

6 SALEM STUDENTS GRADUATING AT OSC

Leland, Davis, Misses Meeks, Matthews, Gram and Welsh Listed

OREGON STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, June 1.—(Special.)—Salem is represented by six students in the graduating class of 1923 which totals more than 500.

The graduating class is composed of those who have "survived" four years of rigorous work during which their scholarship has to be kept high to meet the stiff requirements here.

Miss Matthews, Leland and Davis have earned their degree of bachelor of science in commerce. This is the largest school in the college and is organized to afford work in the various branches such as accounting and management.

Odile Matthews has taken an active part in campus affairs. She was a member of the Orange Owl and directory staffs, the Memorial union campaign and took part in chess sports such as hockey and volleyball.

Aside from completing his regular work, Davis has also been active in campus affairs. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, national commerce honorary fraternity; treasurer of Beta Alpha Psi, national honorary accounting society; president of the chamber of commerce; and a member of the inter-fraternity council.

Erma Meeks and Frances Welch have earned their degree of bachelor of science in home economics.

This is one of the largest schools in the college and has 68 graduates in this year's class. Work in his school is divided into two groups of studies, one to fit the student for specialized professional work after graduation and the other for the profession of home making and related fields.

They have had work in the departments of clothing, textiles and related arts, foods and nutrition, household administration, institution economics and home economics education. They have also spent six weeks in the home management "practice" house where they and a few other girls had full charge of the household care of a small baby.

Miss Meeks was a transfer from Willamette university.

Hester Gram has completed her work for the bachelor science degree in vocational education. Her school has made remarkable growth in recent years to keep pace with the demand for teachers of industrial subjects in the high schools. It has further advanced this year under the new leadership of Dean James. The school from which Miss Gram matriculates includes teacher training in commerce, agriculture, home economics, and industrial education, and work in psychology and education.

ITALIANS PLANNING HUNT FOR AIRSHIP

Preparations Going Forward Slowly But Methodically at Rome

ROME, May 31.—(AP)—Realizing the difficulties to be faced in searching for General Noble and his companions and the missing dirigible Italia, the Italian government is setting about in a systematic way to prepare for that task.

All the elements of time, place, and circumstances, which governed the flight of the Italia, have been carefully considered.

There was a conference of experts from the navy and air departments and a representative of the foreign delegation today for the purpose of deciding on the best methods to coordinate all efforts to the work of rescue.

Most dependence for the present will be put on the advice of the commander of the Citta Di Milano, the expedition's base ship, which already has attempted an exploration of the northern part of Spitzbergen, but was obliged to return to Kings Bay without finding trace of the ill-fated aeroplane.

The work of Citta Di Milano will be continued in the zone between the Bay of Lietde, near Amsterdam, Island, and Hinlopen strait on the north coast of Spitzbergen, not more than 160 kilometers (about 100 miles) from Kings Bay and not less than fifty.

CHIEF OF STAFF FIRED BY CALLES

General Jose Alvarez Dismissed for Alleged Corruption in Office

MEXICO CITY, June 1.—(AP)—General Jose Alvarez, chief of staff to President Calles, was dismissed Thursday from that post, written statement from the president to Mexican newspapers announced here.

The statement imputed a violation of confidence placed in him by the president to General Alvarez. It continued with an expression of the purpose of Senor Calles to purge his administration of immorality, and said that despite powerful influences brought to bear to save the army chief the president has decided to dismiss him, and cite the case to the authorities for investigation and punishment.

There was no mention of details of the charges against General Alvarez, or of just what his alleged crime was.

El Universal quotes Roberto Cruz, chief of police, as saying General Alvarez had been arrested for dinner, but not so with Middle-aged London and the Londoners of old.

It was not so long ago when Young London, under the thumb of his elders, put on dress clothes or every evening meal and when going to the theater, even to the music hall.

But Young London has broken away from Old London and Middle-aged London and all the former family traditions, and now does just about as he pleases.

The anti-evening clothes movement has been extending gradually ever since the war. There was a time when a good many cafes and dancing clubs insisted upon formal attire but that night has come by the boards.

Four of the most successful and fashionable dancing clubs in London just now have adopted the "dress as you like" style for patrons, while a number of the smaller clubs which still cling to the dressing rule have been faring very badly indeed.

The idea of Young London today is that "the very best people" do not put on a swallow tail unless it is for "some really formal occasion."

Co-Ed Has Perfect Rank In College Scholarship

Mildred Marie Bucknum of Corvallis, junior in commerce at the state college has the unique distinction of being the only student with a perfect record of straight A's in every subject for three years. Miss Bucknum's success in scholarship began bringing her recognition in her freshman year when she won the Clara H. Waldo prize and the Phi Chi Theta freshman award. Far from being a "grind," she took part in campus affairs from the start and has been active in the Y. W. C. A. and on campus publications. She won honorable mention both last year and this for the Waldo prize and has just been proclaimed the outstanding junior in commerce by Phi Chi Theta, honorary girls fraternity in that school. She is a member of this fraternity and of Phi Kappa Phi, highest scholastic honor society.

