Following their way through a crowd of troubles that had to do with everything except playing baseball, the Salem Senators are ready to get down to that phase of their existence again this afternoon, when they will attempt to hold their place at the top of the percentage column against the attack of Cottage Grove.

These boys from the south end of the valley are in last place and haven't won a game since the first one they played, but that only makes them the more dangerous. They are ready to take desperate chances in order to break into the win column again.

Earl Hill, first baseman and manager of the Cottage Grove team, who is himself a demon slugger standing second in number of hits for the season so far, has been gradually building up a formidable outfit and today's game may prove that it has arrived.

Two bad slugs in the infield have been plugged with the signing of Gordon Ridings and Brauner for the hot side. Hill and Heck have played good all season, so the infield is on a par with the rest now.

Last Sunday the problem was pitching. Hubbell, left handed who had done practically all of the mound work up to that time, failed his teammates and Leo Smith of Eugene was hastily signed up. Smith held the Bend Eagles to four hits for five innings, but due to the fact that he hadn't practiced for a number of weeks, wasn't able to keep it up and was driven out of the box in the seventh after allowing six hits and seven runs in the sixth.

Smith will be in better condition today, and the Senators are likely to have lots of worries before the game is over. The fans who accompanied the Senators to Cottage Grove a few weeks ago are harboring no illusions about today's game being an easy one. On that occasion Earl Hill's boys scored a run in the first inning and another in the third, and had the bases loaded a couple of times besides. Salem scored a run in the second and that was all it got until the fifth. The Senators scored six then and put the game on ice, but did it through Cottage Grove errors and not by heavy hitting. Salem finally won 10 to 4.

Aside from Hill, Cellars is the visitors' most dangerous hitter, although Ridings showed promise in his initial appearance and the new pitcher got two hits out of three times at bat.

FOOTBALL COACHES WILL VIE ON LINKS

CORVALLIS, June 23.—Football coaches of the Rockne-Schlesler summer football school have scheduled an 18 hole golf tournament which will be played off in the next few days on the Corvallis Country club golf course. Smart competition is expected in these matches as each participant feels himself to be an equal match for his competitor.

Rockne is expected to do big things in this tournament if he is granted the handicap requested by him. Schlesler seems to believe that Coach Rockne will need all the breaks and handicaps possible to get over the first frame of the tournament. Last year's tournament was fought out within the Gill family. Two of the brothers playing off for honors and awards.

The award offered for this tournament by the Wilson Western Sporting Goods company, will be presented to the winner by its representative, Mr. Bacon. The pairings for the tournament are: Rockne, Notre Dame, vs. Schlesler, O. S. C.; L. Gill, Salem, vs. Hubbard, College of Puget Sound; Anderson vs. Keene, Willamette; Gill, O. S. C., vs. Jonne, Washington high school; Lacey, Olympic club, vs. Smith, Gonzaga; Madigan, St. Mary's, vs. Lodei, O. S. C.; Bissett, Oakland Tech., vs. Harlow, O. S. C.

YANK WOMEN GOOD IN 100-METERS; LACK EXPERIENCE

HELEN FILKEY Chicago
MINNIE MEYER California
MARGARET JENKINS California
LILLIAN COPELAND-California
MEL SHEPPARD California

They run the century and toss the weights in presentable fashion, do these American women athletes, but their lack of experience in the 400-meter relay and 800-meter run may prove costly at the 1928 Olympics. Lillian Copeland of the Pasadena club, versatile athlete, is going in the 400-meter relay and throws a mean discus, as does also Margaret Jenkins, another fair Californian. Minnie Meyer, also of the west coast, is fast in the 100 meters and so is Helen Filkey of Chicago.

ARGUMENTS MANY OVER WALKER WIN

CHICAGO, June 23.—(AP)—Disputes over the decision that enabled Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, to retain his title against the murderous assault of Ace Hudkins, Nebraska's stubborn challenger in their title contest at Comiskey park last night, continued to rage today. The boxing experts and spectators were divided in their versions as to the winner of the battle in the water-soaked ring. Out of the mass of controversy stood out only one thing, to wit: That the promoter, Jim Mullen, sustained a loss that probably will be in the neighborhood of $15,000. The gross receipts of the fight were $128,952, according to the Illinois state athletic commission. Walker, it is understood, was guaranteed $75,000 and the challenger $25,000.

The so-called boxing experts varied more in their opinions on the decision than the three ring officials. Referee Eddie Purdy, who cast his vote for Hudkins, who the two judges were voting for Walker, said he did so because he figures Hudkins won six rounds. "I base my decision on the fact that Walker let Hudkins force him all over the ring," Purdy said. "The difference of opinion, no doubt, is due to the fact that Walker is a clean puncher, while Hudkins is a wild one. It was a matter of which style the fans preferred. Walker lost, in my opinion, because he made little or no effort to stop Hudkins' charges."

