GRADE SCHOOL HAS BIG HEALTH FIELD

23,000,000 Elementary Children Subject to Health Programs

MINNEAPOLIS, July 3.—(AP)—The elementary schools offer the most valuable field for well balanced physical and health education programs.

Citing figures published by the association's journal, he pointed out that 23,000,000 children could be reached with such programs in the first to eighth grades, as compared with 4,000,000 in the high schools and 700,000 in the colleges.

"A school physical education and health education program," he said, "must if it is to be considered a contribution to the general program of education and community welfare, be sold to the community as a whole and in particular to the parents of the boys and girls attending the public schools."

PEKING, China, July 3.—(AP)—General Kai-shek made a triumphal entry into the old capital yesterday when he arrived from Hankow on his mission to escort the remains of Dr. Sun Yat-sen from their temporary resting place near here to a new memorial tomb at Nanking.

The meeting of military leaders here, although ostensibly only for the purpose of paying reverence to the memory of the dead leader, is expected to form the occasion of a high military conference at which the question of whether the Manchurian campaign should be pushed will be discussed.

DEMONSTRATION AND LECTURES FAVORED

Study Science Best Accomplished in this Manner, Educator Believes

MINNEAPOLIS, July 3.—(AP)—Application of scientific methods to determination of the best method of teaching science in secondary schools was suggested to the department of science instruction of the National Education association today by A. W. Hurd of the University of Minnesota.

"The use of the lecture-demonstration," he told the science teachers, "has been thought by a good many to be equal to, if not superior to individual laboratory work, besides being much more economical of time and expense."

"Measurements by means of tests of information about experiments performed by both methods agree quite well in showing lecture-demonstration equal in immediate recall. There seems on the whole, however, to be some advantage for the individual laboratory method in the measurement of retained information, though this is not wholly exclusive nor the difference great."

The questions raised in the controversy must be answered conclusively by the procurement of evidence through controlled experiments, he said, adding that "if the progress of natural science has been due largely to knowledge gained through controlled experimentation, so we may look confidently to such methods for the discovery of knowledge in the field of educational procedures."

JOYOUS COMEDY BRINGS THRILLS

"Buck Privates" a Joyous Comedy of the American Army of Occupation will visit the Capitol theater starting today.

Lya De Putti, noted Continental star, will be seen in her fifth American-made photoplay which is, incidentally, said to embrace her best and most sympathetic role. Malcolm McGregor, a typical young American college graduate is one of the buck privates and gets, as it were, in Dutch, with the little German girl, played by Miss De Putti.

The story is from the pen of Captain Stuart N. Lake, a war veteran of many decorations, and the hundreds of men who appear as soldiers in the picture are all World War veterans having seen service overseas. More than score of them wear wound stripes and have been decorated for valor.

PULMOTER ARRIVES TOO LATE BY PLANE

Air Race With Death Lost; Son of Frisco Attorney Passes Away

LAKEPORT, Cal., July 3.—(AP)—An air race with death was lost today when two planes, carrying a pulmotor from San Francisco to Lakeport, arrived too late to save the life of Douglas A. Nye, Jr., nine year old son of a prominent San Francisco attorney. The boy fell into Clear lake and after working over the unconscious youth for hours physicians pronounced him dead. This was shortly before the planes arrived.

When word was received in San Francisco today that young Nye had fallen into the lake, the boy's father left immediately for Lakeport. Meanwhile Heim Goldman, Nye's law partner, procured from Fire Chief Thomas Murphy a pulmotor, a member of the fire department hopped off with it in a plane piloted by Virgil Cline.

When Goldman chartered the plane Aloha, owned and piloted by Martin Jensen, who won second place in the Dole flight to Hawaii, Jensen took off with Dr. R. W. Garrett and another pulmotor.

Both planes arrived at Lakeport at 3:30 p. m., but local doctors had previously pronounced the boy dead. Dr. Garrett examined the lad and concurred in the Lake county doctors' opinion.

SERVANTS HIGHER AT ANNUAL HIRING

NEVERS, France, July 3.—(AP)—The milkmaid's dream of going on the stage and the farm hand's desire for factory wages have brought higher bids at the annual "hiring fair" here, where hundreds of farm hands meet their employers and dicker for their next year's employment.

Wages for the coming year will be increased, but still able young farm girls, with pleasant dispositions and muscles like a blacksmith's, will draw only $12 to $13 a month. Farm "valets" will get from $13 to $20, and shepherds, whose profession seems very lovely in poetry, will have from $10 to $13 a month. Boy and girl shepherds, who get lots of exercise, are priced at $4.65 to $7 a month.

Naturally all the farm and field hands are housed and fed.

W. O. W. MEET ENDS OAKLAND, July 3.—(AP)—The fifteenth quadrennial session of the Woodmen of the World was at an end today. More than 1,000 delegates were preparing to leave Oakland for their homes after passing a resolution to adopt modern rate insurance policies. This resolution had caused a controversy and the session was prolonged one day to settle it.

