

SALEM FOLKS

By J. H. WILLETT

GIVE HER A PRESENT THAT'S SURE TO PLEASE. YOU'LL APPRECIATE OUR HELPFUL SERVICE AND MODERATE PRICES. THIS IS A STORE OF FRIENDLY SUGGESTION

GOOD WILL OAKLAND SAYS - We have a 1927 Sport Oakland Roadster equipped with bumpers, spot light, dash motometer, 35% new rubber, new duco finish and rumble seat. This car is in A1 condition and a real buy at $750.00. VICK BROS. 'The House That Service Built'

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

Tire Stolen - Albert Gerig, route 7, Salem, reported to the police Saturday that a Goodyear tire had been stolen from his automobile the previous night while the car was parked on Church street.
Wanted - Best home in south Salem that $10,000 will buy. Melvin Johnson, 320 U. S. Bank Bldg.
Why Not Go to Woodland Park - Today? Or any day - it's real pretty out there.
Expense Statements Filed - Expense statements were filed yesterday by Lloyd T. Rigdon and John H. Porter, successful candidates in the races for county coroner and county commissioner, respectively. Rigdon, unopposed for his position, expended only the regular $20 filing fee. Porter, who had considerable competition, paid out a total of $75.25, including $20 for a filing fee, S. H. Trump, county fruit inspector, received the democratic nomination for precinct committeeman. His expense report indicated that he had not spent a cent for campaign expenses of any kind.
Special Sunday Dinner - Served 5:45 to 8 p. m. Marion hotel.
New Shipment of Genuine Fox - Furs, $35 and up. Capital Fur and Novelty Shoppe, 1328 State, Phone 2911.
Attended Pioneer Meeting - Judge Peter H. D'Arcy and Miss Teresa D'Arcy attended the Yamhill county pioneers' gathering Saturday. Judge D'Arcy delivered an address at the meeting.
Fined for Disorder - Jack Foley was fined $10 in municipal court Saturday for disorderly conduct Saturday. He was arrested about 3:30 o'clock that morning. Eugene Van Fleet was fined $10 for drunkenness.
Lawn Mowers 25% off Saturday - Monday. Peary Bros., 178 South Commercial.
North 17th Street Lots - Same price of $250 to $375. Get yours now. $25 down. $40 a month. Becke & Hendricks, 189 North High street.
Divorce Asked - Complaining that her husband told her he no longer loved her, Ige Hicks yesterday filed suit in circuit court for legal separation from Marshal Hicks. They were married in Salem on July 5 of last year.
Wanted Boys - To learn banjo. Instruments and lessons furnished. See Mr. MacManiman, Sherman City Co.
Want $1000 to $1500 - One or two years, good security. Latlar, Ladd & Bush Bank Building.
Local Firm Sued - The Phoenix Assurance company yesterday began action in circuit court here against Vick Brothers, local automobile dealers for $543.69. The action is based upon the alleged wrongful taking and withholding of an auto which the company claims belongs to it.
Benches Appointed - John V. Benes of Portland, Saturday, was reappointed by Governor Patterson a member of the state board of architects examiners. George Black of Portland was reappointed a member of the state board of accountancy.
Gooseberries 2 Cents a Pound - Pick them yourself, third house on Fairview off Commercial.
Cash Buyer - Of small or large modern home. We have several new homes that must be sold now. Prices $3600 on up. See them before you buy or build. Becke & Hendricks, 189 North High street.
Daughter Born - A baby girl was born Friday night to Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Clement, 2061 McCoy street. Mother and baby are at the Salem Gen. hospital. The youngster is a granddaughter of Dr. L. O. Clement.
5 Acres Highway - Strawberries - Cherries, prunes. Small buildings, 2 1/2 miles south of Salem on main Pacific highway. Price $2,750. Reasonable terms and quick possession. See this now. Becke & Hendricks, 189 North High street.
Furniture Upholsterer - And repairing. Gless-Powers Furniture Co.
Shedock Wins $75 - The jury found for the defendant in the sum of $75 in the case of Ralph Craves vs. Beryl Shedock, tried in circuit court before Circuit Judge Percy R. Kelly here yesterday.
Visit Here From Newport - Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Thomas of Newport were visitors in Salem yesterday. They were accompanied by their daughter, Helen, and their son, Harold. They conduct the Agate store at this beach resort and are anticipating a splendid season.
Sues Upon Note - John Meinert yesterday filed suit against Henry W. Meinert to collect $200 on a promissory note. Fifty dollars is also demanded as attorney's fees.
Seven Per Cent Preferred - And a limited amount of Common at par in Western Paper Converting Co. Hawkins & Roberts.
From Kansas - Mrs. John Smith, whose home is in Kansas, is visiting members of the staff of the Deaconess hospital, F. B. Weddle, superintendent of the hospital, is her brother.
Wanted Experienced Waitresses - Steady employment. Gray Belle.
Fairmount Hill Home - Price cut from $12,500 to $11,000. Hot water, heat, 7 rooms large. Hardwood throughout. Large corner lot. See at Fairmount and Leffell. Becke & Hendricks, 189 North High street.
Dr. Moon to Attend Meet - Dr. Max A. Moon of Salem will represent this district at the meeting of the state of dental examiners to be held in Portland beginning tomorrow, and adjourning June 10. Heretofore the board has conducted its practical work at the state penitentiary, but due to the crowded condition of that institution this spring, the work will be done at the North Pacific college infirmary.
