State Convention of Business and Professional Women Will Open Today

Members of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs will gather from all parts of the state for the annual convention at Roseburg, May 18, 19 and 20, and between 200 and 300 are expected to be in attendance, it is announced by Miss Mozelle Hair, state president. Mrs. Emily Howard, president of the Salem club, will be one of the speakers on the program, and several members from Salem are expected to attend.

Outstanding speakers on the extensive and interesting program will be Miss Lena Madelin Phillips, head of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, and Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon. Miss Phillips, who is a prominent lawyer of New York, is a dynamic speaker, a woman of charming personality, and is highly qualified for her important office in the organization.

Dr. Hall has chosen for his topic "America and World Politics." Dr. Hall is regarded as an authority in this field and has written and spoken extensively on allied topics. He holds membership at present in the Institute of Pacific Relations, the Social Science Research council, the National Crime commission, and similar organizations. He has written on "The Monroe Doctrine," and "Popular Government" among other topics.

President Hall's zeal for encouraging the study of politics, especially in world matters, has already made itself felt throughout the northwest. He recently delivered the leading address at the district convention of Rotary International at Seattle. He has also urged research along a variety of lines in this field, and his program is being recognized by leading educators and industrial heads in the west.

Some of the features planned for the visitors at Roseburg include the Emblem breakfast at the Umpqua hotel Saturday morning, the state Federation luncheon at noon, the National Federation banquet in the evening, and several events on Sunday.

People of Roseburg are already making preparations to entertain the club members in a variety of ways, and an interesting season is assured all club women who attend.

Farewell Reception Honors Rev. and Mrs. Culver and Rev. and Mrs. Lovell

One of the outstanding events of the week was the farewell reception given Monday evening in the First Evangelical church parlor honoring Rev. and Mrs. F. L. Culver and Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Lovell.

Rev. Culver has served the local church for the past two years but was given a higher position as presiding elder at the last session of the Oregon conference. He, with his estimable companion, was here long enough to not only get into the homes but also the hearts of the people whom he so faithfully served.

Rev. Lovell and his family have made their home in Salem for the past 19 years. Three years of that time they were at the Willamette Boulevard church in Portland where they were again stationed at the last conference session. Rev. Lovell has served as presiding elder for the past eight years. They will be greatly missed from their congregation. Mrs. Lovell was especially active in all departments of the work of the church. No task was too difficult for her to undertake. Clinton Lovell was a member of the Sunday school orchestra.

Covers were placed for 160 at long tables which were beautifully decorated with carnations, geraniums and ferns. At the guest table in the center of the room were seated Rev. and Mrs. Culver, Rev. and Mrs. Lovell, James and Margaret Lovell, Mrs. Heckman, J. P. Ulrich, church treasurer; Mrs. Ulrich, president of the ladies' aid; George N. Thompson, class leader; Mrs. Thompson, president of the Woman's Missionary society; and L. K. Thornton, superintendent of the Sunday school.

A program of instrumental and vocal music was given by the young people. Those taking part were Olive Shirts, pianist; Helen Rex, Lawrence Maves, Stanley Javes, and Reuben Hilfiker.

Mr. Thornton, Mr. Ulrich, Rev. and Mrs. Lovell, Mrs. Bays, and Rev. Culver each spoke briefly.

The Culvers left Tuesday evening for their new home in Portland where Rev. Culver will preside over the Portland-Puget Sound district.

The Lovells will remain in Salem until the close of the school year.

TEACHERS WIN SKIRMISH

No Testimony Introduced by School Board in Seattle

SEATTLE, May 17.—(AP)—Testimony was closed Wednesday in the suit brought by Seattle high school teachers for an injunction restraining the school board from denying employment to union members.

The school board had no evidence, its attorneys resting upon the contention that the board is the sole judge of the qualifications of the teachers it employs, and that the public has recourse only at the polls to register its disapproval of their action by electing new members to the board.

The teachers, on the other hand, based their case upon their assertion that the school board lacked the right to deny employment to anyone because of his affiliation with a certain type of organization.

Superior Judge Howard M. Findley will make his decision Saturday after listening to arguments.

PEACE HONORS OPPOSED

Spectacular Stunts More Praised Than War Fighting

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—A proposal to authorize the award of the distinguished flying cross to the army round the world fliers failed Wednesday in the house and brought the declaration by two members that the American peace time aviators were receiving more honors than the world war pilots.

Representative Hill of Alabama endeavored to attach the proposal to award the medals to Lieutenants Lowell Smith, Eric Nelson and John Harding, who made an attempt, as an amendment to senate measure to grant flying pay to the pioneer army aviators who were flying prior to 1914. The measure was passed and now goes to President Coolidge. The pioneer aviators did not receive the present army flying bonus from 1914 to 1917.

Representative Reece, republican, Tennessee, a world war veteran, opposed the move, declaring the "American war aces have never received these awards while peace time fliers are loaded down with honors."

WIFE FED WITH CHICKS

Hubby Treats Her Rough; Keeps Her Cooped up in Shed

WAUKEGAN, Ill., May 17.—(AP)—John Gragietas, 70, was arrested here after an investigation had found his wife, about 60 years old, living in want in a shed adjoining a chicken coop on their farm near here where she said her husband had kept her a virtual prisoner for the past six months.

Mrs. Gragietas said her husband had kept her in the shed last December after a quarrel and throughout the winter forced her to remain there. She slept on a cot and cooked what scraps of food he threw out to her, she said. When found she was in tatters and humane officers said her health is impaired.

CAROLINA UPON DRY LIST

Democratic Convention Fails to Instruct Against Smith

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 17.—(AP)—A resolution to instruct South Carolina's 18 delegates to Houston against Governor Smith of New York was defeated here at the state democratic convention by a vote of 190 to 147.

The convention voted to instruct the delegates to support a dry candidate and work for a dry plank in the national platform. The unit voting plan and the two third rule were endorsed.

A move to nullify the state rule for support of the party's presidential nominee was defeated 194 to 147. The vote was preceded by a physical clash between former Governor John Gary Evans and Colonel Edgar D. Brown, a former speaker of the state house of representatives.

Brown defended the rule and attacked his opponents as persons seeking to break down the democratic party in South Carolina.

"You're already in the republican party," shouted Evans.

"You're a liar," retorted Brown. Flats flew but the men were quickly separated.

FARMER' UNION ELECTS

The Dalles Man Chosen Head of State Organization

COTTAGE GROVE, May 17.—(AP)—H. R. Richards of The Dalles Will again head the farmers' union of Oregon. He was re-elected president of the organization in convention Wednesday, as were all other officers. H. B.

McBee of Dallas, was re-elected vice president; Mrs. G. B. Jones, Monmouth, secretary-treasurer, and A. S. Roberts, The Dalles, chaplain.

The taxation committee, headed by A. S. Roberts, today presented a plan which followed a statement that the present tax on property has become "unbearable." The Roberts plan includes a graduated income tax, a tax on intangibles, a severance tax, perpetuation of the 6 per cent tax limitation, and appropriations by the federal government to cover what government lands would pay if privately owned.

Wasco county was selected for the 1923 convention, with either The Dalles or Dufur to be the convention city.

A. R. Shumway, former president of the organization, in a speech at banquet Tuesday night, declared Hoover was out of sympathy with the farmer, and praised Lowden as the hope of the agricultural interests.
