DEPUTIES HONORED BY LARGE FUNERALS

Rumbles Heard in Jugo Slavia Following Burial of Two Statesmen

ZAGREB, Croatia, Jugo Slavia, June 22.—(AP)—Forty thousand persons packed the streets here today as the bodies of Paul Raditch and Dr. Basaritchek, killed in the chamber of deputies at Belgrade, were borne from the railroad station. The coffins were carried to the headquarters of the democratic peasants party where they lay in state while long lines of men, women and children filed past.

The fatal rioting of yesterday and last night gave way to sorrow. Augmented forces of troops were on hand to preserve order but there was little need for their services. For the time, at least, the enraged adherents of the slain deputies seemed inclined to follow the wish of Raditch's widow and let his life be the last sacrifice in the pacification of this three-nationed kingdom. What will happen, however, after the funerals tomorrow is a matter of dread and foreboding. There were plenty of muttered imprecations today against the government and many an expression of agreement in the announced program of the peasant party — to force the resignation of the cabinet and new elections throughout the kingdom.

The brokerage officials are charged with misappropriating 200 shares of oil stock, valued at $11,100, belonging to Roscoe F. Hunt, Portland.

The defendants are under bail under previous indictments on similar charges.
