EDUCATION COST 6 CENTS HIGHER

SALEM PER CAPITA FIGURE FOR THIS YEAR $90.37

Four Grades of High School Have Enrollment of 1,737 Pupils

The per capita cost of educating the 1,737 pupils of the four grades of the high school in Salem was just six cents more for the year ending June 1, 1928, than for 1927, despite the fact that there were more teachers, fuel costs were higher and some of the other incidental expenses were a trifle greater. On the other hand, it is true some of the minor expenses entering into the instructional cost were lower than last year.

Total cost of running the four grades, including the ninth grades at Leslie and Parrish junior highs, was $154,206.44 this year, as against $141,576.64 a year ago, comparative figures compiled by Superintendent Hug show. The per capita cost this year was $104.33 with $103.94 for 1927. On these two figures, however, are deducted $12.96 and $13.63, respectively, for interest on the fair value of investment in buildings after depreciation has been taken into consideration, leaving $90.37 and $90.31 respectively. Last year was the first time school districts were allowed to discount the per capita cost with the investment interest figure. The greater interest on investment for 1928 is due to the fact that the Leslie school building is new and therefore has less depreciation value than the other McKinley building, used as a junior high last year.

Total interest set on the investment after depreciation for 1928 is $20,627.48, and for 1927, $18,554.30.

The superintendent's figures show 1,638 pupils attended the four grades a year ago, 49 less than the 1,737 of 1928. The pupils had an average daily attendance in 1928 of 1,478 days, with 1,362 last year's average. Total days attendance for the year was 32,415, with last year's attendance totaling 232,838.

There were 65 full time teaching paths.

'PAT' ADORABLE AT CHAUTAUQUA

TENT AUDIENCE DELIGHTED WITH FIRST PLAY

Cathedral Choir and Light Opera "Pinafore" Attractions for Today

"Adorable," newspaper scribes and college professors do agree, is an overused adjective, conveying little or nothing. But just plain, downright adorable was Patricia Harrington, called Pat for short, and the life of "The Patsy," termed America's most beloved comedy of today, which certainly blew the blues away from a tent full of people at last night's chautauqua offering. (Albeit that a forementioned forementioned blowing if audience humor, applause and reciprocal feeling are indicative.)

There were but six characters: Patricia whose intelligent use of her $12 look on "how to be popular; even if not good-looking" brought gales of merriment; Mr. Hooper, the society-clerk who had been taught her to "do the sportsmanlike thing"; the sister Grace, who made life miserable for all, even the mother who took her part, and whose greatest concern was "what will the Caldwell's think"; Billy Caldwell, to whom Grace had become engaged after turning down Tony Anderson, who could do nothing but "sit around like a bump on a log and talk psychology"; and Tony himself, who had been so infatuated with Grace he no more than knew there was a younger sister.

All of from which the end of the play is easily surmised: how the ugly and snarly tempered, but physically beautiful Grace lost her heart to the handsome and charming Tony; how Grace and Billy patched up their quarrel; how Billy Harrington came to act like a real husband for the first time in 25 years. Of course there were a series of mirth provoking, yet un- touched here with a bit of pathos here and there, incidents leading to the inevitable climax.

Bill Harrington, the Dad, shared with Pat the audience's favor. The dislike the audience seemed to feel for the mother, and the almost revulsion for the daughter Grace but marked their characterizations as well done.

"The Patsy," may have contained a few puns for those carrying cynics who go to a play to pick it to pieces, but for those who go for the pure enjoyment of going, the play was a success.

The present Chautauqua program will enter its third day today, with the Cathedral choir under the personal direction of H. W. D. Toley, attraction for both afternoon and evening. The evening performance will be a double bill, with the Cathedral choir's program augmented by the opera "Pinafore" given in full and in costume.

Children of the junior age are especially invited to attend the Junior Chautauqua held at 9 o'clock every morning and which will terminate in pageant on which work will be well under way today.