Hardman Wins - The archery contest held by the Salem Boy Scouts Friday afternoon on the Legion grounds back of Miles Linn mills was won by Roland Hardman, of troop 2. Phil Ferris, also of troop 2, was runner-up and Norman Speck, troop 13, placed third. No wall scaling contest was held.
Franchise Cancelled - The public service commission Saturday cancelled the franchise granted to the Nehalem Driving and Booming company. It was said that the company has ceased operations on the Nehalem river.
Willert Goes South - Pete Willert, Salem boxer who was scheduled to appear on the armory card Wednesday night, left Saturday for California. Battling Yoakley will fill the place left vacant by Willert against Willard Norton of the Rose City.
Hull's Cost $54.17 - A total of $54.17 was expended by O. J. Hull in his race for recorder in the recent city elections, states his report just filed. Other expense statements received by the city recorder include: C. O. Rice, reelected city treasurer, $5.10; George J. Wendorff, who lost in the elections for councilman in ward five, $4.75; David O'Hara who sought the two-year council post from ward five, $12.00.
Arpkes Vacation Here - Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Arpke are in Salem from Republic, Wash., where he has been teaching school the last two years. They will remain here for at least a part of their summer vacation. Mr. Arpke will teach in the Kent Wash., schools the coming year.
In the Opportunity Show at the Elsinore today and tomorrow, the Portland girl is said to be one of the best. There are 18 or 20 of these girls, representing as many cities in this section - winners of first prizes in the opportunity contests that were conducted under the auspices of Fanchon and Marco, Salem, for some reason, did not rise to the occasion and participate, though this city was offered the chance.
In both April and May, the building permits in Salem exceeded those of last year. We are growing right along, and going to keep on keeping on. In fact, just getting a fair start in what is coming.
In 1923 20 bright young students of Lehigh university collaborated in writing a thesis which scornfully criticized the automobile as "a rich man's toy, a useless invention with no future." Times change. Now, one of these former Lehigh students, A. R. Glancy, is president and general manager of the Oakland Motor Car company, and the other one, Paul Gerhard, is president of the Paul Gerhard works, Omaha, Nebraska, who sells the Oakland and Pontiac sizes which his former college chum manufactures.
showdown near, are refraining from predictions that the commerce secretary will go over on the first ballot. They are striving and hoping for that but for the moment seem content to pass the word that their man has around 700 first and second choice votes all lined up. A majority, $45, will be needed to nominate.
Arrayed against Hoover, who will remain in Washington during the convention, is a field of presidential aspirants and party leaders who are determined to head off his nomination. In this group is Lowden of Illinois who in 1920 made a losing fight for the presidential nomination and four years ago turned down a chance to be Coolidge's running mate. Lowden Runner Up This year Lowden stands second only to Hoover in the number of delegates buttoned during the pre-convention season. Among his supporters are many influential republicans from the corn and wheat belt who are considerably wrought up over President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen bill. They look on Lowden as their champion and a movement is on foot for a trek of farmers to Kansas City to impress on the convention delegates the contention that only a man to their liking can carry the farming states of the west in the coming election. Those who are fostering the farmers' protest almost to a man are for Lowden. They regard Hoover with particular disfavour, insisting that he has worked against the interests of the farmer in the past and has given support to Coolidge in his rejection of the McNary-Haugen bill. Party Leaders Fearful This impending clash between the Hoover and the Lowden anti-Hoover forces, both over a farm relief platform declaration and candidates, is one of the things that is causing concern among party chieftains who want harmony if possible. The republicans are not the only ones which have troubles on their hands. Still a bit scarred up by the drawn-out convention battle at Madison Square Garden four years ago, the democrats will assemble in Houston June 26. Whether their convention will be a get-together or lead to a parting of ways is one of the many political developments the future holds in store. Smith Faction Strong Smith got off to an early start in the ranking of delegates, many of them tied him under definite instructions from the folks at home. Even his foes concede that he has a majority, or close to that, in the bag but they are rallying their forces to keep him away from the necessary two thirds majority. The New York governor insist that he is so far in the lead that he can't be headed off. Those working to stop him are looking to the south and a half dozen "favorite son" states for the votes to keep the democratic nomination out of his hands. They say they will have the strength, at least at the outset of the balloting. While Smith's opponents are attempting to strengthen their lines so they would hold against a strong tide toward him, his own men are directing their campaign not only to win and win early, but to avoid battle scars. A deadlock, as they see it, would stir up bad feeling that might work to the disadvantage of the party nominee in the campaign and is one of the things to be avoided.

