NEW MAGAZINE FOR VETERANS NOW PROPOSED

Legionnaires of Five Counties Favor Discontinuing Present Paper

RECOMMENDATION MADE

Resolutions That Will Be Presented at Department Convention Discussed at Council Session Here in Salem

The discontinuance of the present official publication for the American Legion, Department of Oregon—the establishment of a new journal under a new name and incorporated by the state department—the creation of an advisory board of five members to control the affairs of this paper in conjunction with the state executive committee and the possible decrease of dues from such an arrangement, were the salient recommendations in the resolution introduced and passed unanimously at a meeting of representatives of American Legion posts from Washington, Marion, Yamhill, Polk and Tillamook counties in Salem last night.

The resolution would allow of proposals to be submitted to the advisory board and the executive committee and from these the one best suited to the needs of the department would be adopted.

No recommendations were made relative to the size or kind of publication favored; however, it was the opinion that possibly a twice a month newspaper would be ideal. This resolution will be presented at the convention of the American Legion of Oregon at Medford on August 2-3-4. Its adoption by the district representatives followed a lengthy discussion which called in reports from various prominent state Legionnaires.

Council Meets Here

The Inter-County Council met as guests of Capital Post No. 9 last night and after a brief welcoming talk by Commander "Fond" Malson the gavel of authority was handed to E. J. Hayless of Sheridan district executive committee.

After a short business session the meeting resolved itself into a committee of the whole representing delegates from various posts.

TO CONSTRUCT THIRD NORMAL

REGENTS APPROVE ERECTION LA GRANDE BUILDING

Decision Follows Statement That Financial Condition Brighter

The state normal school board of regents, meeting in the executive department here Friday, voted to proceed with construction of the Eastern Oregon normal school at LaGrande. The sum of $175,000 has been appropriated for the building and equipment of the school.

The decision to proceed with the construction of the normal school plant followed consideration of a statement prepared by the state board of control indicating that the financial condition of the state is not as unsatisfactory as was contemplated at the time the legislature convened in January, 1927.

The statement indicated that the state revenues from sources other than the tax levy aggregated between $150,000 and $200,000 in excess of the estimates, while the unexpected balances from authorized appropriations of the 1927 legislature would exceed $40,000.

The law creating the Eastern Oregon state normal school was approved by the voters in the year 1926, with the result that the legislature in 1927 authorized an appropriation of $175,000 to defray the cost of the plant and equipment. The site for the normal school, together with other concessions, was contributed by the city of LaGrande.

Report submitted at yesterday's meeting showed that approximately 950 students are now enrolled at the Monmouth normal school, while between 350 and 400 students are registered at the Southern Oregon normal school at Ashland. It was argued that in building the Eastern Oregon normal school crowded conditions at Monmouth and Ashland would be relieved materially.

The Eastern Oregon normal school will be two stories high, with basement, and of reinforced concrete construction. It will be 30 x 224 feet in dimensions. The plant probably will be completed

ALL BUSINESS FINISHED

G. O. P. Leader Puts Affairs Into Shape Before Leaving to Accept Formal Nomination As Candidate

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover brought to a close today his service as secretary of commerce extending more than seven years since President Harding took office. Tomorrow he starts for the Pacific coast where he will be notified of his nomination as republican candidate for president.

Smiling and apparently happy, Hoover closed the day quietly after calling in newspaper men to express his appreciation of their cooperation during his term as secretary.

His resignation as secretary of commerce is in the hands of President Coolidge and Mr. Hoover, who goes to confer with the president on Monday, understands that it will be accepted. The secretary is one of three cabinet members still in office who entered the cabinet upon the return of the republican administration in 1921. Secretaries Mellon and Davis of the labor department are the other two.

Business Wound Up
Mr. Hoover devoted the entire day to routine government business in connection with closing his desk finally tomorrow. It is believed that Mr. Coolidge will name a successor before Hoover returns to Washington late in August to participate in the campaign. William M. Butler, former secretary from Massachusetts and recently chairman of the republican national committee, and Ambassador Dwight Morrow to Mexico are among those being mentioned to succeed Hoover.

The republican nominee will set forth tomorrow night for his residence in Palo Alto, Calif., where on August 11 he will be notified formally of his nomination and in a speech of acceptance will outline his views on the campaign and its issues.

Large Group Attends
Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, the republican leader of the house, and Mrs. Tilson; a group of newspapermen and photographers; a staff of stenographers and George Akerson, secretary to Mr. Hoover, will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Hoover westward.

Nature Study Specialist Will Teach Classes, Aid in Photographic Activities; Chief Bent to Have Charge of Camp Fire Ceremonies; Bill East Aquatic Star

Salem YMCA officials are well pleased with the group of men who will direct the activity of the Marion county boys' summer camp this season, beginning July 24. With such a group of leaders and the excellent camp site that has been arranged the camp this year is bound to be a success.