A check up on the verdicts of the Chicago papers gave Walker a five to one majority. A poll of the opinions of the out of town writers also gave the champion a top-heavy majority.

SLUGGERS ROBINS' SHOCK TROOPS

BROOKLYN, (AP)—Babe Herman and Rube Bressler, Brooklyn's hard-hitting outfielders, are being presented in a sort of shock troop role by Manager Wilbert Robinson. This pair, with Del Bissonette, represents a good share of the punch carried by the ambitious Robins. But with all of their batting prowess Babe and Rube are not rated as the best fielding combination in the league. So if they do their big bluff and slam act and the pitching appears dependable, Uncle Robbie sometimes excuses them to admit a stronger defensive duo.

Dr. Willing Defeats Moe In Finals of N. W. Tourney

PORTLAND, June 23.—(AP)—Dr. O. F. Willing, Waverley club, Portland, climaxed 10 days of brilliant golf today by adding to the Pacific northwest championship title which he won last week. Willing eclipsed all his previous par-breaking rounds of the week, and captured the amateur park tour for the second time in his career by defeating Don Moe, 38-year old local Alderwood star, 3 and 6. Moe is Oregon state champion. In winning the amateur title, Willing played through six 36 hole rounds, and made every one of them under par. He had averaged 73.8 strokes for 90 holes to win the open championship. Even as brilliant as he was in the early rounds of the tournament, Willing outdid himself in today's victory march. He was six under par for 37 holes and seven under to the 30th where the match ended. His best round of the ten-day tournament, a 67 this morning, brought young Moe in three down at lunch. Moe himself was two under par on the first 18. The doctor was never down in the final match today, despite the fact that young Moe, playing in his first big tournament match, played even par golf. Moe was out in 37 in the afternoon against Willing's 34, and finished the final three holes in par, taking even par for the day. Willing won his first Pacific northwest title in 1924, at Vancouver, B. C., defeating Willie Hunter, former British amateur champion, in the finals. The card for the morning round: Dr. Willing out 444 333 444—33. Moe, out 453 346 434—36. Willing, in 433 345 435—34—67. Moe, in 443 355 435—36—72. The afternoon card: Willing, out 444 354 334—34. Moe, out 355 354 444—37. Willing, in 433—11. Moe, in 543—12.

DARK HORSE NEARLY CAPTURES U. S. OPEN

BY ALAN J. GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor OLYMPIA, FIELD, Chicago, June 23.—(AP)—The greatest amateur of them all, Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, and the country's best dressed professional star, Johnny Farrell of New York, finished today in a tie for the open golf championship of the United States.

Each completed the regulation 72 hole competition with totals of 294. Farrell with rounds of 77-74-71-72 and Jones with cards of 73-71-73-77. In the fourth play off in six years and the third in which Jones has participated, they will meet tomorrow at 36 holes, to decide the champion and successor to the black Scot, Tommy Armour of Washington.

Hancock Blows Up Jones and Farrell finished deadlocked at the top of the big international field after a surprising and dramatic finish in which the third central figure, and "dark horse," Roland Hancock, of Wilmington, N. C. blew up on the last two holes with the championship and all its gold and glory in his grasp. He finished third, one stroke away with 295.

Hancock with only two holes to go and needing only par to beat his rivals by three strokes, heard the crowd yell "three cheers for the new champion," as he sank his par three on the 16th and went to the 17th tee. Whether this echoing shout or the delay taxed his nerves on the 17th tee or the swirling rush of the big gallery unnerved him, Hancock's game collapsed and he took a brace of sixes on the last two holes, where par was four and five, to see the title slip from him in a tragic crash.

Losses By Six Inches At that only six inches, the distance by which he missed his last desperate putt on the final hole, stood between Hancock and a tie that would make it a triple play-off. The 200-pound southerner wound up with scores of 74-77-72-72-295.

Hancock's finish was the dramatic climax that settled the issue for the day and left the two bigger stars of the golfing firmament out in front—Farrell, with a sensational come-back after rounds of 71-72, and Jones, the pace-setter for two previous rounds after a final tour of the number four links that nearly blasted his chances of having anything to say about the championship. Never before in championship competition has Jones skidded or slumped to the extent he did today, his prospects alternately rising and falling in an erratic round after he had appeared to have up a commanding lead.

One mill after another in the Baker gold belt is starting on continuous production and the output of precious metal this year will far exceed that of many years—Baker Democrat.