WHERE to DINE TODAY Fried Spring Chicken Dinner - Today at the Gray Belle. Fried Chicken Dinner Special - Served all day at the Spa. For Dinner This Evening - A la carte dinner at the Marion hotel today. Chickens Dinner at the Lunch Box 181 S. Liberty St. Tables for ladies. Open all day. Special Chicken Dinner Today - And home made salads, State Cafeteria. Argo Restaurant - Roast Chicken Dinner and Supper 59c. Special Roast Chicken Dinner - 50c. Home Restaurant. Our Regular Barbecued Chicken - Menu (50c) and delicious plate lunch (40c) at the Nook, 379 N. High. Home made desserts.

measure up to the records of past years, I am particularly proud of the record of actual accomplishments in the elimination of fire hazards throughout the state. It has been conservatively estimated that 20 per cent of all fires is chargeable to arson. The motives which actuate the malicious or intentional setting of fire to property are varied, but the most common are to conceal evidence of crime, malice or revenge, malicious mischief, pyromania or some other form of insanity or desire to defraud the insurer. Statistical records show that of the total fire loss in Oregon for 1927 approximately $12,877.14 is chargeable to incendiarism. The report of the state fire marshal has been submitted to the consideration of Governor Patterson.

Dr. Henry E. Morris Eyes Examined - Glasses Fitted The BEST that You Can Obtain - PRICE - QUALITY SERVICE Morris Optical Co. 301-2-3 First Nat'l Bank Bldg.

Cherrians to Drill - The Cherrians will drill again Tuesday evening on Cottage street south of the Elks Temple, near the MacDonald auto company building.

CHANG TSO-LIN LEAVES PEKING FOR MANCHURIA (Continued from page 1.)

population of Peking, advices from Tientsin indicated that the situation there was extremely tense although not panicky. The Chinese military authorities have taken over control of the city and the railroad station in view of the imminence of the northern threat. It was felt however, that the retreat of the northerners would be orderly if the nationalists did not press their pursuit. The favorite concubine of Chang Tso-lin passed through Tientsin this morning enroute to Mukden and this was generally taken to mean that Chang had definitely decided to evacuate Peking and return to Manchuria.

Bits For Breakfast Will be worth hearing - W. D. B. Dodson, at chamber of commerce noon luncheon tomorrow. He is manager of the Portland chamber of commerce and one of the big men of the country in that field. He will likely have some constructive suggestions for Salem.

