, which really assumed the nature of a rehearsal for the new equipment. Everything was carried through flawlessly and many of those in attendance were heard to marvel at the clear reproduction of the songs and conversations. Again and again the audience applauded the singing and especially so in the case of the rendition of the "Mammy" song.

The story of the picture tells the life of a Jewish boy who ran away from his home. His father was the cantor. The boy became a famous jazz singer and in turn a star along Broadway. Then on the evening of the great opening his father is taken ill—he is called home to take the part of the cantor in the services. He answers the call and is taken back into the hearts of his loved ones. "The Jazz Singer" will open today for a seven day showing at the Capitol theater.

HARRIET CAROLINE WARREN

One of California's pioneer warrens, Mrs. Harriet Caroline Warren, of 7812 Holly street, Oakland, California, died at the age of 82 at a local hospital Friday night, May 4. She was the widow of the late Henry Warren. As a girl, Mrs. Warren crossed the continent in a wagon caravan in 1849. Repeatedly attacked by Indians, only at the end of the wagon reached their goal. Her family settled in San Diego and lived there until 1806, when they moved to Marysville. She saw California grow from an outpost of civilization to its present state.

She is survived by five sons, Harry O. Warren of Oakland, James Elvin Warren of Berkeley, Charles M. Warren of Salem, Oregon, Steven F. Warren of Darlington and Merton Warren of Los Angeles. Her only daughter, Mrs. H. E. King died recently. She has twelve grand children and eleven great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held at 1:30 p. m. Monday. Burial will be at Yuba City.

(From Oakland Tribune, May 6, 1928.)

AL G. BARNES SHOW COMING WEDNESDAY

Al G. Barnes' big five ring circus will exhibit in Salem for two performances on Wednesday, May 16 giving two performances, rain or shine, at 2 and 8 p. m. The doors to the main tent will open at 1 and 7 o'clock.

Prior to the doors opening many sensational outside free acts will be offered to the public in front of the all new side show at 12:30 and 6:30 p. m.

Owing to the Al G. Barnes circus being increased so in size this year, it has been found impossible to give any street parade. In cities where the show exhibits, the space that the parade wagons used to take up on the three special trains that it requires to transport this tremendous tented organization, is now occupied with additional cages of rare and costly wild animals. Many new European features have been engaged for this year's tour; all new tents have been ordered, and the circus grounds, located at the high school athletic field, which will be the home of the big circus city during its engagement in Salem will echo with the roar of wild animals, circus bands and the applause of the thousands under the big top.

STATE OFFERS LANDING FIELD SITE FOR CITY

(Continued from page 1)

noon, to make surveys and obtain data from which estimates of the cost of establishing an airport on this site.

Maintenance Offered The committees have already received from a competent pilot, instructor and mechanic, an offer to equip a shop and maintain adequate service for planes at the field, in return for free use of one hanger and of the field for instruction purposes and far the revenue he expects to receive from repair work.

Fees for use of hangers and the landing field would accrue to the city, and the committee estimates that they would be more than sufficient to meet the interest charges and principal retirement payments on the bond issue.

All of the figures with respect to preparing the field and estimated revenue, will be presented to the voters before the election. An old county road crosses the field from north to south, but it is believed there will be no difficulty in securing its vacation, a but would serve no other property but this site.

Read The Classified Ads

STEWART REFUSES TO EXPLAIN STAND

Oil Official Asked to Resign; Won't Say Whether He Will or Not

CHICAGO, May 10.—(AP)—Colonel Robert W. Stewart does not care to inform the public, for the time being at least, as to whether he will comply with John D. Rockefeller's request that he resign as chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

Arriving here today he left his New York train in the south of the city and sought seclusion of his office where for several hours he refused to say anything for publication or even see the newspaper men.

Although he missed the greater number of reporters by getting off at Englewood, instead of going on downtown, he did not escape all.

