Ogden Mills Accepts Smith's Defy for N. Y.

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP).—Ogden L. Mills, under secretary of the treasury and one of the original Hoover boosters, in an address tonight accepted the democratic challenge to make New York the battleground in the presidential election.

Mr. Mills who was defeated by Governor Smith in 1926, spoke at the ratification meeting of the Kings County republican committee, in Brooklyn.

"We are told that New York will be the battleground," he said. "Be it so. Under the leadership of Hoover and Curtis, the united and militant republicans of the city of New York stand ready to meet the challenge of the democratic party, and here in its own stronghold to crush the aspirations of Tammany hall to place its favorite son in the White House and to extend its dominion over the United States."