There will be a flower show at the Salem chamber of commerce tomorrow night, by Ernest Luter. The display will consist largely of rock plants and perennials. Luter is a specialist in these lines. He has one of the biggest and best collections in the state.

In the Opportunity show at the Elsinore today and tomorrow, the Portland girl is said to be one of the best. There are 18 or 20 of these girls, representing as many cities in this section - winners of first prizes in the opportunity contests that were conducted under the auspices of Fanchon and Marco, Salem, for some reason, did not rise to the occasion and participate, though this city was offered the chance.

In both April and May, the building permits in Salem exceeded those of last year. We are growing right along, and going to keep on keeping on. In fact, just getting a fair start in what is coming.

In 1923 20 bright young students of Lehigh university collaborated in writing a thesis which scornfully criticized the automobile as "a rich man's toy, a useless invention with no future." Times change. Now, one of these former Lehigh students, A. R. Glancy, is president and general manager of the Oakland Motor Car company, and the other one, Paul Gerhard, is president of the Paul Gerhard works, Omaha, Nebraska, who sells the Oakland and Pontiac sizes which his former college chum manufactures.

showdown near, are refraining from predictions that the commerce secretary will go over on the first ballot. They are striving and hoping for that but for the moment seem content to pass the word that their man has around 700 first and second choice votes all lined up. A majority, $45, will be needed to nominate. Arrayed against Hoover, who will remain in Washington during the convention, is a field of presidential aspirants and party leaders who are determined to head off his nomination. In this group is Lowden of Illinois who in 1920 made a losing fight for the presidential nomination and four years ago turned down a malty of extradition. Drinking Party Staged His story of the shooting itself was that Mrs. Stoy was a guest at a drinking party in his room during the evening and stayed after the others had gone. She noticed his pistol, he said, and asked if she could see it. He started to extract a cartridge, he said, before handing it to her and the pistol was discharged. "The bullet went through my right hand and then struck Mrs. Stoy," he went on. "She collapsed without a word. I tried to stop the blood but I saw there was nothing I could do and I turned to the telephone to call a doctor. "Just as I reached the receiver I heard a gasp and I went back to her side and found she was dead." Masterson said that he had met Mrs. Stoy the evening of the shooting and did not even know her last name until he learned it at a police headquarters here. Mrs. Stoy, who was 32, was the wife of Archie Stoy, a former Aberdeen prize fighter.

Portland Police Relieved PORTLAND, June 2. (AP) - Exclamations of undisguised relief were heard in police circles here today upon word from Seattle that George F. Masterson, 42, had surrendered himself to police there and had ended voluntarily the search that had begun for him last Tuesday. He is under indictment here in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Marjorie Stoy in his hotel room here following a drinking party. The woman's body was discovered Tuesday morning. She had died a few hours after midnight. Inspector L. B. Cahill left for Seattle tonight to return the prisoner to Portland. He expected to leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

Portland Police Relieved PORTLAND, June 2. (AP) - Exclamations of undisguised relief were heard in police circles here today upon word from Seattle that George F. Masterson, 42, had surrendered himself to police there and had ended voluntarily the search that had begun for him last Tuesday. He is under indictment here in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Marjorie Stoy in his hotel room here following a drinking party. The woman's body was discovered Tuesday morning. She had died a few hours after midnight. Inspector L. B. Cahill left for Seattle tonight to return the prisoner to Portland. He expected to leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

MANHUNTER ENDS WHEN MASTERSON GIVES UP (Continued from page 1.)

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood, police said. There were five cartridges in the magazine, which holds seven. Clear fingerprints were obtained from the weapon.

leave the Puget Sound city tomorrow morning. Pistol Located The automatic pistol that is believed to have sent the bullet through Mrs. Stoy's body was found tucked in a hedge in front of a mortuary in Vancouver, Wash., today by police of Portland, acting on a tip from Seattle. The weapon is of .765 calibre and of German manufacture. The pistol was in a small leather pocket holster. Both the magazine and holster were encrusted with what appeared to be blood,