SYRIANS KILL AMERICAN

Yankee Wife of Clerk at U. S. Consulate Shot Down

BEIRUT, Syria, July 10.—(AP)—Kallih Saleeby and his American wife, who was a clerk in the United States consulate here, were assassinated Saturday night on the street within a few yards of their doorway. The policeman who pursued the assassins also was killed.

An investigation is being conducted but its results have not been announced. The tragedy took place about 8 p. m.

It is generally believed the murders were the result of a family feud and a dispute of villagers over water rights. The French and Syrian authorities are making every effort to apprehend the assassins.

Mrs. Saleeby, although married to a Syrian, retained her American citizenship under the Cable law. She was formerly employed in the American consulate in Paris, where she met her husband, a Syrian artist.
