TWO STUDENTS PASS EXAMS WITH 100 PER CENT

A total of 137 of the 334 students who wrote in the recent bible study examinations were successful, according to announcement made here Friday by Charles A. Howard, state superintendent of public instruction.

Miss Luella Campbell of Day Creek, received a grade of 100 per cent in the New Testament examinations. Miss Della L. Hanville of Pacific academy at Newberg received a grade of 100 per cent in the Old Testament examinations.

Three students of the Yachats high school, of which Clyde L. Knapp is principal, received grades of over 90 per cent. This was the best school record in the May examinations. These students were Ida Carson, 93 per cent; Martha Howell, 95 per cent; and Ada L. Huffman, 96 per cent.

The percentage of failures in the May examinations was 59 per cent as against 79 per cent in the January tests.

A total of 175 persons took the examinations on the Old Testament and 159 on the New Testament. Of those taking the examinations 187 were girls and 85 were boys.

Eastern Tourists Now Registering at Camp

Wednesday night was the high mark at the municipal auto camp for the season thus far. Thirty-six cars were registered there that night, 30 of which were new and six holdovers from the night before.

The great trek from the eastern states is now reaching Salem. There were three cars in the camp from Minnesota that night, two from St. Paul and one from Forest Lake.

Among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McDonald from Dallas, Texas. They are delighted with Oregon and could hardly find words to express their admiration of Salem. Mrs. McDonald declared "People who live in pre-convention manager for the New York governor, reiterated that there would be no attempt at steamroller tactics; that New York state would insist upon freedom of speech in the convention and full liberty of action by all elements within the party. Governor Smith's declaration at New York yesterday that he had not changed his belief that amendment of the prohibition provisions was necessary was seized upon by the dregs as adding strength to their cause. But the Smith adherents argued that this declaration almost on the eve of the convention showed the sincerity of the New York executive.

Van Namee refused to concede that renewed discussion over prohibition might cause a bitter fight in the convention and his view was held by a number of other leaders who have not been over friendly to the cause of the governor of the Empire state.

Some of the Smith leaders took the position that the governor's declaration had in no way precluded their support of a strong dry enforcement plank in the party platform since he repeatedly has stated that the constitution must be upheld and enabling acts rigidly enforced.

Hot Fight Anticipated The anti-Smith groups were heartened by the arrival of Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, whom they expect to conduct a militant campaign to stop the governor.

The Missourian was prepared for a fight to the finish and his managers asserted that he would pick up strength steadily as the balloting in the convention proceeded, probably next Thursday or Friday.

For the present, at least, the anti-Smith group are ready to concentrate on no particular candidate; their sole purpose being to hold away from the governor a large enough block of votes to prevent him from obtaining the nomination. The leaders said that if Smith forces began to disintegrate it would be time enough then to agree upon a candidate.

Hull Takes Dry Stand Cordell Hull, who has the endorsement of the democracy of Tennessee for the presidential nomination, was called in tonight on the conference but he said that his only participation was to prepare a statement setting forth his views in favor of prohibition, a statement called forth by headlines in a local newspaper, but coming quickly upon the heels of Governor Smith's reiteration at New York that he had not changed his belief that the prohibition provisions should be amended.

Representative Hull said he was in a receptive mood but that he did not propose to enter into a bitter party fight such as attended the Madison Square Garden gathering. He added, however, he wanted his stand on prohibition as well as on other questions of the hour known to the country.

Meetings Held In Private A deal of secrecy was thrown around the conferences which are to be continued perhaps up to the very time of the balloting for the presidential nomination. Southern leaders now on the ground look for the augmenting of their forces as others arrive from Alabama, North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Virginia.

Some other of the Smith opponents were approached before the initial conference was held but it was reported that they had declined to become a party to any coalition aimed at Smith; that they insisted that their favorites should

LIONS TO SUPPORT M. OLSON PLAYERS

The Moroni Olson players, great favorites in Salem because of their sincere efforts to bring high class legitimate plays to cities which are seldom favored with plays of this type performed by professionals, will be sponsored in three appearances here next fall and winter by the Salem Lions club, it was decided at the Friday luncheon.

The Lions had charge of the Moroni Olson plays presented last winter, and they proved to be a financial success. The girls of the YWCA will aid in the ticket sale, as a sign of appreciation of the Lions' assistance in financing and building the YWCA camp building at Taylor's Grove.

