Oregon Will Have Five District Women's Club Federations

Oregon is to have five district federations, according to plans presented by Mrs. Saide Orr Dunbar at the convention held in Klamath Falls last month. The plan adopted by the delegates is considered by many to be one of the most progressive steps made by the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs. The purpose of the plan is to strengthen community interests and to keep in closer touch with the individual clubs. Each district will hold a convention at least once a year, when it will be possible for club women to come from adjoining counties. Many will in this way attend the conventions which have found it inconvenient to attend the annual state conventions.

Oregon has one established district federation in southern Oregon, under the leadership of Miss Grace Chamberlain of Ashland. This district will hereafter be known as the first district federation and includes the following counties: Josephine, Jackson, Klamath, Lake and Curry.

The second district will include Coos, Douglas, Lane, Linn, Benton and Lincoln counties.

Third district: Marion, Polk, Clackamas, Yamhill, Tillamook, Multnomah, Washington, Columbia and Clatsop counties.

Fourth district: Hood River, Wasco, Jefferson, Deschutes, Sherman, Gilliam, Wheeler and Crook counties.

Fifth district: Morrow, Umatilla, Union, Grant, Wallawa, Baker, Malheur and Harney counties.

Harney and Curry counties will be given the privilege of choosing the district most convenient for them to work with. The leaders of these four districts will be announced later by the state president, Mrs. G. J. Frankel.

By vote of the delegated body attending the annual convention of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, held at Klamath Falls, the federation hereafter will hold biennial conventions instead of annual. The next meeting is to be held in 1930. Hereafter, dues to the state federation shall be paid by February 1, becoming delinquent March 1, according to the new ruling.

HELPED DURING MIDDLE AGE

Woman Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Denver, Colo.—"I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and will take more. I am taking it as a tonic to help me through the Change of Life and I am telling many of my friends to take it as I found nothing before this to help me. I had so many bad feelings at night that I could not sleep for two years I could not go down town because I was afraid of falling. My mother took the Vegetable Compound years ago with good results and now I am taking it during the Change of Life and recommend it."—Mrs. T. A. MILLER, 1611 Adams Street, Denver, Colorado.

Interesting Musical Numbers Given at Reunion of Alumnae of Dallas College

One of the interesting features of the reunion of the alumnae of the old Dallas College, held recently at Dallas, was the musical program given by Professor Clifford Kantner, his daughter, Kathryn, and son, Gene, and also by Mr. Sidney Dixon, a student of Professor Kantner's.

Gene Kantner will be remembered in Salem as the "boy artist" who delighted his audience when very young with the wonderful range and quality of his voice. He possesses a remarkable baritone voice and has proved himself to be a concert artist of the highest quality.

Miss Kathryn Kantner is a very fine violinist and though young has developed rare technique. She won first place in a musical contest in competition with several hundred Seattle high school students. In addition to her musical ability, she has an unusual and charming personality.

Mr. Dixon is a tenor singer of ability and has just completed a twelve-thousand-mile concert tour through Canada. He sings with a feeling and understanding that carries his audience with him. He has been engaged as staff artist for the coming year to sing for one of the largest radio stations in the Northwest.

Professor Kantner is the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Kantner of Salem. He is head of the Seattle College of Music where his son, Gene, is one of the instructors.

Burned valves - engine strain - power loss

all from hard, flinty carbon

A word about the newer models
Today's high-compression motors, with as little as 1/32 inch clearance between piston and cylinder head, have no room for hard carbon. A thin layer will cause trouble. Shell Motor Oil, forming less carbon, soft carbon, is almost essential to proper performance in such cars

Carbon deposited by ordinary oil is hard, flinty; it will tear paper; it will scratch brass—wear away steel. And there's from 3 to 5 times as much carbon in even the highest priced oils

CARBON that builds up in layers inside your motor—you know the trouble it causes. What you may not know is where it comes from.

Burned oil forms it. And in modern motors this tendency of otherwise good oils is really serious!

