"The House That Service Built"

Bits For Breakfast

Beautiful for weather—That was the general remark of the crowds yesterday.

Many hundreds of visitors from out of town points and long distances were in Salem yesterday, decorating the graves of their loved ones gone before. The Odd Fellows and Lee Mission and Catholic cemeteries are old and contain the graves of people from pioneer times, and their relatives and friends have scattered over a wide space. Thus Memorial day observances here bring many pilgrimages from far places.

The Boy Scouts are deserving of praise for the manner in which they performed their duties yesterday, policing the streets; directing the traffic, and giving general friendly service and direction to the many visitors. Some one remarked that these boys never get half enough praise. They work for nothing, and do it willingly and cheerfully. This is a part of their training. Each one is supposed to do at least one deed of kindly service each day. Do we all perform our parts as well?

Some German has thought up an airship in which he proposes to soar aloft above the air zone, hang there while the earth turns beneath him until the place he wants comes along, and then drop down on it. Do you reckon that fellow ever tried dropping from a railroad bridge onto a fast freight?

A Kansas woman, caught with 30 gallons of booze, explained that it was for her own use. Evidently she was going to make some old-fashioned mince pies.

News note: "Miss Alice Wadhams won a prize by lighting 21 candles with one match." Yes, it happened in Scotland.

"Intellect," says Dr. Will Durant, "is always dangerous in a woman." Dangerous to whom?

QUIZ WILL BRANCH OUT

Senate Campaign Funds Group Continues Investigations

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(AP)—In order to fully cover the wide area it has plotted in its investigation of expenditures in the presidential pre-convention campaigns, the senate inquiry committee will branch out Friday in two directions.

Two members will go to Cincinnati tomorrow night and two others will leave for New York City. Still another sub-committee may go into Indiana to look more deeply into the campaign of Senator Watson, republican, of that state, but final decision was deferred today.

The Ohio inquiry will concern expenditures on behalf of Herbert Hoover and those for the late Senator Willis, his opponent. Excursions to Ohio cities other than Cincinnati will depend on information received from witnesses. The New York trip again will concern the Governor Smith campaign.

FIRE HITS RIFLE RANGE

Marines Stationed at San Diego Called to Fight Flame

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 30.—(AP)—All available marines on service here were called out late today to help put out a fierce brush fire which started near the marine rifle range near La Jolla. At 4 p. m. the flames had swept over more than 400 acres and had burned many trees on city land.

MEMORIAL DAY SHOWS NATION NOT FORGETFUL

Justice Rossman touched lightly upon the outstanding heroes of the nation's history, without reference to whom, he said, no commemoration is complete: Abraham Lincoln, great figure of the civil war and typical American, author of the emancipation proclamation and with whom is associated General John Logan's memorial day order of May 10, 1863; McKinley, from whose presidential regime came Spanish American war veterans; Woodrow Wilson, president when America's most recent heroes marched to battle.

Fought For Right

And all these soldiers the Justice emphasized, were sent into war, not for greedy or selfish motives, as were the soldiers of Caesar, Napoleon, Frederick the Great and the Duke of Marlborough who led their men to conquer and subjugate. America's soldiers, in all her wars, have been engaged for an entirely altruistic purpose, he said; their motivation was to free slaves, to give justice to unhappy peoples, and to foster freedom and democracy.

"We should remind ourselves and teach the alien within our country of these broad, generous, altruistic and humane purposes that after all constitute America," declared the judge in closing.

Other numbers on the memorial program included: "America," audience; invocation, Rev. James Lisle, civil war veteran; reading of General Logan's Order, Mrs. M. Lockwood; "Oh My America," Sons of Veterans' script, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Fessenden; "Gettysburg Address," Howard Bergman, senior at Salem high school and grandson of a

LITTLE HOPE FELT FOR NOBILE'S SHIP

(Copyright, 1928 by the Associated Press)

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, May 30.—(AP)—No word has come out of the gloom and wastes of the far north of General Nobile, his companions and the missing dirigible Italia. With the return of the base ship Citta di Milano from a searching cruise off the northern part of Spitzbergen, anxiety for the fate of the aeronauts has increased and hope of their rescue, seems farther away.

The base ship came back at midnight. She has found no trace of the Italia. She encountered strong winds, severe cold and impassable ice floes and she returned in a snowstorm, the men depressed by their failure. The vessel will remain here until it is decided whether the base for the Norwegian rescue expedition shall be Advent Bay or Kings Bay.

The belief is held among those waiting at this place that Kings Bay is better fitted for such a purpose, as flights to the north and east can be made from this point to better advantage than from Advent Bay. The sealer Hobby, which is bringing Lieut. Leutgow Holm and his hydro-airplane will stop at Advent Bay and take aboard a team of ten dogs, a sled and supplies and two men, the leader named Tandberg and a hunter named Noels. The Hobby will proceed north with the Citta di Milano and put the dog team and dog leader and some men ashore, who will try to make their way to the east.

ISOLATED OHIO HILL FOLK STILL USE OXEN

Hill folk near Gallipolis, Ohio, still use oxen like the span above to haul heavy loads, and sometimes to plow. When a family needs flour, Johnny takes a sack of grain to the grist mill to be ground. The mill at the right is at Symmes Creek, Cadmus, Ohio, and is typical of many in the region.

Bandits at Indianapolis Rob Guests of $200,000

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—(AP)—More than two hundred guests attending a speedway day dinner dance at the Broadmoor Country club northwest of Indianapolis tonight were held up by a number of bandits. Club officials estimated that between $150,000 and $200,000 in money, jewelry and other valuables was taken.

The dance was held in connection with the annual 500-mile Indianapolis motor speedway here today. Several out-of-town guests attended the dance and all in the building were said to have been wearing much valuable jewelry.

At least six men took part in the holdup. About ten o'clock when the guests were making merry, four men rushed in the main door and ordered the manager, A. S. Lubell, to hold up his hands. With two other companions who had slipped into the building the four suddenly put a halt to the dancing and forced the guests to line up against the wall of the ballroom.

All of the guests were forced to throw billfolds, watches, rings, other jewelry and valuables into a canvas sack. Despite the assertion of A. M. Rosenthal, president of the club, that there was no safe in the building several of the bandits made a search.

Two of the men had shot guns. After spending twenty or thirty minutes in the building the six men fled.

Civil war veteran; Capt. Mrs. Trama Huston and Mrs. James England, accompanist, Mrs. Mary Entress; medley of war songs, Sons of Veterans' sextet; "Star Spangled Banner," auctress; benediction, Rev. Lisle.

A. R. Fisher, meeting commander of Cedric Post of the G. A. R. presided.

Preceding the army services, the memorial day parade, under the generalship of Oliver B. Huston, marched through the streets and placed the customary wreath upon the War Mothers' memorial on the court house grounds.

In the long parade, the following groups marched, under the direction of three assistant marshals, Captain Clifton Irwin of the national guard, Captain B. F. Pound, and Frank Durbin, Jr.:

The color bearers, Arvin Fisher of Cedric post, honorary grand marshal; reserve officers; Salem military band; Company B, Oregon national guard; coast artillery detachment.

Sedgwick post, G. A. R. in cars, escorted by sons of veterans; Women's Relief Corps, Ladies' of the G. A. R. and War Mothers in autos; Spanish war veterans, Veterans of Foreign wars and the American Legion and their auxiliaries; auxiliary of Sons of Veterans and Daughter of Veterans.

Salem Indian school band and battalion; Salvation Army; boy scouts; R. N. A. and girl scouts.