"Have you a statement to make?" he was asked.

"Nothing to say," he said. "I don't want to say a thing," and his six foot plus swung briskly along the platform.

"Will you call a board of directors' meeting?"

"Can't you understand, I don't want to say anything?"

The formal statement, finally put out by the oil executive whose resignation was sought by Rockefeller following his testimony before the senate investigating committee at Washington, said "any communication from any stockholder of the company is entitled to, and shall receive from me, the most careful consideration."

"The proceedings now pending at Washington make it untimely for me to make any statement to the public at this time, much as I might desire to."

The district attorney at Washington today presented to the grand jury a transcript of Colonel Stewart's testimony before the senate committee and it was believed this was the proceeding to which he referred.

Mr. Rockefeller, in a published statement, said he was asking for Colonel Stewart's resignation because he had "lost confidence in" his leadership. In a letter to the chairman April 27 Mr. Rockefeller called on him to "make good the promise you voluntarily gave me some weeks ago that you would resign at my request."

Colonel Stewart in his last appearance before the senate committee, revealed he had received $759,000 in Liberty bonds or a fourth share in the profits of the Continental Trading company. He said he held them in trust until after the acquittal of Harry F. Sinclair, and they were then delivered to the Standard of Indiana.

Pineapples Now on Way

Fresh pineapples will shortly make their seasonal appearance on the local market, as the first carload is due to reach Portland Saturday afternoon, local wholesalers report. The Hawaiian apples are reported to be exceptionally fine fruits, with prices ranging from $6 to $7.50, according to size and quality.

The week's activities in other fruits is thus reported: California rains caused a setback in the strawberry situation, with berries temporarily scarce and prices higher than last week, now at $2.40 per 12 cup crate and $3.25 for those of 20 cups. Bananas continue to climb, the market gaining strength weekly. An extra fine quality banana is now obtainable. Limes, one of those staple commodities that seldom undergoes price fluctuations, are $2.50 per

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned, by an Order of the County Court of Marion County, State of Oregon, duly made and entered on the 2nd day of May, 1928, was duly appointed Executor of the Estate of Mary Van Patten, deceased, and that he has duly qualified as such. All persons having claims against said Estate are hereby notified to present the same, duly verified as required by law, to the undersigned at 214 Oregon Building, Salem, Oregon, within six months from the date of this notice.

Dated and first published this 4th day of May, 1928. CUYLER VAN PATTEN, Executor of the Estate of Mary A. Van Patten, Deceased. WILLIAM H. TRINDLE, 314 U. S. National Bank, Salem, Oregon, Attorney for Executor. M4-11-18-251*

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has filed in the County Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Marion, his duly verified Final Account, as administrator of the estate of Hattie B. Patterson, deceased, and that said Court has fixed Tuesday, the 29th day of May, 1928, at the hour of ten o'clock A. M. of said day, as the time, and the County Court Room in the County Court House, at Salem, Marion County, Oregon, as the place for hearing said final account and all objections thereto. Dated at Salem, Oregon, this 26th day of May, 1928. J. A. PATTERSON, Administrator of the Estate of Hattie B. Patterson, Deceased. RONALD C. GLOVER, Attorney for Administrator, Salem, Oregon. A27M4-11-18-25 carton, with the wholesale demand picking up.

Nearly every local store now has stocked the new addition to the orange trade, the Valencia. The navel continues to be in evidence, though the season is at an end. Both varieties have advanced during the week, as is usual in the transportation from crop to crop. New prices range 50 cents and $1 higher per case. Apples continue at from $2.25 to $4.00 per box, according to size and variety. Few can boast a consistent good quality now. Florida grapefruit, like apples, continues to hang on although the season is closed. Quality is but fair, with all sizes commanding right around $7 per case.

Arriving here today he left his New York train in the south of the city and sought seclusion of his office where for several hours he refused to say anything for publication or even see the newspaper men.

