CLEVELAND—(AP)—The "flag" deer is gone from the forest and the "crapple" and "muskellunge" from the woodland streams and lakes.

At least the sportsman will not hear of them by the old familiar names in many books and magazines of the country, for the Outdoor Writers' association of America has voted to drop these colloquial names and to use standardized ones in their writings.

Twenty-five members of the writers' association, which includes Rex Beach, Irvin Cobb, Ernest Thompson Seton, and other well known exponents of the outdoors, meeting here, decided that the variety of names now in use is too much even for the patience of a fisherman.

"There are more than a dozen localized names for some fish," said Morris Ackerman of Cleveland, president of the association. "In different parts of the United States one of them is known as the muskellunge, muskallunge, and muskallong. We've decided hereafter to refer to it simply as the musky—plural, muskies.

"Then there's the crapple, which also is called the shad lampighter, Lake Erie and speckled bass. We are going to call it the croppie. Another species is known as the pickerel in Michigan, the dore in Quebec, salmon in Ohio, Susquehanna salmon in Pennsylvania, and also the pickerel. Obviously it can't be all those several species. We are going to call it the wall-eye.

"The animal which is called the Virginia deer, red deer, and flag deer, will be referred to as the white tail deer. That's its chief distinguishing feature."

INLAND PORT'S SEA TRAFFIC ENORMOUS

HOUSTON, Texas.—(AP)—Though situated 50 miles from the Gulf coast line, Houston has brought the ocean to its front door so huge ocean-going ships of many nations may discharge and load cargoes.

For more than half a century sluggish Buffalo Bayou carried small oyster-laden schooners and similar craft from the Gulf of Mexico to this city. Today shipping interests of the world know it as the Houston Ship Channel.

Transformation of the former bayou or river to a deep water channel and the creation of port facilities here was accomplished by the expenditure of approximately $20,000,000.

Last year 3,560 vessels of 63 steamship lines arrived and departed carrying 12,000,000 tons of products valued at $516,000,000.

FAVOR BLUE EYED, BROWN HAIR GIRL

CHICAGO—(AP)—The American girl with blue eyes and brown hair is favored among women for she can wear clothes of both the cool and the warm colors and still be attractive.

Such a girl may even wear a red hat, in the opinion of Miss Anna Helga Hong, professor of art at Northwestern university. And the hat of red is the crowning symbol of what should not be worn by the average girl, Miss Hong adds.

"The blond has a certain set of colors which she should wear, just as the brunet has her range of colors from which she must pick her clothes," Miss Hong says. "However, the truly fortunate girl is she who has the blue eyes and dark hair.

"Greens, grays and blues should be worn by blonds and women with gray hair. Reds, yellows, browns and tans should be worn by the darker types and by older women with black hair. If the blond persists in selecting dress colors from the warm group, the result is a sign of poor taste and an acknowledgment that the girl does not know her type."

Every woman should analyze her own personality closely, Miss Hong believes, and she should then dress to express that personality. The great trouble with the modern dress, she believes, is that it detracts from the face and thus vitiates the individuality of the wearer.

INVERARAY, Scotland (AP)—With his coat off, his shirt sleeves rolled up to his elbows, and a short pipe in his mouth, the Duke of Argyll is working here as a laborer to help forward the building of a new tower for a peal of bells for All Saint's Episcopal church.

WOMEN GOLFERS GET LOW SCORES

PORTLAND, June 20.—(AP)—Par and under golf was more the rule than the exception in today's first round matches in the championship flight of the women's northwest golf championship here. Some of the matches were walk-aways, but most of them were close and hard fought.

Mrs. S. C. Sweeney, experienced player of British Columbia, and the present champion, had to extend herself to win from Mrs. Ray Hunt, a rapidly improving golfer of the Portland club, only after the battle had been carried to the last green.

The first pair off the starting tee drew the largest gallery of the day and made one of the most thrilling matches. The opponents were Mrs. Kenneth Reed, medalist of the tournament, and Mrs. Vera Hutchings of British Columbia, former Northwest champion.

Mrs. Reed won, finally, on the 17th green, two and one. Her score to this point was exactly par.

The greatest exhibition of shot making yet seen in the tournament was that of Miss Margaret Murphy, young Columbia Country club star. She won every hole of her match with Mrs. H. S. Whitman, breaking a course record for the first nine with a 38, two under par. She won 10 and 8.

The title flight results: Mrs. Kenneth Reed defeated Mrs. Vera Hutchings, two and one. Mrs. H. H. Bowen defeated Mrs. R. B. Bunyon, two up.

Mrs. E. F. Ristine defeated Mrs. B. E. Eva, four and two. Miss Eleanor Brodie defeated Mrs. C. F. Swigert, Jr., six and five.

