recovered although some of them might be kept in hospitals for several weeks.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(AP)—Michael Tocaze, Hollywood gift shop owner, was arrested by police here today and held pending service of warrants charging complicity in the explosion and fire which injured eight men in Hollywood today.

Tocaze denied being in Hollywood at the time of the explosion, saying he had left for the north by bus early in the afternoon. He was traced by a visit he paid to immigration headquarters to renew his alien permit. He was booked at police headquarters as "enroute to Los Angeles."

The arrest was made on request of the Los Angeles county sheriff. The man was booked here under the name of Tocaze.

Detectives arrested Tocaze shortly after he arrived here from Los Angeles, and registered at a hotel on Fifth street. He remonstrated against arrest, but offered no resistance. He was taken to the hall of justice for questioning.

Police said the prisoner, a middle-aged Russian, spoke little English. He was trying, they said, to explain something to the effect that the fire and explosion in the cafe had some connection with insurance.

Tocaze showed police a return ticket to Los Angeles, explaining that he had come here only to see immigration authorities regarding extension of his stay in the United States. He said he arrived here at 7 a. m. today.

The plant is the largest in the northwest, except for the one in Portland owned by the same concern.

Officers of the company include W. P. Stevens, president; J. H. White, treasurer; Robert Ireland, secretary and general manager; J. W. Myers will be the superintendent in charge of the plant in Salem.

EXIT SPELLBINDING
Radio seems to have spelled the doom of story in the 1928 elections and to have marked the return of political talk, says a Farm and Fireside observer.

Bits For Breakfast

Still the strawberries come—With ideal picking weather; but the peak would be put off by some timely showers. And they would be great for the growing flax.

The 56th reunion of the Oregon Pioneer association will be held at the public auditorium in Portland on Thursday, the 28th. A wonderful program has been arranged. There will be "kloshes muck-a-muck" and hi-yu wa-wa and hi-yu he-be, after the muck-a-muck. Which means that there will be a good meal, followed by social talk and laughter producing entertainment. That was the way the Indians expressed these things in the pioneer days of our fathers and mothers.

The Associated Press wires of last night told of the approach to Peking of the forces of Marshal Feng, "called" the Chinese Christian general. The American newspaper reporters over there cannot get that word "called" out of their systems. Marshal Feng is not only "called" the Chinese Christian general. He is the Chinese Christian general. If ever there was a Christian, he is one. And he is at the head of the only wholly Christian army that ever marched. Or was, till he was obliged to enlist a complement of Mohammedans from one of his provinces inhabited by people of that faith.

When the forces of Marshal Feng (pronounced Fong) get into Peking, there will be order in that capital; as good order as may be found in any large American city.

North Front street is being paved. That will be grateful news to many. Ever since the river road was paved by the county, there has been a hiatus of mud in the city and dirt in the summer between the city parking on North Commercial street and the county paving near the poor farm. The paving now being done will do away with the mud and the dust, and the chuck-holes.

Investment Brokers Sued For $36,000 by Tacoman

TACOMA, June 7.—(AP)—Logan and Bryan investment brokers are named defendants in a suit for more than $36,000, brought by Emma Chapelle and filed in the Pierce county superior court here today.

The complaint charges that the firm purchased from Overbeck and Cooke company, Portland brokers, stocks and bonds aggregating that amount, held in trust, and with knowledge that the Oregon firm was insolvent on and before January 31, 1928. Four causes of action are listed. The first is for recovery of $11,455.20 the claim of Emma Shappelle, and three others are assignments held by her as follows:

- $10,671.03, the assigned claim of Katherine Effinger; $8,134.72, assigned claim of O. C. Balducci and $5,942.10 assigned claim of Eugene Gallagher. The Oregon firm became insolvent early this year.

TRIAL OF STEWART DRAWS TOWARD END

Skirmishes Chief Feature of Case Growing Out of Senate Quiz

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—The prosecution in the case against Robert W. Stewart, charged with failure to answer questions about the Continental Trading company put by a senate committee last February, today saw its major arguments before both sides rested and the defense took up its argument for a directed verdict.

Despite vigorous objection by Frank J. Hogan, chief of the oil man's counsel, District Attorney Leo A. Rover succeeded in placing before the jury the minutes of the committee at the time Stewart who is chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, was called to testify, which showed a quorum of senators were present.