KILLINGS CONTINUE NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—The body of James Sener, 35, Italian, thought to be a victim of a gang murder, was found in a vacant lot in Brooklyn this morning. The killing was the third of a series which began Sunday afternoon with the slaying of Frankie Uelo, former racketeer and confederate of "Scarface Al" Capone.

"LOVE AND LEARN" COMES TO OREGON

Esther Ralston, who has perhaps, as many admiring fans as the most popular motion picture actress today, appears in "Love and Learn," Paramount's newest picture in which the beautiful star with the golden hair is starred at the Oregon theater.

This production differs somewhat from the type of picture Miss Ralston has been accustomed to, in that she plays a light comedy role. It should not be construed, however, that she is entering the comedy field, with "Love and Learn," but because of the many intriguing situations that occur, Miss Ralston finds herself performing before the camera in such a manner that is sure to provoke the loudest laughter, although the situations are very serious to her.

"I enjoyed making 'Love and Learn' as much if not more than any picture I have done," declared Miss Ralston after the picture had been completed at the Hollywood studios of Paramount.

The story called for my trying to get in trouble so my parents would not get a divorce. In other words, by getting myself in bad with the police, my idea was to divert their attention from their separation, and by so doing, to draw their efforts together by getting me out of trouble. It was great fun," she added.

AGED FALLS CITY RESIDENT PASSES

Funeral Services for Mrs. Emily Hicks Calkins to be Held Thursday

FALLS CITY, July 3.—(Special)—Mrs. Emily Hicks Calkins, long time resident of Falls City, died at her home here Tuesday, July 3.

Emily Hicks was born in East Bloomfield, New York, July 23, 1851, nearly 77 years ago. When just a child she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hicks, natives of England, to Hillsdale county, Michigan, where they resided for many years. On July 4, 1867, she was united in marriage with H. S. Calkins.

In May, 1893, Mr. and Mrs. Calkins, with their family, came west, lured by the possibilities of financial success in timber interests. They established a home on the banks of the Little Luckiamute river, in the delightfully located town of Falls City, where they lived together until 14 years ago when on Jan. 5, 1914, Mr. Calkins died.

The family was interested in church, school and civic development of the community, Mr. Calkins being at one time mayor of Falls City.

Mrs. Calkins was a faithful christian, having been in turn a member of the Baptist church and the church of Christ, for more than 50 years. She was loved by all who knew her for her cheerful and kindly spirit, even though many times suffering much pain and sickness.

Mrs. Calkins leaves to mourn, her three children, who will miss a loving and devoted mother, two grandchildren and numerous relatives in Sunnyvale, California, the second daughter, Mrs. H. C. Courter in Portland, and her only son, Park S. Calkins, who resided with his mother in Falls City. There are two grandchildren, Mrs. J. Frank Cunningham of St. Helens, and Kermit C. Courter of Dallas, and two great grandchildren, little Emily Jean Cunningham and Melvin C. Courter.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. A. H. Dodd at two o'clock Thursday from the Christian church in Falls City, with interment in the old Falls City cemetery on the hill beside her husband.

AL SMITH ALL READY FOR HIS CAMPAIGN

New York Governor Will Make Hard Fight for U. S. Presidency

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith said today that he was in physical condition to start his campaign for the presidency right away but he made it clear that he has no intention of being stamped into firing the opening guns prematurely.

"What's the use of starting the campaign on July 31?" he asked as reporters began firing questions at him about the strategy to be employed by the Smith forces. "I have nothing to say about the campaign. All that will be ironed out later and will not be decided until after the meeting of the national committee here on July 11."

The governor spent the day quietly with members of his family and a few friends, even cutting his usual two interviews with reporters to one meeting because he said he had no news to give out.

"Do you expect your campaign will be a hard one?" he was asked at this interview.

"Certainly," he replied. "I never saw one that was easy."

Tomorrow the governor makes two addresses, one at Tammany hall and the other in the evening at City hall. These speeches will be entirely of a patriotic nature, the governor having decided to say nothing of political import prior to his formal acceptance of the nomination probably early in August.

Thursday he will return to Albany, where he will occupy himself with state business until the meeting of the national committee at which a chairman is to be selected and the general plan of campaign decided upon.

Iowa Tourists Seeking Glimpse of Oregon Sun

J. B. Tucker and family of Cambridgeport, Pennsylvania, have come all the way to Salem in their Buick, and are staying at the Municipal auto camp.

Dr. David Osterheld and family of Los Angeles have been touring the northwest the past few weeks, and Monday night stopped at the Cherry City cottages. On most of their trip they have spent the nights at hotels, and Monday night was only the third night that they had spent in an auto camp. Those three nights convinced them that a cabin in an auto camp is comfortable enough, and Dr. Osterheld declared that next year the family will come equipped to use auto camp accommodations.

The Municipal auto camp was well filled last night, and the indications were that a large number of people would spend the Fourth there rather than in traveling an overcrowded highway.

We hear a good deal of talk about "cheap politics," when the fact of the business is all kinds of politics are costly.—Crane day.