Leo Simons of Portland is an expert in birdlore and nature study, and will teach classes in these subjects each morning. He is also an expert photographer, and will give the boys pointers on getting good pictures of their vacation.

Dwight Adams of Willamette university and Northwest conference basketball star will assist Bob Boardman as manager of the camp. Dwight's brother, Hugh, from OSC will also be a leader. Wes Heise will be head bugler and will be in charge of camp music.

Hiking facilities at Ocean-side are fine, and the camping accommodations are of the best. About 40 boys already have signed up to go to camp and are looking forward to it with eagerness.

ADMINISTRATION SECURES PEACE

CHILE AND PERU GETTING TOGETHER AT LAST

Secretary of State Kellogg Reports to President Coolidge at Superior

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 13.—(AP)—Complete success in his efforts to induce the governments of Chile and Peru to resume the diplomatic relations between them which they interrupted seventeen years ago, was reported to President Coolidge today by Secretary of State Kellogg.

Further communications from the state department today, announcing Germany's unconditional acceptance of Secretary Kellogg's draft for a multilateral treaty renouncing war and creating a favorable reply from France by the end of the week, strengthened greatly Mr. Coolidge's confidence in the early conclusion of such an anti-war covenant.

In addition to the progress already made in these fields of foreign affairs, President Coolidge is hopeful that in view of late developments in China a government may soon be established there which will warrant American recognition.

President Coolidge is greatly gratified at the success of Mr. Kellogg's initiative in both his South American endeavors and in his efforts to consolidate the peace of the world. Unconditional acceptance of the secretary of state's proposal regarding resumption of relations with both Chile and Peru is regarded here as constituting a great step towards final solution of the unsatisfactory international situation on the west coast of South America. With varying degrees of intensity, relations between Chile and Peru have been strained since the war between them in 1879.

The new development in Chile-Peruvian relations, it is emphasized, does not touch the fundamental difference between the two countries, namely, final determination of the pretensions of the provinces of Tacna and Arica, at present held by Chile. Nevertheless, it will help to develop the problem with a greater atmosphere of cordiality, in which Secretary Kellogg hopes, it is understood, that future endeavors to solve the question may receive more sympathetic reception than greeted previous efforts.

After abortive negotiations for the settlement of the Tacna-Arica wrangle late in 1926, in which he took the initiative, Secretary Kellogg, it is said, watched for every opportunity to place Chile and Peru on speaking terms again.

DEACONS SENT TO JAIL

Two Hammond, Indiana, Men Draw Sentences of 180 Days

HAMMOND, Ind., July 13.—(AP)—Two deacons of the Hammond Christian church were sentenced to 180 days each on the Indiana penal farm and eight others were bound over to criminal court for trial on a conspiracy charge as a result of the beating administered recently by Fred White, an elder in the church.

The attack was an incident of a two year war between factions seeking to control the church administration. Neutral members of the congregation, seeking to restore peace, have applied for an injunction against the contending factions.

Stephen J. Craig and Charles Tharp were the two deacons sentenced in city court today. They were charged with assault and battery. Pending an appeal, their bond was set at $3,000 each.

TWO BURGLARIES ON SAME STREET

MAY HAVE BEEN TOURIST CRACKSMAN PASSING CITY

Grocery Store and Auto Camp Office Robbed; State Charges Escape

Is Salem due for another epidemic of burglaries, or was it just a "tourist" burglar "earning" his way around the country?

The latter theory appears to be the best one in the case of the two burglaries Thursday night. Both of them were committed along the Pacific highway in the north part of town.

C. L. Wright reported to the police late Friday afternoon that his home at the Cherry City camp ground, of which he is proprietor, had been entered and a 17 jewel watch, a large bunch of keys and $3 or a little more in silver taken.

The other burglary was at the Pariah Grocery, 605 north Capitol street, where some money was obtained. The burglar effected entrance in both cases by breaking the glass in a window.

At the grocery store, the proprietor, a woman, and her daughter were at home. They heard the burglar in the store but were too far to go to the phone until he had gone. The police were notified at 2 o'clock Friday morning.

Another possibility as to the source of these two burglaries, was seen in the fact that two patients at the state institution for the feeble minded, one 17 and the other 19 years of age, had escaped that evening, taking with them a state owned automobile. Their thieving proclivities may have extended to burglary.

One other theft reported Friday was that of a wire wheel and tire from the automobile of Charles Sage, 675 North 17th street, while it was parked near Traglio's warehouse.

AIRPLANE CRASH KILLS 3

Pleasure Jaunt Ends in Death for Trio at Texas City

PALACIOS, Texas, July 13.—(AP)—Three men, up for a pleasure ride in an airplane, fell to their death when the plane plunged 250 feet into a street here today.