Dorothy Baker Selected Emerald Society Editor

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, May 10.—(Special)—Appointments for the editorial board of the 1929 Oregon Daily Emerald, student publication at the University of Oregon, have been announced by Arden X. Pangborn, recently elected editor of next year's daily. They are: William Haggerty, Union; Leonard Hagstrom, and Amos Burg, Portland, associate editors; Arthur Schoeni, Medford, managing editor; Carl Gregory, Wallowa, associate managing editor; Joe Pigney, Portland, sports editor; Mel Cohn, Eugene, literary editor; Don Johnston, Eugene, feature editor; Dorothy Baker, Salem, society editor.

LABOR BACKS TEACHERS

Seattle School Board Notified of Central Labor Council's Stand

SEATTLE, May 10.—(AP)—Organized labor threw the gage of battle upon the desk of the Seattle school board last night in declaration of principles which charged members of the board with "unwarranted abuse of power" in refusing to employ high school teachers without the teachers' signatures to special contracts which renounced their right to belong to a union. A copy of the resolution which pledges the aid of organized labor to the cause of the teachers was

THE MORNING ARGUMENT

AUNT HET By Robert Quillen

"Amy got a good man; but he's younger than her, an' five years from now he'll be feelin' sorry for himself an' hinkin' what a good sport he is to be faithful in spite of ever' thing." (Copyright, 1928, Publishers Syndicate.)

POOR PA By Claude Callan

"Nora has a feelin' that she's a little inferior to her husband an' she treats him mean to try to show him she ain't." (Copyright, 1928, Publishers Syndicate.)

directed sent to each of the board's five members.

In adopting the resolution without a dissenting vote, the central labor council, representing 35,000 men and women workers, announces its purpose to stand solidly behind the union teachers when the issue comes up in superior court Friday. Under a restraining order granted to counsel employed by agents of the labor council, the school board is directed to appear in court and show cause why it should not be altogether restrained by injunction from refusing to employ union teachers.

TILDEN AT ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—(AP)—William T. Tilden, II, of Philadelphia, captain of America's Davis cup squad, accompanied by George M. Lott and Arnold W. Jones, both of Chicago, arrived today for the Davis cup trials starting here May 17.

Read The Classified Ads

Advertisement for Becke & Hendricks insurance. Includes text: "THIS GUY - IN THE HAND OF A HOLD-UP MAN OR BURGLAR MAY MATERIALLY ASSIST IN RELIEVING YOU OF YOUR VALUABLES - YOU SHOULD CARRY BURGLARY INSURANCE - THE PRICE IS QUITE LOW - WE SELL IT". Logo of a revolver.

Advertisement for Larmer Transfer & Storage. Includes text: "Moving & Storage", "Remember the Larmer Transfer and Storage has moving vans and good supply of blankets and pads for furniture handlers.", "Have just completed our new three story concrete warehouse and are now well prepared to handle best of furniture and pianos.", "When ready call 930 and let us serve you.", "Larmer Transfer & Storage SALEM, OREGON". Logo of a man carrying a barrel.

Advertisement for The Statesman Publishing Co. Includes text: "BLANKS THAT ARE LEGAL", "We carry in stock over 115 legal blanks suited to most any business transactions. We may have just the form you are looking for at a big saving as compared to made to order forms.", "Some of the forms: Contract of Sale, Road Notes, Will Forms, Assignment of Mortgage, Mortgage forms, Quit Claim Deeds, Abstract forms, Bill of Sale, Building Contract, Promissory Notes, Installment Notes, General Lease, Power of Attorney, Prune Books and Pads, Scale Receipts, etc. These forms are carefully prepared for the courts and private use. Price on forms range from 4 cents to 16 cents apiece, and on note books from 25 to 50 cents.", "PRINTED AND FOR SALE BY The Statesman Publishing Co. LEGAL BLANK HEADQUARTERS At Business Office, Ground Floor".