DRY CAMPAIGN OUTLINED

People May Send Prohibitionists To Congress, Stated

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 6.—(AP)—Suggestion that "people exercise the right of sending dry candidates to congress," if they do not want modification of the 18th amendment, was made today by former Governor Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming, upon her return to Cheyenne from the national democratic convention in Houston.

"If elected, Governor Smith may exercise the right of recommending modification of the laws which have been enacted under the prohibition amendment," Mrs. Ross said. "But democratic members of congress may also exercise the right of declining to vote for such modification. And democratic voters, may, if they choose, support only such candidates for congress as will decline so to vote."

Crowd Doesn't Tumble To Fact That It's Show

Hundreds Gather in Wilson Park to Enjoy Pleasant Evening. Chat With Friends, but Most of All to Watch 'Rest of the Crowd'; Music Nearly Forgotten

By RALPH CURTIS
Once upon a time a proud father and mother took their nineteen children to see the elephants. But the tickets, according to this old English story, were expensive, piece, and even in those days, before everybody knew what the H. C. of L. meant, parents of nineteen children had few sixpences to spare. They started to walk sorrowfully away, but the man at the gate stopped them.
"Are those all your children?" he asked.
"They are," said father.
"Wait a minute," said the gate keeper. "And—"

The pleasant green lawn at Wilson Park was dotted with small groups of people yesterday evening about dusk, and other groups were walking about on the winding paths.

There were groups of girls, generally three to a group—why is it that girls so often walk in groups of three? And there were groups of boys, some in knee trousers and some grown men in suits. Then there were family parties; father and mother and one, two, three—who cares about statistics? And there were also combination parties; two families; one family and some of the neighbors' children. One boy and one girl goes without saying there were lots of those.

Here was Salem's cross-section; its average; but what a good average! All nice looking people; nicely dressed; respectable; intelligent. Where were the fellows who shot skyrocket down a crowded sidewalk of State street the other evening? Right there in the crowd, perhaps, but nobody knows.

WOMEN LEAVE BOURBON ARMY SCORING SMITH

Wet Brand Too Much for Formerly Loyal Members of Their Party

BERKELEY, Cal., July 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Carrie L. Hoyt, Berkeley club woman and counselor of the women's democratic club of Alameda county, tonight, in commenting on Mrs. Clem L. Shaver's attack on Governor Smith, declared a large group of democratic women in Alameda county would refuse to support Smith for president.

"I shall be unable to support the Smith wet ticket," said Mrs. Hoyt, in part. "A majority of the members of our club stand as I do."

Mrs. H. H. Rogers, past president of the same club, said the organization had adopted a resolution declaring they opposed a wet candidate. She said she personally "did not see her way clear to support Smith."

John O. Davis, who headed the McAdoo-Walsh forces in northern California in the primary campaign last spring, announced in San Francisco that he would have a statement to issue in about a week.

"Charlatan and Faker"
WASHINGTON, July 6.—(AP)—Charging that Governor Smith, democratic party candidate for reelection, had "stamped himself as a charlatan and a faker," Mrs. Clem L. Mrs. Shaver is chairman of the West Virginia division of the national women's democratic law enforcement league.

Mrs. Shaver said in her statement: "Regardless of what democratic leaders from top to bottom may do, we dry democratic women will not support the dripping wet ticket and the joke platform named by the Tammany delegates at the recent convention at Houston."

NEW YORK, July 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the man who nominated Governor Smith at Houston, in answer today to Mrs. Clem L. Shaver's attack on the democratic nominee said she believed Mrs. Shaver had been "misled" by a group that considered the Volstead law enforcement "more important than truth or fair play."

"Mrs. Shaver's attack is well in line with the extreme and frequent untruthful statements made by her," she believed Mrs. Shaver said, "and is representative of the Women's Democratic Law Enforcement committee of Baltimore," said Mrs. Roosevelt, who is an active Smith campaigner.