A considerable advance sale was made last year, but it was reported that the sale at the door was even larger, indicating that this company has a large following in the city.

VAUDEVILLE BILL ELSINORE TODAY

The Elsinore will present its first Association Vaudeville bill today and in looking over the act it looks like a well balanced program is in store for lovers of this kind of entertainment. Heading the bill are the Three White Kuhns, a trio of clever boys singing their own songs; Mimi and Pomme, "Dancers Unique"; Bert Kay and Co. offer a comedy sketch in one act, "Doubt"; Sylvester & Wirth are College Athletes; George P. Wilson has a genuine surprise in his sketch "As You Like It."

The feature picture, "The Hawk's Nest" starring Milton Sills together with news completes the program. The shows on Saturday will be continuous from 2:00 to 11:00 p. m. with vaudeville at 3:00, 5:00, 7:00 and 9:00 p. m.

LEADER PUT OUT OF D. A. R. ORGANIZATION

Personal feelings and we rejoice that the fact that no such thing as a "blacklist" has ever been authorized by the national society has been thoroughly proved. We are especially happy that the establishment of this fact was brought about through Mrs. Bailey's admissions.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 22

(AP)—Mrs. Helen Tutts Ball, when informed tonight of the decision of the national board of managers of the D. A. R. to expel her from that organization, said that she expected such action and that it would only make her fight more vigorously.

HOOVER TO BE GIVEN NOMINATION NOTICE

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Secretary Hoover, the republican presidential nominee, practically completed today his pre-campaign conferences with party leaders and reported a decision to leave Washington between July 2 and 5 for his California home at Palo Alto, where he will receive the formal notification of his nomination.

On his trip west it is likely, although not definitely decided, that the nominee will visit President Coolidge in Wisconsin.

Whether he will present his resignation from the cabinet at that time or await a later date was not made known.

During the day Mr. Hoover conferred with Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Kansas City convention, Representative Walter S. Newton, Minnesota, who is the probable chairman of the campaign speakers' bureau and C. C. Hamlin, of Colorado, national committeeman from Colorado, and also received a brief visit from General Pershing.

The question of Secretary Hoover's visit to Wisconsin apparently has been left in abeyance pending the contemplated trip of Secretary Work to President Coolidge's summer residence to tender his resignation from the cabinet so as to assume his new post of republican national committee chairman. Mr. Work plans to leave for Wisconsin next week.

Senator Moses suggested today that the official notification of the nomination might well be held on August 10, Mr. Hoover's 55th birthday, but the suggestion probably will not be adopted. Secretary Work has indicated that the notification ceremony should come at the end of July and institute the active campaign.

The New Hampshire senator after his conference with the commerce secretary, referred to statements made by Governor Smith of New York and Norman H. Mack, a Smith supporter, on prohibition, declaring that "for every wet republican Smith could get, he would lose two dry women democrats." He added that the republican campaign efforts should be sharply stressed in the industrial eastern territory.

HONOR ROLL LISTS TWO SALEM BOYS

Summer Session at University Has Attendance Above 1927 Enrollment

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, June 22.—(Special)

Salem is represented on the spring term honor roll at the University of Oregon by Fred Johnson, a junior in business administration, and Lester G. Oehler, in his second year law who received no grade below "B" in any of their courses. They are two of 119 students who made this high record at the state university.

Nine students were given highest grades possible in all courses at the spring term. They are John B. Bell, Chris H. Beesen, Orlando J. Hollis, and DeElla Robnett, Eugene; John F. Lebor, Jane Cochran, Maxine Koon and Kathleen Tharaldsen, Portland; and Francis Coad, Hood River.

Announcement of the honor roll on which the Salem students' names appear marks the closing of records for the spring term at the university. Summer session, however, is already under way and the Eugene campus is almost as busy as during the regular school year, with attendance well above that of last year's summer courses.

A large number of prominent educators from all parts of the country are assembled on campus to form the strongest instructional staff in the history of a university summer session. These include Dr. Henry Suzzallo, of the Carnegie Foundation; Dr. Duncan Spauld, of Princeton; Theodore Schroeder, Boston, internationally recognized vocal instructor, and many others.