NEW INCORPORATIONS

The Triad club Oregon State Alpha Chapter, with headquarters at Corvallis and capital of $50, has filed articles in the state corporation department. The incorporators are J. E. Simmons, Lee C. Ball and E. C. Gilbert. Notices of dissolution were filed by the Skippanon Lumber company and Chaldee Lumber, Inc., both of Portland.

Vitaphone succeeded in obtaining another top-notch performer when "Senator" Ford was induced to register before the "singing screen." This number will be seen and heard at Bligh's Capitol on the Vitaphone presentation program for the last time today. The "Senator" is in his happiest mood and audiences everywhere have been in great delight, wherever this number is shown.

Another attraction, "Honey-moon Lane," the successful musical comedy of Broadway, will appear also when Johnny Marvin the versatile string musician and singer, will be seen and heard on the Vitaphone.

NEW, OLD TALENT IN F-M OFFERING

Pretty Contest Winners Are With Vaudeville Headliners Here Sunday

Fanchon & Marco's "Opportunity Idea" is scheduled for the Elsinore theater tomorrow and Monday as the stage attraction and brings to Salem the winners of the Fanchon and Marco talent hunt contest which received so much publicity because of its huge success.

A great many clever and talented girls were discovered by the contest and Fanchon and Marco feel very happy over the results of the showing of the act in the theaters the production has already played.

Many of the girls have never been on a stage before, nor had the real chance to appear in public. They were carefully coached and drilled by Fanchon and Marco during their busy training week in Los Angeles just before the show opened its tour at Loe's stage theater.

In addition to the winners of the "Opportunity contest" there is Earl and Bell, late of Ed Wynn's "Grab Bag" and Babe Morris, queen of tap dancers.

Fanchon and Marco devised a novel way of presenting the girls. In the way of stage settings and from all advance reports received from the cities where the act has already played the production has been most successful.

There are 15 of the girls: Miss Los Angeles, Miss Pasadena, Miss San Diego, Miss Long Beach, Miss Fresno, Miss San Francisco, Miss Sacramento, Miss Oakland, Miss Portland, Miss Tacoma, Miss Seattle, Miss Vancouver, Miss Ogden, and Miss Salt Lake.

Miss Portland is Eleanor La Mai and she does a Rube specialty "Buggy Ride" which is said to be a knockout.

MERNA MAKES HER DEBUT WITH CHAS.

John Smith chooses a leading lady, what of it? Charlie Chaplin chooses a leading lady—and that's news.

When Charlie picks them, they stay picked. There was Edna Purviance, in the days of waitress-and-wandering-one sequences. In "A Woman of Paris," the genius displayed in that selection bore fruit, with the ripened talent that Chaplin discerned in the embryo coming forth to dramatic peaks. There was Georgia Hale in "The Gold Rush." It means something in the "industry" to be Charlie's leading lady. It means a future, bigger things, fat wallets, fame.

HINDENBURG MAKES FELICITATION RULE

BERLIN.—(AP)—When shall the president of the German republic send a personal letter of congratulation to a deserving citizen? This question has given considerable concern to the Hindenburg administration, but has finally been settled along the following lines:

Whenever a person has served the same concern or the same public authority under civil service for 50 years, the president congratulates him, but sends no gift.

When a couple celebrate their golden, diamond, or iron wedding anniversary, they receive a personal letter from the chief executive, accompanied, if the need is apparent, by a gift of 20 marks in the case of golden weddings, and 25 marks in the case of diamond or iron weddings.

Wife of Former Salem Resident Dies in India

Prof. and Mrs. A. H. Gillett of Shedd, formerly of Albany, Oregon, received a cablegram Tuesday from India conveying information of the death of their daughter, Emma E. Gillett Reznicek, a missionary to that far away land.

She died at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning at Lucknow, India. She left Albany in September of last year in company with Mrs. D. L. McCarty who had been home on a furlough after having been a missionary for 15 years at Bhagalpur where she had established a large independent Christian work in that dark heathen land. Upon her arrival at Calcutta she was united in marriage with Joseph Reznicek formerly of Marion county, near Salem, who is also a missionary. The parents received a letter from their daughter that day before receiving the cablegram as it takes approximately a month for a letter to reach this country. Beside her husband and two sisters, Mrs. Bruce Ensley of Lebanon and Alberta Gillett who resides with her parents at Shedd, she was born at Oswego, Mich. in June, 1904.

PRESIDENT OF U. S. LAYS CORNERSTONE

New Memorial to Women of World War Dedicated at Washington

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—President Coolidge, as head of the Red Cross, Thursday laid cornerstone of the new memorial to the women of the world was now under erection here.

The memorial is to consist of a $75,000 building adjacent to the existing Red Cross edifice here which is dedicated to the memory of the women of the civil war, like the old building the memorial will be of white marble in the same Ionic Greek style of architecture.

Chief Justice Taft presided at Thursday's ceremonies. Secretary Davis of the war department delivered the speech of acceptance. President Coolidge who did not speak, placed the first trowel full of mortar under the large white cornerstone which was suspended by a crane.

After the cornerstone had been lowered into position, Mr. Coolidge, ascertained by the use of a spirit level the true level of the stone, setting and then assisted in the insertion in a cavity in the stone of a copper box containing records of the ceremony. When this cavity had been covered by a marble slab, Mr. Coolidge, turning to the audience, said: "The stone is well laid."