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 6.—(AP)—The two-year-old mystery of the brutal killing of Miss Lily Dale Croy, young school teacher, who was struck down in the midst of the terrorism caused by the notorious Toledo slugger two years ago, was cleared up today with the confession of Charles J. The confession, Dr. Querner said, was obtained by himself and Attorney Eldon H. Young, chief of defense counsel for the accused man, and was introduced to the court to strengthen their belief that Hoppe should be sent to an asylum for the insane rather than put to death in the electric chair.

DAN POLING FLAYS AL

Christian Endeavor Societies Oppose Tammany Man

PORTLAND, July 6.—(AP)—Christian Endeavor societies of all sections of the nation oppose the candidacy of Governor Alfred Smith of New York and will make it the subject of a crusade, according to Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor, who addressed a mass meeting of Endeavorers here tonight.

Declaring he spoke for all Endeavorers, Dr. Poling said: "We oppose the candidacy of Governor Smith. There are two reasons—Tammany and prohibition. There is one way out—Hooper."

Dr. Poling described as a "profound fallacy" the program which he said the governor intended to carry out. "State definition, state interpretation, state determination of the constitution of the United States is the platform of Tammany Hall's candidate for president," he declared.

Lieutenant Lundborg, Who Rescued Noble, First to Be Taken Off Ice Floe by Another Swedish Aviator Lieutenant Shyberg; Others Expected At Base Soon

STOCKHOLM, July 6.—(AP)—Lieutenant Einar-Paul Lundborg, the daring Swedish aviator who rescued General Umberto Nobile on an ice floe off Foyin Island, has himself been rescued by another Swedish aviator, Lieutenant Shyberg.

After Lundborg had carried General Nobile back to Kinga Bay he met with disaster in an attempt to rescue others of the five men marooned on the ice. His plane was overturned and he had to remain with them.

A Swedish expedition got out to search for the various groups of castaways of the Nobile party, and particularly to carry aid to the men left behind near Fogasland, to provision them and to make a landing if that was found possible. Two seaplanes flew over this group and dropped supplies. Later they proceeded along the coast of

BULLETS STRIKE PROFESSOR, SON

UNKNOWN ASSAILANT FIRES INTO CAMPERS' TENT

SERIOUS INJURIES INFLICTED ON DR. GEORGE N. SLEIGHT AND VIRGIL SLEIGHT

ESTES PARK, Colo., July 6.—(AP)—Mysteriously attacked while they slept, Dr. George N. Sleight, 55, head of the department of education at Lake Forest college, Ill., and his son, Virgil, 25, educator at Clinton, N. Y., were shot and seriously wounded by an assailant who fired four bullets into their tent at the camping grounds here shortly after dark yesterday.

An all day search of the forests of the Estes Park area failed to yield any trace of the attackers, whose identity and motives were completely shrouded in mystery. Park officials expressed the belief that the shooting was the work of a maniac.

The condition of the elder Sleight, who, with his son, was removed to a private hospital, was critical tonight. He suffered two bullet wounds, one in the left cheek and another in the left temple.

The younger Sleight was shot both in the right and left side of his forehead and physicians expressed hope that he would recover. Virgil Sleight is assistant professor of the school of theology at Hamilton college.

In semi-conscious condition at the hospital, the younger Sleight related he had seen a man of medium height, dark complexion and wearing a checkered suit standing near with a revolver in one hand. The man fled into the heavily timbered forests and soon was lost to pursuers who were notified after the sun awakened the other campers in a nearby tent.

FIGHT OVER TABERNACLE

Second Temporary Injunction Falls to Halt Building

DALLAS, Texas, July 6.—(AP)—Despite the issuance of a second temporary injunction ordering cessation of construction of a tabernacle for the Fundamental Baptist church here, more than 50 women and boys continued work on the structure today, building part of the roof after men in the congregation had laid down their tools in obedience to an injunction issued yesterday by County Judge Towne Young.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Earl Anderson, pastor of the church, spent the day in the hospital ward of the Dallas county jail where he was sent yesterday when Judge Young found him guilty of violating the first temporary injunction and fined him $100 and costs and set his bond at $1,000.

