THE HEATING PLANT

In this building was designed and installed by
THEO. M. BARR

Well known Plumbing and Heating Engineer

It is one of the most modern plants in the city. The rooms are warmed by means of the latest type Corto radiators heated by forced circulating hot water. The heating boiler is one of Mr. Barr's own design heated by a Williams—

OIL-O-MATIC OIL BURNER

The entire plant is automatic operating on a temperature difference of two degrees. The Oil-O-Matic is also controlled by a Jewelled Clock which starts the burner in the morning and turns it off for the night. The Plant also provides automatic hot water for domestic purpose in summer and winter. Therefore provides two of the greatest comforts for tenants, namely comfortable warm rooms and plenty of hot water.

The apartments are arranged for the utmost convenience, this being made possibly by the ideal proportions of the building. There is an automatic elevator, and the apartments are equipped with conveniences which are entirely new to apartment construction in Salem, some of these being individual stall showers in some of the apartments—there are showers, in all of them—and tile sinks.

There is a modernly equipped laundry, with an electric washer and electric mangle.

Mr. Hallberg, the builder and proprietor, has been engaged in construction work here for years, one of his larger projects being the Richmond addition, which he platted and in which he built 30 homes.

Firms which had a part in providing materials or in construction of the building, include Theo. M. Barr, who was in charge of tinning and put in the heating plant; The Electric Fixture & Supply company, which installed the electric wiring; the Stiff Furniture company, which provided all of the furniture; the Salem Hardware company which furnished all of the hardware; the W. W. Rosebraugh company, which furnished the iron work, including fire escapes, etc.; the C. S. Hamilton Furniture company, which supplied the carpets and electric refrigeration equipment; the Spaulding Logging company, the lumber and all building materials; and the Portland Electric Power company, which installed the Hot-point electric ranges.