Justice Siddons also sustained Rover's motion to strike out the earlier introduced testimony of Edward J. Bullock, vice president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, and others that only three senators, five short of a quorum, were actually present when Stewart failed to answer his inquiries.

NEW DISTRESS WORD SENT OUT OF ARCTIC

plored and is known to contain no land. It is far to the east of the Chimera Crocker land which Peary reported having seen north of Greenland.

The notation of "6500 GNT" possibly means 6 a. m. Greenwich, which is equivalent to 1 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

ROME, June 7.—(AP)—The Stefani News agency tonight issued the following:

"At 11:07 a. m. Greenwich time, today the Citta di Milano after its regular periodic wireless calls to the dirigible Italia, is understood to have heard signals recognized as coming from the Italia. The Citta di Milano sought by all means to re-establish communication and ascertain the position of the Italia as it is believed it had really heard from the dirigible again."

"Among the garbled signals noted with practical certainty was the word 'Francesco.'"

Kings Bay Gets Word
KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 7.—(AP)—Twice today the radio operator on the Citta di Milano, base ship of General Umberto Nobile's lost polar expedition, heard weak signals which he was sure were from Operatore Biagi, radioman on the dirigible Italia. The signals were too weak to decipher.

Hopes that the Italian general and his 17 companions survive were revived among the dozen members of the expedition at Kings Bay.

The first signals were heard early this morning. Conditions then were unfavorable for good radio transmission. The operator on the Citta di Milano then addressed a message to Biagi, telling him to try again at 5 p. m., when it would be a little darker and more favorable for transmission.

Signals Very Weak
Again at the afternoon hour the operator thought he caught weak signals. It was impossible.

however, to make out what the sender was trying to say.
Captain Hjalmer Riiser-Larsen, Norwegian arctic pilot, arrived here today with his plane. He put the machine, which is a hydro-airplane, on the water, but there was too much fog to justify him in starting his scouting trips to the north. The captain hopes to get away on the first of these trips tomorrow.

DEAD STUDY LIVES

ENROLLMENT IN LATIN CLASSES INCREASES 26.6 PER CENT
When some things die, they're dead. But judging from enrollment in the Latin department at the senior high and the two junior high schools, Latin as a dead language is pretty much alive.

Report of Miss Laura V. Hale, department head, submitted to Superintendent George W. Hug shows 38 students more than last year took the classic courses this year. Twenty-four and six-tenths per cent of the senior high school students took some Latin class; 31.6 per cent of the ninth grade at Parrish; and 48.7 per cent of the ninth grade at Leslie.

Percentage of enrollment at Leslie was smaller this year than last, although 26 more pupils were doing the work.

During the year two Latin clubs, at the high school and at Leslie met regularly each month, with programs dealing with life in classical times.

Paul Wallace prizes, three beautiful pictures, were awarded winners in the Latin contest, with Leslie junior high, Miss May Hale, teacher, taking first place. Second was won by the high school, Mrs. Carmen Jamison and Miss Ha G. Comstock, teachers; and third to Parrish, Mrs. Grace Thompson, instructor.

Prognostic tests to determine pupils' ability to learn foreign languages was called to testify, which showed a quorum of senators were present.

SEATTLE COMPANY BIDS LOW ON JOB

Owyhee Project for Irrigation to be Built by Washington Firm

ONTARIO, Ore., June 7.—(AP)—The General Construction company of Seattle was the low bidder for the construction of the Owyhee dam which will impound the waters of the Owyhee river to irrigate lands in the Owyhee project for the United States reclamation service.

The Seattle company's bid was for $3,198,779. The highest bid, that of Lynn Atkinson of Portland, was nearly one and one-half million dollars greater.

It was expected here that the award would be approved in Washington, D. C., prior to June 30, and that the work on the dam, which will be the highest structure of its kind in the world, will start before August 1.

The offers of the unsuccessful competitive bidders were: Lynn Atkinson, Portland, $4,707,365; Utah Construction company, Salt Lake, $3,533,792.50; McDonald and Kahn, Inc., San Francisco, $3,531,907.50; Fisher and Ross, Los Angeles, $3,308,026; Guthrie and