Judge Young issued the first injunction after residents in the vicinity of the tabernacle had charged that city ordinances providing for fireproof structure and seating capacity and for widening of one street on which the tabernacle is located were being violated.

G. O. P. LEADERS TOLD TO DODGE WET QUESTION

Religion Also Excluded as Campaign Issue, Hubert Work Advises

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(AP)—Members of the republican national committee were counseled in a letter made public today by the committee chairman, Hubert Work, to exclude religion and prohibition as political issues and to wage their campaign for Herbert Hoover along "informative and constructive" lines.

The letter, dated June 29, said "The campaign policy we proposed to follow will be informative and constructive only" and added that "the promptings of conscience and personal liberty withheld in the law are not proper subjects for political debate."

In a verbal statement later Chairman Work said the reference was to prohibition and religion and he asserted with emphasis that the republican management "did not appear to make prohibition an issue in this campaign."

Work's letter set forth that the campaign should stress the tariff and the party's record. He said there would be no other general representation of the republican views of campaign issues until Mr. Hoover's acceptance speech at Stanford university near the end of July.

He added that he "never" admitted the letter to committee members which declared that "a tariff on imports is, of course, one of the outstanding issues of this campaign."

In advance of the meeting of national committeemen from the eastern region which will assemble here tomorrow, Secretary Hoover was engaged in assisting his national chairman and associates.

FLYERS TAKEN TO RIO JANEIRO BY MAIL PLANE

Two Intrepid Italians to be Given Huge Ovation on Arrival There

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, July 6.—(AP)—A well earned rest was enjoyed today at Natal by captains Arturo Ferrarin and Major Carlo P. Del Prete. They were brought there by a Brazilian mail plane from Touros, 50 miles north of Natal, where they finally landed after giving up their attempt to reach Rio Janeiro on the second leg of their record-breaking flight from Rome.

The fliers were in the air 51 hours and 59 minutes, and established a world nonstop record of 4147 miles. That feat was accomplished when they landed at Colmit Genpabu, 10 miles north from Natal, at 7:50 p. m. last night. They rested there an hour and 20 minutes then took off for this city, but lost their course in a welter of mist and rain, finally coming down at Touros.

Nearly 60 hours in air
The aviators reckoned that they had been in the air a total of 59 hours, excluding the brief rest at the two beaches north of Natal. They said that the average speed on the record-breaking part of their flight was about 175 kilometers, (108 2-3 miles) an hour.

Both men were in excellent spirits but they showed the wearisome effects of their long sustained effort and returned to their hotel where even messages from the Italian ambassador were kept from them until they had rested.

KAISER GREET'S FLYERS

Transatlantic Trio Entertained by Wilhelm Hohenzollern

DOORN, Holland, July 6.—(AP)—The "three musketeers of the air," Koehl, Fitzmaurice and Von Huenefeld—tonight were winding up their close association with Kaiser Wilhelm at Doorn, Ireland, when they manned the Junkers plane Bremen for the first east-west flight across the Atlantic. They were guests at Doorn castle of William Hohenzollern, Tomorrow they will separate. Major Fitzmaurice is returning to Ireland and Captain Koehl and Baron Von Huenefeld going to Germany.

They were guests at a state banquet attended by 25 selected guests. At this function they recalled that when he was reigning over all Germany he took the greatest interest in the development of German technology and never missed an opportunity to further it.

It was ascertained that the landing gear of the S-4 was damaged by the descent on the beach at Touros. One wheel was broken but it can readily be replaced.

Pending these repairs the Italians are to continue their journey to Rio Janeiro tomorrow in one of the postal planes of the Latécoere company.

The plane is to stop at Pernambuco, Maceio, Bahia and Caravelas. It will remain at the last named city Saturday night and proceed to Rio Janeiro Sunday with a stop at Victoria intervening.