Miss M. Wilson defeated Mrs. R. S. Dornberger, eight and six. Mrs. W. Pursey defeated Mrs. H. G. Thompson, one up.

Miss Margaret Murphy defeated Mrs. H. S. Whitman, 10 and eight. Mrs. S. C. Sweeney defeated Mrs. Ray Hunt, two up.

YANK NET STARS STILL GO STRONG

LONDON, June 20.—(AP)—Stellar playing by the members of the American Davis cup team featured today's play in the London tennis championships at the Queen's club. Although "Big Bill" Tilden, American captain, lost the first games of his invasion of England, he had little difficulty defeating the Irish Davis cup captain, O. O. Callahan, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1. In his two previous matches, Tilden had won in love sets.

Wilbur Coen, 16 year old American star, provided the great sensation of the tournament by eliminating the titleholder, Colonel H. J. Mayes, veteran Canadian player, in a fourth round match. The match went to three sets, the scores being 7-5, 1-6, 6-4.

DUTCH PLANES WIN PATRONS IN FRANCE

PARIS.—(AP)—Holland is sending flowers to Paris in less time than the Parisian florists can get their own products in from the suburban gardens.

Airplanes loaded with roses, carnations, lilacs and sweet peas leave Aalsmeer every morning and the flowers are on sale here late in the same day.

This says Paris florists, is merely the tangible evidence of a highly commercialized "factory" production of Dutch flowers that is making it difficult for the French growers to compete.

One of the leading French florists, returned in sadness. He does not fear for the business of a few large florists here who specialize in rare flowers and charge what they please, but he thinks the Dutch can now, or will soon, undersell the French in their own market on good standard flowers, and will make flowers cheaper for the masses.

PLAYERS ADVANCE TO QUARTER FINALS

PORTLAND, June 20.—(AP)—Rudie Wilhelm, of Portland, defending his title of Pacific northwest champion, advanced to the quarter finals of the 30th annual tournament here today when he eliminated Ben Stein of Seattle, western amateur champion, five and four, in a match that was just one of the many outstanding ones of the second round.

Along in the early stages of the hole match it looked as if the defending champion was due for defeat, as he dropped four out of the first five holes to his Seattle opponent on the first 18. From the 15th hole on, however, Wilhelm played championship golf. He not only managed to wipe out Stein's lead but was strong enough to bring him in one down at the end of the first 18. Two up at the end of the 27th, Wilhelm flashed his most brilliant golf of the round on the final nine, taking the 10th, 11th, and 12th holes to finish his opponent 5 and 4 on the 14th.

In the quarter finals tomorrow, Wilhelm will play Jack Marshall, Portland, who proved himself one

REDSKIN RUNNERS NEAR STATE LINE

GRANTS PASS, June 20.—(AP)—Flying Cloud, Karook Indian, representing the Grants Pass Cavemen in the Redwood highway marathon, was at four o'clock this afternoon, 44 miles from this city, close to the interstate boundary line, in his race from San Francisco to Grants Pass. He had rested but little more than two hours at Patrick's Creek, and was rapidly putting distance between himself and Melika and Ukiah, who were fighting for second place just outside Crescent City.

Melika, 62 year old Zuni Indian, and Ukiah, 51, Pomo tribesman, both grandfathers, were fighting an unequal race against youth, but each was possessed of the unquenchable spirit which showed itself after they had left Crescent City. Ukiah left first, at 1:1 p. m., and Melika followed five minutes later. On a steep grade one mile out of Crescent City, the aged Zuni overtook Ukiah and was in second place again at four o'clock.

Klamath, who had entered his own tribal territory at the mouth of Klamath river, was taken to a hospital at the town of Klamath. His stomach was in such condition that it was necessary to force food down his throat. It appeared certain tonight that he would be unable to continue.

Ten miles south of Crescent City, Seymour Smith, was limping along with an injured foot. Despite this handicap, he was making fair time.

Red Robin was one mile behind Smith. Dan Comahungnioma was

WORLD COURT ISSUE OF BUSINESS CLUBS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—World court legislation will be one of the major subjects of discussion at the tenth annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs here, July 9 to 14.

Miss Martha Connoles of East St. Louis, Ill., national legislative chairman, will present a resolution advocating the endorsement of a renewal of conversations between the United States and foreign powers relative to the entry of the United States into the court. Because of varying views on the world court issue, the resolution is expected to occasion lively debate.

Thus far the federation has not been one of the organizations participating in the Conference on the Cause and Cure of War. This year it will be invited to join the conference.

Another recommendation proposes vigorous prosecution of the federation's campaign for an increase in the exemption for single persons under the income tax law. More than 2,500 members of