The victims of the crash were Earl Prosser, 35 of Texas City, Texas, Max Weinberg, Boston, Mass., and Ralph Green, Galveston, Texas.

Weinberg and Green, who were here to operate a concession at the Texas National Guard encampment on the outskirts of Palacios, agreed to make the first flight in a plane with Prosser, the room-mate. They took off from a field about a mile from town.

The bodies of the three men were badly burned.

Eighteen army planes, participating in training camp maneuvers, passed over the city a few minutes before the crash and hundreds of residents saw Prosser's plane fall.

ANOTHER ASSASSINATION

Revenge for Recent Former Killing Cited as Motive

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 13.—(AP)—Revenge for the death of Alexander Photogherov, Macedonian revolutionary leader, caused an assassination today in Jyovin Lazitch, chief of Belgrade police. He had placed a price of 600,000 Serbian francs upon the head of Photogherov and was shot down by a Serbian member of the Macedonian revolutionary organization. The killer committed suicide.

The shooting took place in the ministry of the interior. The assassin fired several shots at the police officer, wounding him mortally in the head. The avenger then turned his pistol upon himself.

FLYERS' WELCOME COOL

Recent Visit to Kaiser Not Approved by Austrians

VIENNA, Austria, July 13.—(AP)—Because of their visit to former Kaiser Wilhelm at Dorn, an icy reception awaits Captain Hermann Koehl and Baron Von Huenefeld when they arrive here Sunday. Before the crew of the trans-atlantic plane Bremen had called on the former war lord of Germany, the municipality had arranged for a civic reception to the fliers with tea parties and an award of honor by citizenship.

But a majority of the city councillors are ardent anti-municipalists and now they have cancelled all arrangements.

PLANE CARRIES TWO MORE OUT OF NORTHLAND

Marooned Pair Removed From Foyne Island and Taken to Kings Bay

TWELVE STILL MISSING

Location of Seven Unknown; Ice Breaker Now On Way to Rescue Dane With Team of Dogs

KINGS BAY, Spitsbergen, July 13.—(AP)—Captain Sora and the Dutch engineer, Van Dongen, who was marooned with him on Foyne island, were rescued by airplane and brought to Kings Bay tonight. They had been missing for several weeks until observed on the island yesterday by the Russian ice breaker Kraesin and definitely located by a Swedish plane last night.

Safe arrival at Kings Bay of Captain Sora and Van Dongen climaxed two days of remarkable rescue work in the arctic in which nine men have been brought from positions of extreme peril.

Twelve still are missing. When Captain Sora and Van Dongen started the dirigible crashed near Foyne island by trekking across the ice, they were accompanied by Varming, a Dane. He became ill enroute and was left at Cape Brown with a dog team. The ice breaker Braganza now is heading for camp.

Five Well Provisioned
Cape Platen where the Russian Aviator Chukhrovsky made a forced landing with his big seaplane. They are well provisioned and have sent word by radio that they would not be in extreme need for a fortnight.

The twelve missing are in two groups of six each. First there are the half dozen men who were carried away with the bag of the Italia when the dirigible crashed on May 25. Their whereabouts, if alive, is a matter of conjecture only.

Then there are Roald Amundsen and his five companions who left the coast of Norway in a dirigible.

PLANE NOT CARRANZA'S

Machine Thought by Many to be Piloted by Mexican Ace

EL PASO, Tex., July 13.—(AP)—The sighting of a plane over several northern Mexican cities, including Tampico, this evening, caused considerable excitement when the craft was identified as that of Captain Emilio Carranza. The Mexican plane finally was identified as that of Lieutenant Colonel Daza, a Columbian aviator, who is undertaking a flight from Washington to Bogota, by way of Mexico City.

Wife Runs Amuck When Hubby Steps Out On Her

Mrs. Marian Noel Wright Invades Home of Estranged Spouse in Search of "Other Woman" and Wrecks Elaborate Interior Decorations; Police Rush to Scene

SAN DIEGO, July 13.—(AP)—Venting a pent-up feeling of hatred which she has harbored for more than two years, Mrs. Marian Noel Wright, 45, pretty Englishwoman, sculptress and author, late today completely wrecked the interior of the home of her estranged husband, Frank Lloyd Wright, internationally known architect, at La Jolla, according to police.

Answering the frantic appeals of a maid in the Wright home, police rushed to the house but not until Mrs. Wright had done damage that will run into hundreds of dollars. She was taken into custody on a charge of malicious mischief and released late tonight on $250 bail.

Mrs. Wright, the police learned, went to the home of her husband not only in search of him but in hunting Mme. Olga Milanoff, talented Russian dancer who Mrs. Wright claims has been living unlawfully with her husband since 1926. One child was with them. Both Wright and his alleged companion were absent when Mrs. Wright arrived at the La Jolla home.

