GRANTS PASS MAN HELD EMBEZZLER

Roy E. Johnson Taken Into Custody at Tillamook Upon Old Charge

TILLAMOOK, June 12—(AP)—Roy E. Johnson, former manager of the Southern Oregon Gas company at Grants Pass, a fugitive from justice since July 25, last year, when he disappeared under circumstances that gave rise to the theory that he had drowned, is under arrest here. Indictments charge him with forgery and embezzlement. The books of the Grants Pass company are said to show a shortage of $1,000.

Johnson was arrested last night but his identity became known only today. Sheriff W. M. Hayes of Tillamook county, said. He gave the name of Robert Leonard.

When officials of the company at Grants Pass last year found alleged discrepancies in Johnson's accounts, they questioned him. A short time later, while an investigation was underway, Johnson and a companion went to the Rogue river to fish. That night Johnson's fishing tackle was found but he had disappeared. The river was dragged and his hat was found. Later circumstances arose that led officers to believe the man had not drowned.

Sheriff Hayes said Johnson today admitted his identity. He said that from the fishing expedition he caught a ride to Salem, where he worked in a paper mill, coming to Tillamook last September. Here he worked in a saw mill, on a ranch and in a cheese factory.

COOLIDGE TO START ON VACATION TODAY

Condition of President's Wife Reported Much Improved Yesterday

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP)—President Coolidge's departure for his summer vacation in Wisconsin, which had to be suddenly postponed last night on account of Mrs. Coolidge's indisposition, was predicted today at the White House as likely to take place tomorrow.

In the meantime the chief executive devoted the extra day in the capitol attending to business as if he had never planned to leave Washington.

After the opening of the convention in Kansas City, however, Mr. Coolidge left his office for the White House proper where several radio sets are available.

Colonel James F. Coughal and Lieutenant Commander Joel T. Boone, White House physicians, reported Mrs. Coolidge much improved this morning after a comfortable night. The first lady of the land was said to be very cheerful and very sorry that owing to her indisposition the journey had to be cancelled.

Her improvement during the night and morning was such that the physicians thought that it would be safe for her to start on the trip tomorrow. No definite plans could be made, however, since much depends on weather conditions. It was pointed out that, if the damp and chilly weather of the past few days continues, it might be dangerous to allow a person not in full strength to start such a long railroad journey.

MARION MAN SELLS REGISTERED CATTLE

The auction sale of the Jersey cattle owned by Warren Gray Marion, held yesterday was a success and a large crowd attended. There was a total of 24 head of registered Jerseys sold. This was not a complete dispersal as Mr. Gray retained a number of old cows that are valuable as breeders but have passed their most useful years as dairy cows, also a number of heifers and heifer calves.

Mr. Gray's cattle averaged $177 each. This includes a number of baby bull calves that sold for as low as $50 and the top cow going for $400, being purchased by Jesse Brown, Woodville, Washington. Roy Gregory, Priest River, Idaho; Frank E. Taylor, White Bluffs, Washington; Clarence Baker, Grandview, Washington and Marvin Marr, Malaga, Washington.

H. Kanne, Clackamas, Oregon was a contender for the better class cattle and secured a full sister to Post's Marble Mowat, paying $375 for her.

It was gratifying to Mr. Gray to note that many of the principal bidders were men that had purchased cattle from him before and were interested in securing more of the same quality. This sale of over $5,000 represents surplus cattle from Mr. Gray's farm, and it is his plan to continue with the dairy work, selling the cream from his herd and then from time to time as occasion demands he will sell his surplus cattle at auction.

This sale was managed by E. A. Rhoton, Salem, and Col. J. W. Hughes, Forest Grove was the auctioneer.

As a fitting conclusion to a highly successful season, the Salem Choral society presented an interesting concert at 8:30 o'clock last night at the Elsinore theater before a capacity audience.

The program which was given under the satisfying directorship of Professor R. W. Hans Seltz opened with the popular melody, "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" arranged for the mixed chorus by Professor Seltz himself. "Gone With Home" a request number, was beautifully sung by this splendid chorus of 50 voices. The concluding refrain was exquisite in its delivery of tone.

ULTIMATUM AIMED AT COUNTY COURT

Route 9 Couple Tell Officials Just What's What About Road Route

Frank and Bertha Pohlschneider of route 9 have decided to tell the Marion county court just what's what.

The court, it seems, is laboring under the impression that it may authorize certain road construction in Road District 17, near Brooks, which would involve a right of way through the Pohlschneider place.

As a result the owners of this place yesterday filed with the court a piece of ruled paper upon which was written in ink a combination demand for damages, information as to various costs and value, and general ultimatum regarding payment of money by the court and the route that the road must take.

Frank and Bertha vouchsafe the information that the road will occupy an acre and a half of their property, for which they have paid $575 an acre. The court is left to figure out just how much this would amount to. Three hundred dollars is also listed as the price demanded for putting gravel on the road. Work of moving fences is to cost the county $100, loss of pasture due to the road will amount to a like sum, and damage done to an onion house will be $500, according to the paper as filed.

The court is left to estimate for itself that all of these sums added together will total up to some $1362.50.

After the sums are listed, however, the court is informed that "we will not remove any fences for opening of this road till the sum is paid." Even so, the court will have to mend its ways, Mr. and Mrs. Pohlschneider definitely indicate, declaring that "in case this road should pass through my

PUT FRESH WREATH ON WILSON PLAQUE

GENEVA, Switzerland—(AP)—Tributes to the memory of Woodrow Wilson in the form of wreaths are placed quite regularly on the wall of the League of Nations building by unknown persons or possibly some society. They are attached to the simple marble slab set in the wall facing Lake Lemana, which bears this inscription: "To the memory of Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, founder of the League of Nations."

The wreaths attract the attention of visitors and presumably are intended to remind them that the League sprang from the inspiration of an American president.

BIDS OPENED UPON FEDERAL ROAD JOBS

PORTLAND, June 12—(AP)—Bids on four federal aid highway improvement jobs were opened here today by W. H. Lynch, district engineer of the United States bureau of public roads. Two of the projects are in Washington, one in Idaho and one in Oregon.