Abrasive bits of carbon break off, grind endlessly through the motor. "Chips" hold valves open, burn the stems, waste power; red hot "nobs" cause knocking. So oils are no longer judged solely on lubricating quality. You must also know how much and what kind of carbon they form.

Let us tell you of one particular oil.

Less carbon—soft carbon Shell Motor Oil forms only 1/3 to 1/5 the carbon of even the costliest oils! The little it forms is soft, soot-like; it blows away.

Unique low-pressure stills refine Shell Motor Oil carefully. All its sturdy body is retained. In striking contrast old style stills "scorch" and weaken oils in the heat of refining.

Not only has Shell Motor Oil overcome carbon. The new process produces a finer lubricant with astounding heat resistance. Truly Shell Motor Oil can "add thousands of miles to the life of your car!" It will, if you use it. Start now—even with the next extra quart!

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the new "dry" gas that explodes cleanly and keeps out of the crankcase, is the ideal running mate for Shell Motor Oil. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by "thinning" with a "wet" gas

ASK IRRIGATION AID

Members of the board of directors of the Warm Springs Irrigation district Monday requested permission of the state reclamation commission to spend between $150,000 and $200,000 received from the sale of water, in rehabilitating the distribution system.

It was pointed out that any money expended in betterments would be repaid out of receipts from additional water sales.

No action was taken by the reclamation commission Monday for the reason that such an expenditure must have the sanction of the bond holders, district officials and the reclamation commissioners.

The board of directors expressed themselves as opposed to the recent proposal to have the government finance the irrigation districts now in operation in Oregon rather than expend federal funds in the development of new projects.

"DRY" MEET DEPLORED

RICHMOND, Va., July 16.—(AP)—In an open answer to the circular letter sent out by Bishop James H. Cannon and Dr. Arthur J. Barton, calling the "Dry" conference in Asheville, N. C., Dr. William Forrest, professor of Biblical history at the University of Virginia, deplored the entrance of preachers into politics.

RETIRED MINISTER PASSES IN SALEM

Funeral Services to be Held Today for Rev. George A. McKinlay

Rev. George A. McKinlay, for many years a resident of Spring Valley, died early Sunday morning at the residence of his son France, 951 N. Winter street. Mr. McKinlay was in his eighty-first year, and for the past several years he had been in unusually good health, but without any warning he fell into a coma Saturday morning that lasted until his death.

George A. McKinlay was born in Indiana. He was educated at LaGrange Collegiate Institute, LaGrange, Indiana, and Auburn Theological seminary, Auburn, New York. Entering the ministry, he held charges in Missouri, Washington, Oregon and California. He was much interested in education, attending Summer academy, Summer, Wis., which later became Whitworth college, and he revived Penitentiary academy.

After retiring from active service he spent many years farming at Zena and spent his last years in southern California.

He survived his wife, Julia Bracey Patch, and his son Reo by many years. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. William Miller of La Grande, and Buriel of Los Angeles; three sons, France of Salem, Edwin of San Francisco and Arthur of Los Angeles; and six grandchildren, William and John Miller of La Grande and Philip, George, Elbert and Evangeline McKinlay of Salem.

Funeral services will be held at Rigdon's mortuary at 1 o'clock this Tuesday afternoon, with interment in Riverview cemetery at Portland.

WIN TWO TROPHIES

WOMEN'S DRILL TEAM OF ARTISANS MAKES SHOWING

The women's drill team representing the United Artisans of Salem, organized only a few weeks ago, brought back two handsome trophy cups from Portland as a result of competing against teams from many organizations on Artisan day at Jantzen beach.

The local team, directed by A. J. Halverson, district organizer, won the Nudelman trophy for being the best uniformed team in the competition, and the Portland News' trophy, the first prize for women's drill teams.

Competition at Jantzen beach was open Saturday to all orders, and there were teams from a number of fraternal bodies from many parts of the northwest, Mr. Halverson reported.