Mrs. Wright came to San Diego Thursday from Los Angeles, informed, she said, that Wright and his companion were living at La Jolla. The greater portion of Thursday night she conferred with an attorney and this morning attempted to get a warrant against Wright, but failing in this took a taxicab to La Jolla this afternoon determined upon a final interview with her husband and the woman who she claims has broken up her home and stolen the love of her husband, whom she maintains she still loves.

Upon arriving at the La Jolla house, one of the finest bungalows in the exclusive suburb, she found only a Negro maid in the house, infuriated because her husband or the Russian dancer was not at home she then spent her wrath upon the household furnishings, according to the police.

Mrs. Wright said the one year term for an interlocutory decree of divorce between herself and Wright has not expired and she will prosecute on a statutory charge.

The Wrights attained national notoriety in 1926 when Mrs. Wright alleged she was denied entrance to the Wright estate at Spring Green, Wis. She charged that Mme. Milanoff was living there at the time. In the same year Wright and the Russian dancer were arrested at the instance of Mrs. Wright at Minneapolis. When she was, as she claimed, barred from her husband's estate in Wisconsin, Mrs. Wright filed suit against Mme. Milanoff for $100,000 for alienation of her husband's affections.

Mme. Milanoff's whereabouts were unascertainable tonight. The police were unable to get any trace of Wright's refuge in Los Angeles, but he is known, living in a rooming house in Los Angeles, telephoned La Jolla this evening and learned of Mrs. Wright's visit to his home there.

ROW OVER PAYNE STILL UNSETTLED

BAPTISTS LEAVE MATTER TO SPECIAL GROUP

Salem Minister on Hand at State Convention in Eugene to Carry on Fight

EUGENE, July 13.—(AP)—The 43rd Baptist state convention closed today with two issues undecided—controversy over R. L. Payne, pastor of First church, Salem, who demanded a hearing, and failure to name the 1929 convention place, leaving the choice to the managers.

A group of members of his church demanded that Payne produce credentials, and when he failed to comply they formed another congregation. Payne, unregistered, was denied a place on the floor. Other delegates from Salem First church were seated.

The committee named to act with eight named by the Salem church to settle the Payne controversy include Dr. E. Northrup, dean of Linfield college; H. E. M. Snerwood, Portland; W. H. Eaton, Medford; F. B. Matthews, Roseburg; D. E. Baker, Junction City; F. G. Lear, Portland, and H. F. Merrill, Albany.

Clarence H. president Bryant handed the gavel to Dr. C. L. Travin, Eugene, 1929 president. The convention was the largest ever held in Oregon—263 delegates, from 59 churches.

Rev. Payne will submit himself to "trial" before eight persons named by his own church and seven named by Dr. Daniel Bryant of Corvallis, outgoing convention president.

All evidence relative to the credentials to Mr. Payne will be presented, and a report will be made at a future convention.

Discussion was kept off the convention floor the morning session. The matter was brought up by Mrs. Hall of McMinnville as unfinished business.

Rev. M. S. Woodworth of Coquille offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of 15, eight appointed by the First Baptist church of Salem, but not members of that church, and seven by the outgoing chairman of the convention.

LAD SAVES SELF FROM KIDNAPERS

POUNDS DOOR OF IMPROVISED JAIL WITH BOTTLE

Neighbors Find Boy Alone In Deserted House While Abductors Demand Money

MIAMI, Fla., July 13.—(AP)—Because he had the presence of mind to seize a bottle and vigorously pound the door, Billy McAllister, four years old, was restored to his parents today after being kidnaped last night, and locked in the closet of a vacant house where he was held for ransom.

Neighbors heard the hammering and went to investigate. They found Billy unharmed but mighty glad to be released from his dark prison. There was no trace of the abductors, who evidently left Billy unguarded while they went to perfect arrangements for receiving $5,000 ransom which had been promised by the boy's grandmother, Mrs. E. C. McAllister, wealthy hotel owner.

Meanwhile, police announced they had been unable to obtain a definite lead toward capture of the kidnapers. They only hope that Billy could give them was that was "a fat man and a woman."

Location of the lad in the vacant house in Coral Gables, a subdivision near the city, came as Mrs. McAllister had decided to pay the ransom sought by the abductors rather than risk harm to Billy. Police had been requested to drop the case, after the grandmother received a telephone call this morning, assuring her that the boy would be returned unharmed in an automobile if she would pay $5,000 and promise to keep police away.

Billy was seized as he lay in bed at his home about 9:30 o'clock last night and was taken from the house through a window. His grandmother was the only other person in the house. She heard him scream but found no trace of the boy or his kidnapers when she ran to the room.

"Two windshields" were stolen from an automobile parked on Church street says an afternoon paper. The driver of that car will be exposed to a lot of raw wind until he replaces them.
