SHORT UGLY WORD FLUNG IN COMMITTEE MEETING

Maryland Senator Calls Methodist Bishop Liar; Force Necessary to Bring Quiet

HOUSTON, Texas, June 27.—

(AP)—The resolution committee of the democratic national convention was thrown into confusion late today when debate on prohibition reached such heat that a fist fight nearly was started by Senator Millard Tidyings of Maryland, who took vigorous exception to statements made by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist church, South, regarding prohibition enforcement in his state.

Most of Prohibition Supporters Become Reconciled to Democratic Ticket Headed by Tammany Cohort

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON Associated Press Staff Writer HOUSTON, Texas, June 27.—(AP)—"Jim" Reed, of Missouri, picked up Oklahoma's 20 votes today as he battled on for the presidency, but the southern anti-Tammany, anti-wet wing of the anti-Smith faction was casting everything aside to salvage a dry plank out of the Smith onrush.

HOUSTON, Texas, June 27.—

(AP)—Wets and dries came to grips today before the democratic convention platform committee with a solemn prophecy by the prohibitionists that the democratic party was certain of defeat in November if it did not make an unequivocal declaration for enforcement of the 18th amendment.

Pair Who Jumped Bond Last Fall Under Arrest at Baker

Word was received by Sheriff

Oscar Bower here yesterday that R. W. Bricker and Ellen Bricker, arrested last October for operating a moonshine still just south of the Salem city limits, have been arrested and are being held at Baker.

THE TWO BRICKERS COST THEIR

bondsmen $1250 when they jumped bail shortly after their arrest here. Search was made for them by their bondsmen, who live in Portland, as well as by the authorities, but without result.

DEBUT WAS EXPRESSED WHETHER

they will be allowed their liberty again if they can persuade someone to go bond for them again. They now face the two charges, one having to do with illicit manufacture of liquor and the other with jumping bail.

BARGAIN DAY OFFERS APPEAR THIS ISSUE AND FRIDAY GREEN

The time has come when it is no longer necessary to promise that Salem's merchants will offer unprecedented values in almost every conceivable line of merchandise on Friday, the eleventh annual bargain day. Ample proof is to be found in the advertisements on the inner pages of this twelve page paper, and further corroboration will be found in Friday's Green section and in the regular pages of the Friday paper. Friday morning's issue will include 20 pages according to present indications, loaded to the margins with unequalled bargains.

Nearly every year a few small stores have essayed to obtain the benefit of the bargain day program without cooperating in it. Shoppers will find that the reliable merchants who offer bona fide bargains are the ones who show their fairness by cooperating with the rest. These are the merchants listed below, with probably a few more who will sign up today.

Shoppers are also advised to "look for the sign," the uniform card announcing that the merchant is participating in bargain day. The list of those who had signed up to last night follows:

COSTLY VIOLIN TAKEN BY THIEF

MISSING FROM CASE AT HOME OF DR. JOHN O. HALL

Instrument Made by Jean Baptiste Guadagnini in 1788 Valued Over $5000

Sometime within the last nine days a discriminating thief entered the home of Dr. John O. Hall, head of the public speaking department at Willamette university, at 161 North 13th street and removed from its case the valuable Guadagnini violin which was the educator's cherished possession.

The theft may have been committed at any time within the period mentioned, as neither Dr. Hall nor any member of his household had opened the case since nine days ago. The instrument had been kept in a closet.

OS RECONCILED TO BACKING AL

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN AGREES TO KEEP POST

"I Will Be Found Supporting the Nominee of the Houston Convention," He Says

PORTLAND, June 27.—(AP)—Oswald West, democratic national committeeman of Oregon, will not resign in case Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York is nominated. This, he declared emphatically tonight when told there was talk among the Oregon delegation at Houston of attempting to side-track him because his opinion on the prohibition question does not coincide with those of Smith.

"If those fellows at Houston want to make fools of themselves, let them try to fire me as democratic national committeeman," he declared.

"I see that Dan Fry says he saw a statement from me that I would resign if Smith is nominated. I never saw such a statement, never made such a statement, and such is not my intention.

"I do not intend to resign if Smith is nominated. I am not a short sport and I will be found supporting the nominee of the Houston convention.

"It is true that I fought Smith in the primaries, as was my privilege but if he is nominated, I will support him, for that is the function of the national committeeman. I am willing to take my medicine.

"Those fellows from Oregon at Houston had better walk carefully. I was elected national committeeman by the democratic voters of Oregon. I am the people's choice and the delegates have nothing to say about it. If they try to declare my office vacant or fill it with someone else, they will find that I am still on the job and that I have a lot of democratic friends in Oregon."
